COOLIDGE AGAIN NAMES WARREN; DEFIES SENATE

Defeat Is Predicted by Leaders.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—President Coolidge defied the senate today on the question of his selection of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be his attorney general.

Disregarding the advice of administration leaders, he resubmitted the nomination after he had conferred with Mr. Warren, who arrived early in the day from Detroit and is now a White House guest.

The decision of the executive came as a surprise to Republican leaders and caused a flurry in their ranks as well as in those of the opposition, who had assumed that the question had been settled with the rejection of the nomination Tuesday and the laying on the table of a motion for reconsideration.

Leaders Muster Forces.

As the nomination was referred again to the judiciary committee, which is to meet tomorrow to consider it, field marshals on both sides began lining up their forces anew. Republican leaders generally were hopeful, but not oversanguine, while opponents predicted they would be able to muster a clear majority against confirmation.

Senator Curtis said he believed the nomination could be confirmed. Other Republican leaders did not share his optimism, however. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania said he was afraid the appointment would be rejected again by three or four votes.

No Delay in Sight.

There were indications that neither side would be disposed to delay a senate vote, and action may be taken within two or three days.

A third favorable report on the nomination by the judiciary committee tomorrow is the plan.

Those leading the forces in opposition to Mr. Warren's nomination had not finally determined tonight upon their course of action. They were examining books on law and precedent to satisfy themselves whether they would be on tenable ground if they challenged the authority of the executive to resubmit a nomination after it had been rejected.

One precedent for the action of Mr. Coolidge was found today. President Tyler resubmitted the nomination of Caleb Cushing of Massachusetts to be secretary of the treasury after the senate had rejected it on March 3, 1843, by a vote of 19 to 27. The senate promptly reaffirmed its action, 2 to 29.

Overman to Stand Pat.

In their claims of sufficient votes to prevent confirmation of Mr. Warren's nomination, opponents took into calculation the announcement of Senator Overman [Dem., N. C.], the only Democrat who voted for Mr. Warren on Tuesday, and later changed his vote, that he would oppose favorable action.

Those in opposition also counted on having two additional votes—those of Senators Howell [Rep., Neb.] and Dill [Dem., Wash.], who were absent Tuesday, and they claimed further that those Republican senators favorable to confirmation who will be absent would be unable to tie up a like number of votes against Mr. Warren through pairings.

With Senator Overman announcing that he would vote against confirmation, Senators Walsh [Dem., Mont.] and other leaders in the fight to reject the nomination, said the Democrats would stand solidly against Mr. Warren. They also predicted they would hold the strength developed among insurgent and other Republicans, but administration leaders disputed this.

Hope for Democratic Votes.

These G. O. P. leaders are bending their efforts to gain votes from this group and hope also to get some support from the Democratic side. In this instance the names of Senators Underwood [Dem., Ala.], Glass [Dem., Va.] and Norbeck [Rep., S. D.] were mentioned.

Prior to the President's conference with Mr. Warren, some senators were of the belief that Mr. Coolidge would leave to Mr. Warren the determination of whether his name should be sent back to the senate. This afternoon, however, this brief statement was issued by Secretary Sanders at the White House:

"At the request of the President Mr. Warren consented to allow his name to be presented again to the senate."

Officials would not enlarge on the announcement, but some senators were of the opinion that Mr. Coolidge wished to assume full responsibility and draw a direct issue between himself and the senate on the question.

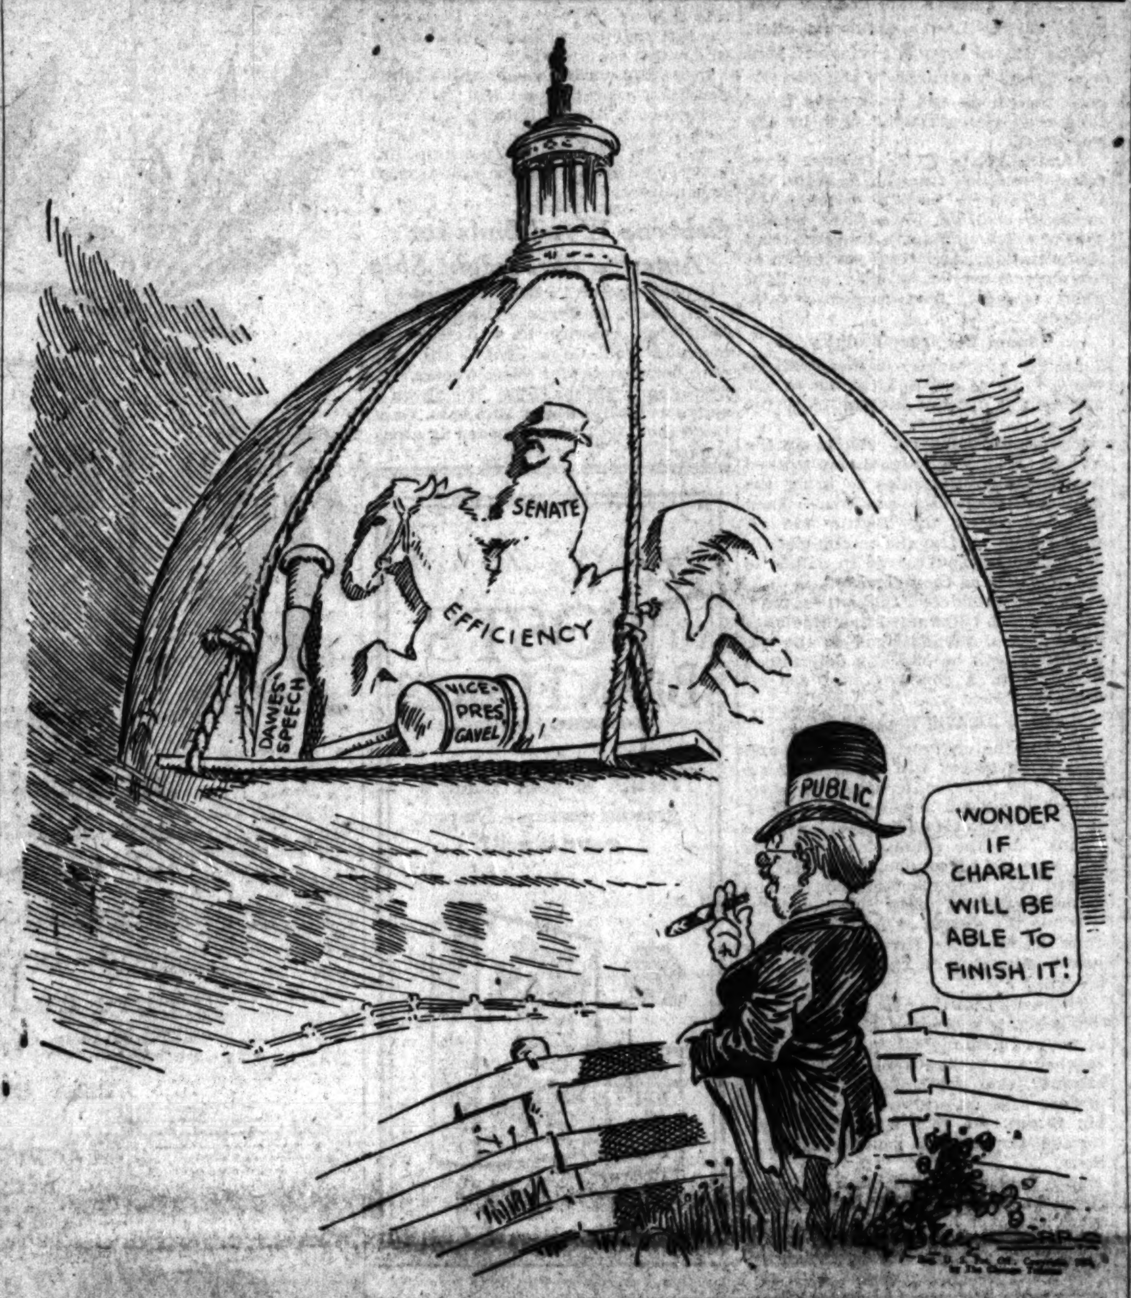
ANOTHER GREAT WORK OF ART IN DOUBT



YOUTH TAKEN AS THIEF SAYS HE'S RICH MAN'S SON

Jerry Hesler, who identified himself as the son of Archibald J. Hesler of Hinsdale, was arrested last night after he and two companions had held up two men and shot it out with two detectives.

Mrs. Hesler, in her home in Hinsdale, declared over the telephone that she has no son named Jerry.

Two detective sergeants, Joseph Pazak and Richard Williams, heard a man's cries for help as they were walking at Calumet avenue and 25th street. They found William Moor, a peddler, fighting off three young men.

The trio ran, returning shots as the detectives opened fire. All were captured. Henry D. Reis of Elgin came running up to say the trio had just robbed him of $9. A hot revolver was found on Hesler.

At the Cottage Grove police station Hesler asserted his father was the wealthy Hinsdale man. The others gave their names as Otto Reifke, 1642 Burling street, and Harry Turner, 352 East 24th street.

KANSAS TO RAISE BAN ON TOOTS—RAILROAD BRAND

Topeka, Kas., March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—Locomotive engineers are given legal authority to whistle in Kansas in the same manner as in other states in a bill passed today by the house and sent to the governor.

The railroads have instructed every engineer to make the whistle shriek "Whooooo," "Whooooo," "Wooo," "Wooo," when approaching a crossing. But a Kansas statute called for three instead of four blasts at crossings. When informed that trainmen sound four blasts while riding through other states and thus are compelled by habit to forget the special signal prescribed in Kansas, the legislature revised the statute.

COOPERAGE SHOP BURNS; 150 MEN LOSE THEIR JOBS

One hundred and fifty men were thrown out of work by a fire late last night in the Illinois Cooperage company's plant at 135th street and Western avenue, Blue Island.

The factory was burned to the ground in a spectacular blaze which attracted thousands of nearby dwellers to the scene.

Fire marshals estimated the loss at $50,000. Nearly all the employés saw their jobs wiped out by the fire. Blue Island firemen were assisted by companies from nearby Chicago stations.

28 Die in 13 Hours from Mystery Flu

Twenty-eight deaths in the thirteen hours ending at 9:30 p. m. last night were credited to the scourge of respiratory diseases which is sweeping over Chicago. Including yesterday's toll, influenza and pneumonia have claimed 279 lives since the first of March.

During the same hours yesterday more than ninety new cases of influenza or pneumonia, most of them traceable to symptoms not common in Chicago since the grip epidemic swept the city in 1892, were reported to the health department—more than twice the number noted on the same day a year ago.

Victims Are Warned.

On Wednesday, which was marked by twenty-seven deaths, there were eighty-four new cases of the strange malady reported, and on Tuesday twenty-three deaths and eighty five new cases were recorded. According to Health Commissioner Herman Bundesen, only one of the deaths can be attributed definitely to the same type of influenza prevalent throughout the country in 1918.

Victims of the present epidemic are warned of their danger by aching pains all over the body, burning sensations in the eyes, and frequently by nosebleeds, as well as by unusually high temperatures. Neglected, the disease develops quickly into pneumonia.

The war time influenza, Dr. Bundesen asserts, was characterized by a toxic condition of the patient, whose lungs quickly filled with water, and as a result the victim actually drowned in his own secretions.

Serum Offered Doctors.

In addition to issuing a bulletin of advice for those suffering from simple colds, Health Commissioner Bundesen announced that the city laboratories are prepared to furnish pneumonia antigen, a serum widely used and with considerable success, he says, as a preventive. The serum will be given doctors without cost during the present emergency.

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Although in considerable pain, Ethel Barrymore, the actress, left Kansas City tonight for her home in Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Miss Barrymore had been confined to her bed at a local hotel by arthritis for several days. Her condition was so far improved that her physicians advised she could make the trip. The actress has canceled a month's engagements.

TWO DEAD; FOUR SERIOUSLY ILL OF TRICHINOSIS

Two members of one family are dead, another may die, and three others are seriously ill from trichinosis, caused by eating undercooked pork.

The dead:

MRS. DOROTHY KRENZ, 1933 Sheffield avenue, who died March 4.

FRED HOFFMAN, 23 years old, her brother, of the same address, who died yesterday.

Mrs. Krenz' husband, Diedrick, 32 years old, is in the Columbus hospital. Doctors said last night he couldn't live many hours.

Two brothers of Krenz, Chris and Ernest, said to be patients in an outlying hospital, and a friend, George Stege, all of whom are said to live in Matteson, Ill., are in a serious condition from eating the infected pork.

The six were members of a family party in the Krenz home on the night of Feb. 21. Mrs. Krenz served a late supper in which onions and pork, now believed to have been undercooked, was one of the chief items.

About a week later Mrs. Krenz became seriously ill. She was in agony when doctors arrived. They investigated and found that all the others were beginning to suffer. Their diet was traced back to the dinner party, and it was found that all had partaken of the undercooked pork.

Trichinosis is a disease caused by trichnæ, germs in the stomach of pigs. The only safeguard, authorities say, is to cook the pork extremely well.

STOKES' FATE IN HANDS OF JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Defense Paints Him as an Old Fool.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

W. E. D. Stokes is just a "damned old fool playing around with a lot of foolish affidavits," which he would never have made public.

Helen Ellwood Stokes, his wife, likes his millions, but she was never in the Everleigh club and she had no connection with "that silly story about the mulatto baby."

The state's attorney's office has gone back to the days of the Spanish inquisition, in unlawfully securing the indictment, and now unlawfully urging the conviction of Mr. Stokes for conspiring with others to defame his wife.

Goes to Jury Today.

This is the strategic three ply defense which Attorney Charles F. Rathbun, counsel for W. E. D. Stokes and Robert Lee, his colored co-defendant, launched yesterday afternoon, and will conclude by 11 o'clock this morning. Assistant State's Attorney W. W. Smith, in charge of the prosecution, will make the final closing argument for the state and will conclude by noon. Judge William N. Gemmill, who has presided during the five weeks' trial, will instruct the jury at 2 o'clock.

And by late afternoon twelve good men and true will be considering whether or not they will find the 72 year old New York millionaire an "arch fiend and criminal" or a "damned old fool."

"Charlie" Rathbun kept both feet on the ground yesterday. And he asked the jurymen to keep their feet on the ground and to judge this thing on a "common sense basis," just that, as for three hours and a half he built his amazingly frank and correspondingly unique defense. It was a defense, not so much of denials as of admissions.

The Oft Repeated Challenge.

But after each admission the doughty little attorney would challenge the jury, not in so many words, but in this idea, "Yes, it's true, but what of it? Stokes is foolish, not criminal. You wouldn't send a man to the penitentiary for that, would you now?"

The most dramatic, and perhaps the most strategic admission in the entire speech was Attorney Rathbun's thoroughgoing vindication of Mrs. Stokes in regard to Mr. Stokes' investigation of her in the Everleigh club in Chicago's by-gone days, and of his search to learn whether or not she had been the mother, by a colored father, of a mulatto child.

Grants Her Vindication.

"And I'll say, now," and the slim, well groomed man in the blue suit, with the impudent lock of hair standing straight up on top of his head, "focused the attention of the twelve jurors, first on himself, and then on the very personable looking woman in the first row.

"And I'll say now that if it's vindication that Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes is honestly attempting to get in this case I'll give it to her now."

Mr. Rathbun stood on tiptoe and pointed a finger, not of indictment, but of vindication, toward his client's wife.

"I don't think she was ever in the Everleigh club.

"And I don't think she was ever connected with that silly story about the mulatto child."

Women in Court Applaud.

From somewhere, way back in the room, came the applause of gloved hands clapping each other. In an instant that sound grew to a general hand clapping and a mixture of all manner of exclamations of approval. Fast upon these came a very articulate exclamation of disapproval of any such demonstration as Bailiff James Marek rapped for order. And at least twenty women tried to look as if they hadn't applauded.

Then Attorney Rathbun continued, in a lower voice, almost as if he were tolerably amused at Mr. Stokes' gullibility in this whole thing.

"But this foolish old man was foolish enough to take the stuff that people were stringing him along with. It was not a nice thing to do. You wouldn't do it, men of the jury.

Obsessed with False Idea.

"But this old fellow was obsessed by the idea that Mrs. Stokes was bad enough to do everything. And every Tom, Dick, and Harry strung him along. And he fell for it. And he thought he was a better detective than anybody else. But are you going to send a foolish old man to jail for that?"

Throughout his speech, which he began to make at 11 o'clock yesterday after Assistant State's Attorney Milton D. Smith had concluded his opening ar-

Union Puts Its Power Behind Traction Bill

Local 556 of the International Union of Steam and Operating engineers at a banquet last night in the Hotel Sherman voted unanimously to support the proposed Dever traction ordinance and then donated $100 of the union's funds to be used in educating trade unionists about the merits of the plan.

The action of the engineers' union came after Assistant Corporation Counsel James J. Coughlin explained in detail the ordinance advocated by Mayor Dever to have the city take over control of the surface and elevated lines.

"Perhaps the biggest problem now confronting the city administration lies in the difficulty of explaining the proposed Dever plan in a clear manner to the public," asserted Mr. Coughlin. "But when the public grasps the significance of the proposed traction ordinance it will be an easy matter to still a lot of unfounded rumors and offset the effects of prejudiced propaganda.

Thompson Plan Political.

"Every one knows the absurdity of the William Hale Thompson 5 cent fare hokum. That issue is being used only for political reasons best known to the distributors of the propaganda.

"It is well known that the inauguration of a 5 cent fare on either the elevated or surface lines means a substantial cut in the wages of traction employés. And with conditions as they are now, I believe the public is willing to pay the present rates so long as all classes of transportation workers are paid a decent wage."

Mr. Coughlin pointed out that officials of the various motor bus companies admit it would be impossible for bus lines to replace street car systems. He said the bus lines were a summer proposition and fitted mainly for use on boulevards.

Publisher Main Opposition.

"The main opposition," asserted the assistant corporation counsel, "emanates from a newspaper publisher who lives in New York, makes his money in Chicago, and spends it in Europe. He is the gentleman who wants to dictate how transportation affairs should be run in this city."

Joseph Haley, president of local 556, spoke on the proposed Dever plan from the standpoint of the trade unionist. He predicted that 90 per cent of the city's labor organizations would vote for the ordinance next month.

"The people of Chicago for years have been listening to a lot of prattle about the traction problem," said Mr. Haley. "To date nothing has been accomplished. The Dever plan, while not perfect, is the best advanced so far and it is bound to lead to even better facilities for handling Chicago's transportation problem.

Employment for Thousands.

"Rehabilitation of the elevated and surface lines will provide employment for thousands of workers. Extension of the various lines will open new neighborhoods which in turn will relieve the housing congestion. And paramount in importance is the fact that the proposed Dever plan will act as a solution for the strap hanger problem."

Mr. Haley appointed a committee of twenty-five engineers to work in behalf of the Dever plan.

OTHER GROUPS APPROVE

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Chicago Woman's club and the Chicago Association of Commerce have adopted resolutions urging the electorate to approve the transportation program on April 7. These are two leaders in their particular fields of endeavor. The woman's club is not prone to pass frequent resolutions on civic questions. Its expressions reads as follows:

"Resolved, That the Chicago Woman's club indorses the traction ordinance passed by the city council by a vote of 40 to 5 and recommended by the Chicago Association of Commerce,

DR. FAIMAN, ON GRILL, ADMITS BACILLI TAKEN

Prosecutor Gets New McClintock Clew.

Dr. Charles C. Faiman, proprietor of the National University of Sciences at 2923 South Michigan avenue, confessed at 2 o'clock this morning that William D. Shepherd took a week's course in bacteriology in his science school and that immediately thereafter was noted the disappearance of three bottles containing deadly germs. Faiman later admitted he knew that Shepherd got the bottles, at least one of which contained typhoid bacilli.

Shepherd is the foster-father of William McClintock, the so-called millionaire orphan, who died last fall leaving an estate of $1,000,000. The whole estate, with the exception of $8,000 a year, was bequeathed to Shepherd, who has admitted that he wrote the will. The $8,000 annuity was bequeathed to Miss Isabelle Pope, young McClintock's fiancée.

Long Hours of Questioning.

Faiman's statement was made this morning after a whole night of questioning in the state's attorney's office. Nor did the confession come peacefully. Before he came to the point of describing Shepherd's interest in bacteriology Faiman engaged in a violent dispute with John P. Marchand, formerly his agent. This led to blows. The men, both flushed and angry, were parted by detectives who rushed into the room.

The acts leading to the confession of Faiman began with the request of Assistant State's Attorney John Sbarbaro that Dr. Faiman and Marchand appear at the state's attorney's office for questioning. Both men came early in the evening without the least hesitancy. Marchand, who formerly acted in the capacity of solicitor for the science school, lives at 311 South Central Park avenue.

Wrote, Asking About Courses.

Both Faiman and Marchand appeared before the coroner's inquest in its last sitting and both admitted that Shepherd had written a letter to the National University of Sciences. This letter was a request for prices of the courses offered in the school.

In the inquest, when Dr. Faiman and Marchand were questioned by Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, both admitted there had been such a letter. Neither, however, could remember what had become of the letter, nor could they recall that Shepherd had ever followed it up by taking any instruction.

A short recess was taken in order to search for the letter. It was not found. A postponement of three weeks was taken by Coroner Wolff at the request of the attorneys for Shepherd. Attorney Edwin Herrick, representing Shepherd, said that in fairness to his client there should be an opportunity for defense. This was conceded.

Witness After Witness.

Since that time Assistant State's Attorney Sbarbaro has been persistently calling and examining witnesses. It was in the course of this patient grilling of witnesses that Faiman and Marchand were called.

Last night they appeared in the state's attorney's office at 8 o'clock. The questioning began. Faiman's memory was rusty. He tried without success to recall the whereabouts of the letter. He could not remember much of the transactions relating to Shepherd's visit to the school.

Faiman was dropped for the time being and taken into another room. Sbarbaro began questioning Marchand, the solicitor. Marchand's memory did not extend beyond the circumstances he had related in the inquest.

Then Marchand was dropped and Faiman again questioned. Again Faiman repeated the story of the lost letter. Again he was taken to another room and again Marchand was questioned. This process of questioning first one and then the other was kept up until well after midnight. The process was becoming tiresome.

Clash Over the Letter.

It was around 1 o'clock when Marchand and Faiman were both placed in the same room, this time without any one present. But there were plenty of listeners outside.

Faiman and Marchand began talking in low tones. Faiman contended that the loss of the letter was a matter of great mystery.

"Nothing mysterious about it," Marchand was heard to say.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded Faiman.

"I mean that you know where that letter is. You had it and read it and you knew all about it. What's the use of beating about the bush?"

The doctor was becoming angry.

"I don't know anything about that letter," he shouted.

"You're a —— liar!"

This was a shout from Marchand. And with it there came to the ears of the listeners the pounds of fists smacking. The men were in an angry brawl.

Detectives ran in and parted the men. Again they were placed in separate rooms. Faiman was permitted to cool down and again the questioning was resumed. The doctor was now apparently prepared to make a statement. And Sharbaro was ready to hear it.

Asks About Letter.

"Now tell us about that letter," Sharbaro requested.

"Yes, I remember the letter," he said.

"What about it?"

"I know there was a letter. It was written by William D. Shepherd. It was a request for the rates of our school and for information about the courses offered."

"Then," said Sharbaro, "Shepherd did come to the school?"

"Yes."

"Well, tell the rest of it."

Shepherd Went to School.

Dr. Faiman took a full breath, expelled, and began to talk.

"Shepherd wrote me the letter about a year ago last fall," he said. "That would be in the fall of 1923. His name was signed to it and there is no reason to doubt that it was his letter and signature. Marchand went to see him and made him a rate and told him about the course of instruction.

"Very shortly after that Shepherd came out and began hearing lectures. He was there only about a week. I remember very well that he wasn't particularly interested in the regular course of instruction, but that he seemed to want specific information more. He was interested in bacteriology. I say he remained there only about a week.

Didn't Pay Anything.

"He didn't pay me anything. One day I spoke to him and asked him how he liked the school and if he thought he would like to continue. I thought that by approaching him cautiously he would take the hint and offer the money for the course he was taking.

"He made an evasive answer. 'O, don't bother,' he said, 'you'll get your money, all right.' I didn't say any more on the subject because I thought he might be some sort of a county or city agent and I thought the fact that he was in my school would do me some good as a reference. He never paid me a cent. He left a couple of days after that and I didn't see him again until the inquest.

Bacilli Tubes Missing.

"Shortly after he left I looked in the incubator where we kept the supply of cultures. There were three tubes missing. They were missing from the room in which we kept all the cultures and it was in this room that Shepherd spent most of his time. I know for a certainty that one of these tubes contained typhoid bacilli. I would not be sure of the others, but I think they also contained typhus bacilli."

When the questioning had reached this point Mr. Sbarbaro concluded his questioning and summoned George Gorman, first assistant state's attorney, in charge during State's Attorney Crowe's vacation. It was decided that Shepherd will be brought to the Criminal courts building early today and questioned again concerning the confession of Faiman.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The story of THE TRIBUNE's death clock is worthy of a little elaboration this morning.

Last year, through publicity and hard work on the part of police, coroner, and newspapers, the hands of death were kept slightly below 1923. There was general rejoicing and pointing with pride.

This year, in sixty-seven days, we had 105 deaths, as compared with 80 last year.

At this rate the increase in fatal automobile accidents will be around 30 per cent this year.

Causes for the Increase.

The causes for this increase, as given by public officials yesterday, include as the first great factor speeding, and such contributing factors as increasing carelessness of drivers, lack of examination for competency, inability of courts to agree in interpretation of laws, lack of a uniform policy on the part of the municipal judges, the jungle of speed and traffic laws, scattering of speed courts, and fixing of cases.

Coroner Oscar Wolff made a significant statement.

"There is a direct ratio between anti-speed drives in the press and by the police and the accident rate," he said. "One day THE TRIBUNE printed a page of pictures of child victims of autos. For two weeks after that the record was splendid."

The mayor's safety commission may take some steps to keep this picture in the public mind, as they are holding a meeting today to determine some kind of an educational campaign.

Collins Cites Figures.

Chief of Police Collins brought out some figures to emphasize this very point. A year ago this death list was mounting just as it is today. On July 8 Chief Collins issued an order to arrest all speeders and bring them into court. During July and August there was a distinct drop in the death rate. Then in September it began to go up again. The chief blamed this to lack of coöperation on the part of the municipal judges. He still makes this statement.

"The wording of the speed law is ambiguous," he said yesterday. "There is a wide latitude in its interpretation by the courts. Any one who desires may operate an auto on the streets of Chicago, regardless of physical or mental fitness.

Speed Is Real Death Cause.

"We have 325,000 machines operating on the streets of Chicago daily. The real cause of 60 per cent of the fatal accidents is speed. Until the speed of motor vehicles is reduced to a sane, sensible rate, we are going to continue to kill 700 and more people a year.

"Shifting my motorcycle men around last summer to the different districts and urging them to bring in speeders showed results. For many days thereafter fully 95 per cent of the drivers conformed to the law.

"Some of the more venturesome exceeded the state speed limit and were brought into the police courts. It was then that our trouble began and the effect of our drive appeared to be lost. The speed law means, according to the interpretations of some of our judges that the motorist violates it only when he strikes and knocks down. Some of our municipal judges said it was ridiculous to bring people in who were going thirty miles an hour in the city. That was why our drive failed."

No Uniform Policy.

Chief Justice Harry Olson admitted that there was no uniform policy in the municipal courts regarding the interpretation of the state speed law. Speed cases are now scattered all over the city. The new building may help this situation.

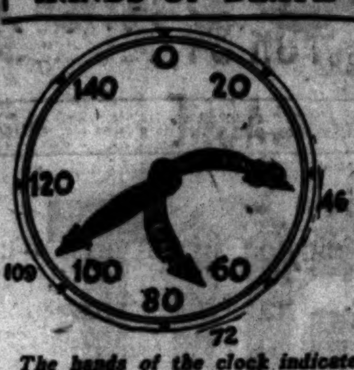
"I may lay this situation before the judges at our next meeting March 27," he said. "There are more things than speeding that enter into this. Collins cannot tell. This is a good place to dump blame."

Coroner Wolff said:

"A study of evidence in accident cases shows that it is speed that is at the bottom of all this. When it is a child they say the child was roller skating or playing. But the fact is that more persons over 55 are killed than children.

"Hour by hour, day by day, month by month, the motorists of Chicago are creeping up, taking more privileges, denying citizens their constitutional rights, forcing the speed, forcing the pedestrians to watch and be ready to jump. The mayor and the chief of police ought to stop this and give the people who walk a chance."

HANDS OF DEATH



The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the seventy-first day of 1925.

THREE LIVES LOST

Motor trucks yesterday claimed three lives, those of a boy of 5, Michael Alleruzo, 3251 South Wells street, who was killed by a vampire truck, and James Tobin, 62 years old, 4850 Princeton avenue, fatally injured by a grocery truck, and Gustave Johnson, 55, janitor of the First Methodist church of Evanston.

Driving at high speed, the driver of the vampire truck swerved into a group of pedestrians at Halsted and 31st streets. The Alleruzo boy was struck, hurled 15 feet and died instantly. Despite the cries of witnesses, the driver failed to stop.

Tobin was crossing beneath the Illinois Central viaduct at 63d street yesterday when he was struck by a grocery delivery truck driven by Martin Roth, 4858 Grand boulevard, who was held pending an inquest.

Official Board to Meet to Pick Victor.

San Diego, Cal., March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—The United States fleet, the most powerful concentration of American sea power ever on the Pacific coast, steamed into San Diego and Coronado roads today. One hundred and fourteen battle craft went into anchorage after a spectacular war game off the Lower California coast testing defense against invasion. There were fourteen admirals in the quarterdeck receptions and twenty-five thousand men were brought here by the war craft.

Admiral Robert F. Coontz, commander in chief, from his flagship, the U. S. S. Seattle, proudly watched the majestic cruising formation. Squadrons of welcoming airplanes came from shore stations, and from the decks of the aircraft carrier Langley, and light scout cruisers, fleet airplanes catapulted.

Planes Fly from Langley.

Among spectacular demonstrations was a flight of eleven airplanes in one minute and fifteen seconds from the deck of the Langley.

Thousands lined the shores as the war craft came in. Signal men worked frantically on the ships to bring the fleet into anchorage position. Then barges went to the Seattle and respects were paid to the commander in chief, and cannon roared in salute to the admirals as they departed.

Having completed the battle maneuvers which culminated in a nine hour night battle, the outcome of the engagement will be officially determined Saturday in a conference of 400 officers and men.

All Will Report.

This is the critique. Observers and unit commanders will make their reports. In this conference the theoretical losses will be revealed. Indications were that two battleships were "sunk" by the submarines, but this will have to be confirmed. Airplanes played an unimportant part in the actual battle which took place at night.

While the details of results, will become known only after the Saturday conference, four major results are known.

These are that the new provision system is highly successful; that the development of communication facilities has reached an excellence heretofore never attained; that the United States navy is weak in scout cruisers; that the new big S-type 300 foot submarines performed far beyond general expectations.

The submarines successively completed the longest voyage under battle conditions ever made by such craft in squadrons.

WEEKS MOVES TO BOLSTER UP AIR DEFENSES

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—In an effort to bolster up the anti-aircraft defenses of the army, intensive studies under all possible conditions are soon to be launched by the war department.

The experiments will be conducted for the purpose of supplying full information on the limitations and possibilities of anti-aircraft artillery to Secretary of War Weeks.

Although no report has been made public by army officials on the results of anti-aircraft tests held at Fortress Monroe on March 6, when the anti-aircraft gunners failed utterly to stop the approach of airplanes, Secretary Weeks said today he had ordered a full report, not only of what the firing had accomplished, but also concerning the conditions surrounding the tests.

The secretary, it is said, has no wish to discount what he termed the good work of the airplanes, but he is anxious to know whether the fault was with the guns and the arrangements or was due solely to the fact that anti-aircraft artillery cannot cope successfull with enemy planes.

In testing out the use of anti-aircraft material, experiments will be conducted both day and night, and with both the old and newer types of artillery. The army has something like $260,000 at its disposal for anti-aircraft expenditure.

Osborne Wood Sails for America on Freight Ship

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MADRID, March 12.—Osborne Wood sailed for America at 5 o'clock this morning from Cadiz aboard the shipping board freighter West Chetac. Its first stop is Tampa, Fla. It expects to arrive at Tampa about March 30. Capt. Lund took Maj. Wood aboard as a passenger.

AGED MERCHANT RESISTS ROBBERS; IS BADLY BEATEN

Henry P. McCauley decided in the flash of a second yesterday that he had to die some time and that he would rather die from a bandit's shots and keep his self-respect than submit to the indignity of holding up his hands and seeing his place robbed.

So he resisted two young men who ordered him to stand aside yesterday afternoon while they robbed the cash box of his men's furnishing store at 753 East 47th street. For his courage, though he is 70 years old, he was knocked down, kicked, and then clubbed with a blackjack. Leaving him with a black eye and a swollen head, the robbers leisurely left the place, but they began to run when they heard the old man at his doorway shouting for help and pointing them out.

Passersby and two policemen, Frank Murphy and Peter Mathews, chased the robbers down an alley and caught John Daniels, 21 years old, 4426 Michigan avenue. The other, Thomas Jones, 29 years old, escaped, but Daniels told his captors that his pal lived with him, so a squad of police from the Wabash avenue station, with Acting Captain Michael Tobin and Lieut. William O'Connor, went to the address on Michigan avenue.

The police found Jones hiding under a bed and pulled him out by the feet. At the police station the men confessed to seven robberies in the 47th street district within the last few weeks, Capt. Tobin said last night.

Mr. McCauley was sore and bruised, with a black eye, a lacerated hand, and a deep dent and a bump on his head as the result of the encounter. Abrasions about his face and throat showed where one of the bandits had choked and beaten him while the other robbed the cash register.

The merchant lives at 625 North Oakley boulevard. Police found $31 in Daniels' pockets. Mr. McCauley said he did not know just how much cash he had had on hand.

BRITAIN REJECTS PEACE PROTOCOL, ASSAILS LEAGUE

Impotent Without U. S., Says Chamberlain.

BY HENRY WALES.

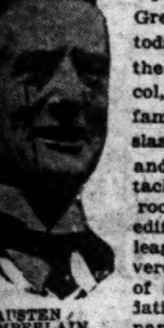
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]



AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

GENEVA, March 12.—The league of nations suffered the severest shock ever inflicted upon it when Great Britain today rejected the Geneva protocol, riddled the famous pact with slashing criticism and pitiless attacks, and then rocked the entire edifice of the league by a severe arraignment of its very foundations—the covenant.

Calmly judging the league's achievements during its five years of life, the British verdict, enunciated by Austen Chamberlain, and carrying the unanimous indorsement of the imperial cabinet, branded the organization as impotent and incapable of handling the important affairs of internal life and requiring a complete overhauling and revision of its charter.

America's Absence Blamed.

The absence of three great powers from membership, Germany, Russia, and the United States, and particularly the nonadherence of America, so alter and weaken the inherent possibilities of the league that the original conceptions and aims on which it was founded must be radically revised and toned down, was the essence of Mr. Chamberlain's statement.

But the British held out an olive branch to France to prevent an open break and complete collapse of the Geneva organization, which means so much to the empire's world politics. Abruptly reversing Downing street's policy of two years ago, Mr. Chamberlain suddenly made the startling announcement that England is willing to reconsider "mutual guarantees" or regional pacts, which Robert Cecil and Henri de Jouvenel wasted a year discussing two years ago, only to have them thrown down by Great Britain over the MacDonald government's assumption of power.

The British note gave an implied warning, however, that in reviving mutual guarantees it does not consent to accept a system of military or economic sanctions and insisted that whatever agreements may emerge must not bristle with war threats or military menaces, but be built on peaceful aims and harmonious relations.

France Is Conciliatory.

Replying to the British document on behalf of France after a hurried telephone conversation with Quai d'Orsay, explaining the bombshell Mr. Chamberlain exploded in this morning's session, M. Briand this afternoon assumed a most conciliatory attitude and accepted London's offer to revert to the 1923 negotiations in an effort to seek a compromise.

Seeking to overcome the stunning surprise of Mr. Chamberlain's speech, M. Briand kidded the British foreign secretary by alluding to the charming rhetoric the announcement was couched in, and obtained many laughs.

The savage slaying of the protocol produced a pessimistic spirit in league circles and the secretarial officials are astounded by the sudden hostile spirit toward the league.

"The British speech might well have been written by the late Senator McCormick or Senator Borah," was a remark heard on all sides as the listeners sought to interpret the reasons.

M. Benes Opens Session.

M. Benes, chairman of the subcommittee handling the protocol, opened the session by stating his colleagues were waiting to hear an exposé of the British viewpoint.

"His majesty's government cannot believe the protocol as it stands provides a suitable method of attempting the task," said Mr. Chamberlain, jumping immediately to the attack.

Complaining against "sanctions being sharpened," Mr. Chamberlain discussed the legislation which led him and the United States to object to Japan's construction that the protocol would permit the world court to discuss immigration problems.

"Far from his majesty's government's objections to compulsory arbitration being diminished by the protocol provisions," he said, "they are increased owing to its weakening by the reservations to clause 15 of the covenant, which was designed to prevent any interference by the league in matters of domestic jurisdiction."

This passage is taken to indicate that Washington's viewpoint is being amply championed by London.

The British communication then took up London's pet theme against assuming further obligations and taking additional responsibilities likely to result in war making.

Reason for Changing Covenant.

Mr. Chamberlain developed reasons for dictating a revision of the covenant and alterations in the aspect of the league because so many great powers are not members.

"The league in its present shape is not the organization designed by the framers of the covenant, who never supposed that among the non-members would be found so many powerful nations of the world, least of all the United States. It is not wise to add to the liabilities of the league already occurred without taking stock of the degree of machinery weakened by the non-membership of certain states, as a change, especially regarding economic sanctions, amounts to a transformation.

"Economic sanctions directed by all the world against a state not economically self-sufficing is a weapon of incalculable power. This weapon originally was devised by the covenant. It appeared bloodless, cheap, effective, and easy to use. But all this was changed by the existence of powerful economic communities outside of the league. It might force trade to unaccustomed channels, but never would stop it, and though an offending state no doubt would suffer there is no presumption that it would be crushed or even suffer most."

Britain Alert to World Trade.

This passage revealed that the British eye is keenly alert to world trade and seemed to be an admission of the inefficiency of the blockade during the world war.

The statement took a bearing directly concerned in problems of great war reparations and boundaries and is considered to indicate Great Britain's further attitude on those questions as well as problems of the future. It dealt with the protocol provision that an aggressor was to pay all the costs of war, but protected against any alteration of frontiers.

Regarding frontiers, which is particularly significant when Germany is demanding a rectification of the eastern boundaries, Mr. Chamberlain said:

"Aggression might have been the result of cruel misgovernment by an aggressor or an ill drawn frontier. Are we asked to agree that the league will do nothing to prevent a repetition of the offense except ask for money?"

MINER TO TRY TO RECOVER BODY OF CAVE VICTIM

Central City, Ky., March 12.—W. H. Hunt, a miner, who was at Sand cave, near Cave City, during the efforts there to rescue Floyd Collins, today announced that he had closed a contract with Homer Collins to remove the body of his brother. The body was sealed in the hole after it was ascertained that he was dead.

Homer Collins is traveling with a burlesque show and closed the contract by telegram, Hunt said.

Work of recovering the body will begin about April 1, Hunt said. He believes the work can be accomplished in two weeks.

Collins was trapped in the cave Jan. 30 and was reached through a rescue shaft Feb. 16. Because of the hazard to rescuers it was decided not to undertake to recover the body.

LEITER INDICTED FOR $4,000 RUM CACHE IN HOME

Boston Grand Jury Also Names 3 Employes.

Boston, Mass., March 12.—Joseph Leiter of Chicago, and three employés of his summer home in Beverly, were charged on several counts with illegal possession of liquor in indictments reported by the Federal grand jury today. The indictments give the date of the alleged offenses as Dec. 1 and 2 last, specifying 585 bottles of choice liquors.

Home Raided Dec. 2.

Prohibition agents on Dec. 2 raided the Beverly Farms estate of Leiter and seized liquor valued at more than $4,000, which they charged had been placed there within two months.

A fortnight previously it had been reported that hijackers had stolen $50,000 worth of liquor from the estate. Allen J. Harris, a watchman placed there by a private detective agency, was arrested on a charge of larceny, it being alleged that his absence at the time of the theft was prearranged.

Came Back in Two Nights.

Two nights later the hijackers were said to have paid the estate another visit. Percy Huxley, a caretaker, notified the Beverly police. They met a gang of eight men driving off in an automobile truck loaded with liquor valued at $10,000. The hijackers overpowered the police, seized their automobile and escaped.

Harris told the police he was asleep when this affair occurred.

At the time the hijacking raids were reported, Mr. Leiter said at his Chicago home he was unaware that liquor had been stored on his estate.

U. S. CLOSES ITS CASE AGAINST MULCAHY'S RUM

Police Sergeant Thomas A. Sheridan of the Warren Avenue station was the principal witness yesterday at the federal hearing of the government's attempt to obtain the right to confiscate Grommes & Ullrich liquor, seized from Robert J. Mulcahy, former alderman. Judge Wilkerson is hearing the case.

The government contention is that the 5,000 gallons of liquor was illegally obtained from the assets of Grommes & Ullrich. Mulcahy is attempting to regain the liquor.

Sheridan testified that he went on a delivery trip of some of the Grommes & Ullrich liquor "to see those Lake Forest millionaires get whisky on Easter Sunday in violation of the national prohibition act."

STOKES' FATE TO GO TO THE JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Defense Paints Rich Man "an Old Fool."

gument, begun Wednesday, Attorney Rathbun held on to three reins: Mr. Stokes, his client; Mrs. Stokes, his client's wife and antagonist; and the state's attorney's office, which he alleges fomented this latest Stokes versus Stokes affair "for certain reasons."

These reasons, briefly, the defense counsel declares, were that former Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Wharton secured the indictment of Stokes in October, 1923, a few weeks before his second divorce case was coming up in New York, at the behest of Attorney Charles E. Erbstein and W. C. Dannenberg, both employed by Mrs. Stokes, in order to help defeat Stokes at that trial.

Such a situation, Rathbun declares, as "Charlie Erbstein as the Don Quixote of Cook county out with a lance to cleanse the county of scandal," is "quite the most laughable thing during the twenty-four years I have practiced law in this city."

Mr. Rathbun's first words to each juror are a low toned, "Much obliged, as an American citizen, to you, for doing your duty by sitting, these five long weeks, on this jury."

Attacks Smith's Speech.

Then, in not quite such a low tone, comes an attack on Milton Smith's speech. "He has talked a lot about babies and womanhood, but he has kept consistently away from the evidence, to find out if Stokes really did what is charged in the indictment?"

We have said that Mr. Rathbun's defense is a series of admissions. But there is one thing he refuses to admit, or consider admitting. That is that Mr. Stokes, as charged, "wickedly, unlawfully, feloniously" and a heap more of adverbs, conspired deliberately to defame Mrs. Stokes. So now he chides Prosecutor Smith for not having gone more deeply into the evidence.

A broadside now at the unlawful holding of witnesses in custody, about which some of the state's witnesses have testified.

Used Unlawful Methods.

"The prosecution," he asserts, "was far more unlawful than anything in God's green earth that Mr. Stokes ever did."

And this:

"Never in a criminal case in this county has a public office gone so far to force out by coercion testimony that would serve their purpose."

Rathbun, you will remember, has to keep those three balls, the man, the woman, and the state, going. Now it's the lady's turn.

"Mr. Smith," the attorney says, "told you that Mr. Stokes was shot by two girls. What if he were shot by fifty girls? That doesn't make him guilty of conspiracy in this case, does it? That was put in for poison to turn you against this 73 year old man, in order to pull across their ridiculous charges."

Points to "Kick Back."

Then, a bit satirically:

"The prosecutor doesn't seem to see that the lady in the case gets a kickback. Make him as rotten as possible, but she married him; she bore him children; she didn't leave him."

"God keep me from saying anything against this lady, but my duty to my client impells me to say something." And he proceeds to say "something."

"Mrs. Stokes was vindicated in two divorce courts. A retiring woman would be glad to get away from it all. Stokes was licked and she won. But she comes here. It shows something back of it all. This lady, to say the least, is a little bit careless of her own character and reputation.

What Mrs. Stokes Is Doing.

"Her mother—God bless her mother for standing by her—says she was a Denver debutante. Maybe so. I hope so. But isn't it unnatural that she should keep on bringing up these charges against herself? All the evidence that was broadcast was not of Stokes' doing. She is doing all she can to get the father of her children declared a convict, and she is using Stokes' money to do it on."

Notice the not unadroit way Mr. Rathbun chooses this, and now that, from the assortment of names for his wealthy client. Now it's "Mr. Stokes," more often it is "Stokes." Sometimes it is "the old man"; most often it is "this foolish old man."

And the next sentence has the temerity to give forth this:

"Mr. Stokes' story, I thought, was rather frank. It showed him to be a damned old fool."

And on.

"Why, he thought he was the greatest detective in the world. He thought he had the Marshall Field murder solved. He thought a lot that to you men would be foolish.

"But are you going to send him to jail for that? Some men insist the moon's made of green cheese, and you never can convince them differently. But you don't send them to jail."

The state, in its closing argument, had made much of the fact that Stokes had once named his son, Weddie, by his first wife, in connection with his suspicions regarding his second wife.

"Yes, he named his own son," the defense attorney admits. "But you saw his efforts on the stand to keep that out. His attorney and Mrs. Stokes' attorney, he told you, had made an agreement not to bring that in. And he kept his part of the bargain."

No Hedging on Wealth.

The state, too, had made much of Mr. Stokes' wealth. Mr. Rathbun doesn't hedge on that point.

"They say he's wealthy. Well, there's at least $800,000 of his fortune that he hasn't got and Mrs. Stokes has. And $800,000 is so much money I can't contemplate it. But it's very material. For it shows what this lady did not have before she married 'this horrible man,' W. E. D. Stokes."

The state, to follow their argument point by point, had charged that Mr. Stokes had refused on the stand, fully to acknowledge the paternity of Mrs. Stokes' children. This challenge Mr. Rathbun half meets, half skirts. He declares that Milton Smith's "bully ragging tactics" got the "old man mad" as he sat on the stand. And as a consequence he had evaded the question by saying, "She had two children," and "I provided $800,000 for them," and "I supposed at the time they were mine."

Reads Settlement Terms.

In balance to this, Mr. Rathbun reads the settlement terms which, he points where entered into, "solemnly, when Mr. Stokes was not angry" and in which he signs his name to the sentence, "there are two children as issue of the marriage, now living."

Mr. Rathbun's voice is vibrant now, with pleading, as he commends to the jury a portrait of a stubborn old man, paddling about all over Chicago's underworld with an open ear and an obsessed mind.

"With his mind as it was, he just looked into the information that came to him, and went out to get more. He didn't tell anybody except his private investigators and the people from whom he thought he would get information. It was Mrs. Stokes, or her agents, who gave it publicity.

"If it weren't for her, he'd have his playthings in the way of affidavits, and his lawyers, if any good, would have told him they were no good."

That Photo Incident.

Stokes, the testimony has shown, bought a kodak and took a picture of Joe Brunner, the ex-cabby of the old redlight district, on the steps of the former Irene Carruther's resort.

"Did it defame Mrs. Stokes for him to do this? It did not. It was a silly thing, maybe. And he made a lot of fuss about getting his camera back, but don't send him to the penitentiary for that."

W. E. D. Stokes may have thought he was the smartest detective in the world, but his attorney wants the jury to believe that he was just about the dumbest.

"Why," Mr. Rathbun is all out of patience with the man's credulity, "those blood-suckers were getting his money, making him think he was getting something. If Stokes is the colossal crook and fiend the state would have you think he is, would it be necessary for him to put in all those months chasing colored undertakers and looking up birth records? With all that money and power they talk about, if he were a fiend and crook, he could have got as many false affidavits as he wanted."

Calls It a Smoke Screen.

After the noon recess "Charlie" Rathbun starts his afternoon speech with some plain words about the state's attorney's office, all in defense of Stokes' co-defendant, Robert Lee, the colored man.

"They've had a mighty hard time getting anything on Lee in order to hold him here and so make Stokes defend himself with a colored man. They say that they had to get the indictment quickly and quietly because everybody was running to cover. But Lee wasn't running to cover. They're just using that as a smoke screen because they know they were acting with feverish haste. With all the crime running wild in the county of Cook was there any reason for them sitting up until 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning with these witnesses?

"Well, there was a reason; the second divorce suit was coming on, in the fall of 1923, and the agents of Mrs. Stokes wanted that indictment so Mr. Stokes' witnesses would be intimidated and be afraid to testify in the New York divorce trial.

Admits Stokes Was Beaten.

"Yes, old man Stokes was licked, and the indictment may have had something to do with it. The state's attorney's office allowed itself to be used. Charlie Wharton [then assistant state's attorney] was helping Erbstein and Dannenberg."

Referring again to the alleged method of securing statements from the witnesses for that indictment, the attorney points out that Brunner and Frankie Hubert and others, according to the testimony in this case, were held in unlawful custody and made to talk.

"And yet," there is a deal of scorn in his words, "these are the state's star witnesses on whose evidence they want you to send Stokes to the penitentiary.

Raps State's Attorney.

"These acts are the acts of cowards. We have gone back to the days of the Spanish inquisition. A state's attorney who would stand for that doesn't deserve a public office. It shows how far the state of Illinois has allowed its public servants to go with their power when they get this indictment and work for this conviction.

"They say it is to cleanse things for the county. And Charles Erbstein and Dannenberg are helping the state. If we're turning the cleansing of the county over to these two gentlemen, you'll see a lot more of these cases."

At this point Mr. Rathbun reads the third count of the indictment, which charges that Mr. Stokes gave publicity to the statements that defamed Mrs. Stokes. It has been his contention that it was Mrs. Stokes, or her agents, who broadcast these unpleasant charges. And during the trial he has introduced into evidence a copy of the Chicago American of Sept. 24, 1923, some eleven days before the indictment was returned, in which the story of Mr. Stokes' alleged investigation is printed.

"It is on the front page," and he coats his words with acid, "and close by the article are the handsome faces of Dannenberg and Erbstein and Wharton. It's in a paper against whom Mr. Stokes had a libel suit."

Discards the Acid.

Rathbun discards the acid now as he asks:

"Are you going to send a foolish old man to jail for that? There is no evidence that the world would ever have had any knowledge of the investigation if Mrs. Stokes or her agents had not given it publicity. The affidavits would have rested in his file.

"But Dannenberg and Erbstein, they hate publicity, they do." The acid is back for a moment.

"And they began chasing this poor old man. I say 'poor old man.' He's been through hell. You know the condition of his mind in regard to his wife. But he never sacrificed her character by giving his suspicions to the newspapers. When Mrs. Stokes came here she hired Charlie Erbstein and he broadcast the news. Mrs. Stokes didn't stop him.

Another picture of the 73 year old man delving about in vacant houses, in Negroes' houses, and the like, chasing persistently his fugitive but dominant suspicions.

"My God! Is that the way a criminal works? Couldn't he have hired some crooks, paid them money, and got all the affidavits he wanted? He didn't go at this like a criminal.

Certain He's a Gentleman.

"This old gentleman was obsessed. I don't hesitate to call him a gentleman. You heard him testify, and no matter what his mind has caused him to do in regard to his wife I think he impressed you as pretty much of a gentleman, a kindly old man, handing out his money. The same kind of a man who'd establish an $800,000 trust fund for his wife, even when he hated her."

Mr. Rathbun begins, specifically, to discuss the evidence now. He takes up that New Year's eve, 1918, about which Mr. Stokes and Hal Billig and Mrs. Stokes, the three principals in that scene, have all testified.

"Something happened that night," the attorney declares, "whether improper or not, but something to make that 68 year old man so excited that it gave him an honest suspicion that she had been untrue to him."

Then on to Dr. Maurice Rosenberg, former physician for the Everleigh club, and his testimony, as a state's witness, that he had thrown down Mr. Stokes' suggestions the minute he met him.

Kept Trailing Around Stokes.

"And yet," Rathbun contends, "this doctor saw a nice trip to New York to see the Everleigh sisters, and $600, and he kept trailing around for Mr. Stokes. So did all these witnesses of the state. They tell you they looked at his pictures and said they never had known the woman. And yet they all take him on to some one else. They trail him around from Billy to Jack, and take his money.

"All feeding things to the old man. Of course, the Everleigh sisters didn't talk, if indeed Dr. Rosenberg actually saw them on that New York trip. Do you suppose the Everleigh sisters are talking these days about what went on in those days?"

It's almost time for adjournment now, but Mr. Rathbun has time to tell what he thinks of the testimony of Joe Brunner.

Turned State's Evidence.

Brunner, he recalls to the jury, was the gentleman originally indicted, who obtained a severance and turned state's evidence. He is the gentleman, the attorney dwells on it, who was locked up in a police station by the state's attorney's office in order to "make him talk the way they wanted."

"Would you send an American citizen to the penitentiary or make a convict of him with a fine, on the testimony of this man?"

"This man," Rathbun declares, "was still afraid of the state when he took the stand, afraid his case might be reinstated, so he said what he thought would get him in well with the state. But on cross-examination, the defense attorney recollects, Brunner, "scared as he was of the state, was compelled to say that nothing dishonest had been done, because he knew nothing dishonest had been done."

And, as the final punch, "Charlie" Rathbun, who had had quite a sprightly encounter with Jack Johnson, former champion prize fighter when cross-examining him, takes another punch at him.

"Jack Johnson, that brazen fellow with such high ideals, who said he wouldn't say anything against a woman if he knew it—well, you can judge him for yourself. But in the evidence you will read a copy of the bill convicting him for violation of the Mann act.

"Are you going to send any one to the penitentiary on the word of Jack Johnson?"

And court adjourned.

BRUNNER, EX-CABBY, SUES W. E. D. STOKES FOR DETECTIVE FEES

Joe Brunner, the cab driver, who testified that W. E. D. Stokes hired him to investigate Chicago's former red light district, yesterday brought suit against the aged millionaire for $2,955. It is due, he claims, as payment for detective services.

Stokes, he declares, offered him $4,500 for the work, but to date has paid only $1,545. Deputy Bailiff William Rooney served Stokes with notice of the suit in Judge Gemmill's courtroom.

HELD ON $50,000 BONDS.

Theft of six suits of clothing yesterday brought bonds of $50,000 against Joseph Rios in Judge Walker's Chicago Avenue court when Rios was held to the grand jury.

Foley, 1436 Astor street, and five children. The entire residuary estate is bequeathed to Mrs. Foley.

Dandruff Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

TEAPOT DEFENSE HALTS EVIDENCE OF U. S. WITNESS

Objects to Introduction of Fall's Bank Records.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—Hitting the high spots for the first time since the trial began, attorneys in the Teapot Dome lease annulment case today brought out the "pivotal point" in the litigation and then wound up the case in such a tangle of objections, technicalities, and contentions that Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy abruptly adjourned court in the middle of the afternoon in order to give government lawyers time to get a fresh start.

The principal developments were these:

The question of admitting bank account records of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, who leased Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company, to show an exchange of Liberty bonds between Sinclair and Fall, was taken under advisement by Judge Kennedy.

Object to Testimony.

J. W. Lacey of defense counsel objected to the testimony of A. J. Conway, cashier of the federal reserve branch bank of Denver, on the ground that it was "double hearsay" because Conway himself did not actually make the records to which he was testifying.

The objection took government counsel by surprise and when Owen J. Roberts of government counsel told the court he was not yet prepared to cite his authority for so conducting the examination of Conway, Judge Kennedy ordered an adjournment until tomorrow to allow the government to prepare its argument.

Mr. Lacey originally had objected to the introduction of bank records of Fall's deposits as inadmissible on the ground that they had no connection with the defendant in the case and that they could not be classified as direct evidence.

His second objection was that Conway had no personal knowledge as to the actual connection of the records with Fall.

Tracing Records, He Says.

Mr. Roberts had told the court earlier in the day that in questioning Conway and employés of other banks where Fall's transactions were recorded that he was attempting merely to identify the routine through which Liberty bonds and coupons passed, and that he would later cite his authority. It was then that Judge Kennedy reserved decision on the question of admitting bank records of Fall, on which the government hinges its attempt to prove that bonds from Sinclair eventually found their way to the credit of Fall.

L. C. Dunbar, cashier; J. E. Gonzales, an employé of the First National bank of El Paso, Tex., and Harlan J. Smith, cashier of the First National bank of Pueblo, Colo., identified accounts of Fall and the Tres Ritos Land and Cattle company, in which Fall is interested, and Liberty bond coupons alleged to have been cashed by Fall. This testimony Judge Kennedy has under advisement.

BROTHERS KIDNAPED; ROBBED.

Raymond G. Bruce and his brother James, in the radio supply business at 1523 North Kolin avenue, were robbed of $799 and radio equipment valued at $500 late yesterday afternoon by three bandits who kidnaped them.

Senators Kid Dawes on Dash to Save Warren a la Sheridan

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[By United Press.]—A parody of "Sheridan's Ride," describing how Vice President Charles G. Dawes rode up to the senate Tuesday from his hotel in a careening taxicab and failed by seconds to bring his deciding vote to Republicans during balloting on the Warren nomination, was read to the senate today by Senator Norris [Rep., Neb.].

SENATOR NORRIS.

It was a continuation of the subtle parliamentary hazing to which Dawes has been subjected since his inaugural speech in which he aroused some senators by ridiculing the rules of that body.

But Dawes took it good naturedly and for the first time recognized his critics by saying: "The chair cannot refrain from expressing his appreciation of the delicate tribute of the senator from Nebraska."

After describing in poetic language how Republican leaders had hastily called him to cast the deciding ballot which would have meant confirmation of the nomination of Charles B. Warren as attorney general, and informed him that he was "fifteen blocks away," the tribute continues:

"But there's a street from the Willard's feast
"A good broad highway leading East,
"And there through the flush of the fading light
"An auto as black as the steeds of night,
"Was seen to pass as with eagle flight.
"As if it knew the terrible need;
"It stretched away with the utmost speed.
"Hills arose and fell; but its heart was gay,
"With Dawes only ten blocks away.
"Under its spinning wheels the road
"Like an arrowy Alpine river flowed.
"And the Willard sped away behind
"Like an ocean flying before the wind,
"And the auto, like a bark fed with furnace fire,
"Swept on, with its wild shriek full of ire.
"But lo! it is nearing its heart's desire:
"It is snuffing the smoke of the roaring fray,
"With Dawes now only two blocks away.
"The first that the general saw were the group
"Of senators, and then the retreating ones,
"What was done? What to do? A glance told him both,
"And striking his fist, with a terrible oath,
"He dashed down the aisle, 'mid a storm of huzzas.
"And the wave of retreat checked its course there "Because the sight of the master compelled it to pause.
"With steam and with dust, the black auto was gray,
"By the flash of its light and its red fire's play,
"It seemed to the whole great senate to say,
"'I have brought you Dawes all the way
"From the Willard, down to save the day!'
"Hurrah, hurrah for Dawes!
"Hurrah! Hurrah for this high minded man!
"And when his statue is placed on high,
"Under the dome of the Capitol sky,
"The great senatorial temple of fame,
"There with the glorious general's name
"Be it said, in letters both bold and bright,
"'O, hell an' maria, he has lost us the fight.'"

EVICTED MOTHER AND 3 CHILDREN AIDED BY POLICE

Mrs. Margaret Flaherty and her three sons, Edward, 7; Richard, 5, and Earl, 3, were evicted from their room at 1921 Warren avenue by the proprietor of the house, Mrs. Louise Eaton, last night when the mother was unable to pay their rent. Mrs. Flaherty's husband, Earl, is a former policeman. Recently he was in the Court of Domestic Relations on a charge of nonsupport, and placed on a year's probation. Two weeks ago he took his wife and children to the Warren avenue place, paid the rent for two weeks and went on the road as a salesman.

According to Mrs. Flaherty she was left with only $2 in money. For several days the children have been practically without food and the Warren avenue police took up a collection for them. They spent the night in the West Chicago avenue station.

Policemen in the Sheffield avenue station last night contributed $20 to aid a destitute woman and her five small children, left without support when the Court of Domestic Relations sent the husband and father to the bridewell for a year. The sentence followed the woman's attempt to force her husband to get regular employment.

The police found the woman, Mrs. Anna Martinka, 33 years old, surrounded by a pile of furniture and her children on the sidewalk in front of 2520 North Marshfield avenue. She was holding Helen, 8 months old. The others, George, 9; Mary, 7; Frankie, 4, and Anna, 3 years old, were crying.

Mrs. Martinka said she scrubbed floors in a loop building and that when she returned home from work she had found her furniture and children on the sidewalk.

MARRIED SIXTY-THREE YEARS.

Quincy, Ill., March 12.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Daugherty of this city celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary here today. On Tuesday Mr. Daugherty was 85. They were married in Ellington township, in this county, and have resided in Quincy ever since.

SENATE VOTES TODAY ON ISLE OF PINES PACT

Copeland Silenced After 8 Hour Filibuster.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Breaking the one man filibuster conducted by Senator Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], the senate tonight entered a unanimous consent agreement to vote by 3 p. m. tomorrow on the twenty year old treaty recognizing the sovereignty of Cuba over the Isle of Pines.

Senator Copeland began his filibuster yesterday, demanding that the treaty be put aside until December, and he spoke for eight hours today almost continuously, the senate being held in session from noon until late tonight without a recess to prevent him from resting. He abandoned the filibuster suddenly at 8 p. m., yielding the floor to Senator Shipstead [Farm-Labor, Minn.], another opponent of the treaty, who spoke for only an hour.

Attempt to Force Vote Fails.

When Senator Copeland stopped speaking proponents attempted to force a vote tonight, but several other members insisted on an opportunity to be heard. Senator Pepper [Rep., Pa.], in charge of the treaty, then proposed the unanimous consent agreement which was adopted, limiting each member to one speech of not more than fifteen minutes on the subject.

The New York senator conducted his fight from behind a steadily augmented bulwark of reference books, documents, maps, and blue prints, estimated by others to contain sufficient oratorical ammunition to last a mouth. He also had some crackers and raisins in his pocket, and occasionally sipped broth or milk brought to him by his secretary while poring over some record on or near his desk.

"Fighting solely for principle" and conceding that the treaty would be ratified if brought to a vote, Senator Copeland did not abandon his announced intention of speaking all night until leaders had brought about a parliamentary situation in which he was obliged to speak continuously, without permitting any interruption.

Of Treaty, Teeth and Many Things.

Both Senator Copeland and Senator Shipstead contended that Cuba had no claim to the island under the treaty of Paris which ended the Spanish-American war, and the New York member insisted that, although he hoped it might be ceded some day to Cuba, the rights of American citizens who largely own its land should be protected.

"If the senate would get as excited over the world court as over the immediate ratification of this treaty," he asserted, "a great many people who now think that the senate is of little use would have their confidence restored."

Oppose World Court This Session.

Adjournment of the present special session of the senate without consideration of the world court proposal seemed assured today.

The Republicans were disposed to let the Lausanne treaty with Turkey go over without action unless insisted on by President Coolidge. They indicated they are prepared to resist any attempt to keep the senate in session for consideration of the world court.

MAN DIES IN BATHTUB.

The body of Rudolph Tansey, 25 years old, 2626 North Ridgeway avenue, was found lying in a partly water filled bathtub in his home yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering from heart disease.

SENATE LEADERS RETREAT BEFORE DRIVE OF REBELS

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—The Republican leaders of the senate yielded twice today from the anti-radical program they had laid down at the organization of the present senate and in which they had the complete approval of the White House.

They capitulated first when they agreed to discard the time honored principle of holding members of the Republican conference bound to mutual action.

For the second time the Old Guard bent the knee when they decided not to take patronage away from the insurgents—Senators Ladd [N. D.], Frazier [N. D.], Brookhart [Ia.], and La Follette [Wis.]—whom they excluded from their meetings when the senate was organized. This course was taken only after a bitter argument, but the conference finally decided to turn down the recommendation of Senator Shortridge [Cal.], head of the patronage committee, and to grant the radicals the privilege of designating political appointments at the capitol to the tune of about $4,000 in annual pay.

Senators Borah and Johnson were invited to the conference by the regulars of Republicanism, but they insisted they would not agree to be bound to a conference decision. There were a number of consultations, but finally the regulars had to give in, with the result that these two independent Republicans were left free to act as they desired on any matter.

FAIRBANK'S HEIR IN FRIENDLY SUIT FOR HOME FUNDS

Friendly litigation was begun in the Circuit court yesterday seeking to gain judicial approval of the advancement to Livingston Fairbank from the estate of his father, N. K. Fairbank, millionaire capitalist, of funds sufficient to purchase a leasehold right in the apartment building at 999 Lake Shore drive, where Mr. Fairbank resides.

The elder Mr. Fairbank, who died more than twenty years ago, provided that any of his children might, after reaching the age of 25 years, take enough of the principal in his estate and purchase a home with it.

MRS. WOODWARD, DAUGHTER OF WAR OF 1812, DIES

Mrs. Helen Hascall Woodward, 94 years old, a real daughter of the War of 1812, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Burt W. Pierce, 1657 West 102d street, Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Woodward's father, William Hascall, fought with honor throughout the battles with the British in the war of 1812. Most of Mrs. Woodward's life was passed in St. Louis and in Texas, but she has lived here for the last three years.

Beside Mrs. Pierce she was mother of Dr. Harry S. Woodward of this city.

COUZENS' TAX LEVY WILL BE MADE TODAY

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—The treasury has completed an arbitrary assessment, which will be levied tomorrow, against Senator Couzens [Rep., Mich.], as alleged underpayment by the senator on his 1919 income taxes resulting from the sale of his minority holdings in the Ford Motor company to Henry Ford. The arbitrary levy will be made following the result of the refusal of the senator to sign a waiver on the statute of limitations, which, after tomorrow, would preclude the treasury from reopening the case.

While the treasury is forbidden by law from making known the assessment, it is assumed it approximated ten or eleven million dollars, inasmuch as that was the amount estimated to be due the government by an unidentified statistician, who, last week, submitted a memorandum to the treasury on the case.

It was this memorandum, together with a request by the treasury that Mr. Couzens sign a waiver of the statute, which precipitated the senator's speech in the senate Tuesday, when he charged the treasury was attempting to "discipline him because of his activities as chairman of the senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau."

F. J. CLAMPITT, DIVORCED SIX WEEKS, TO WED

Frederick J. Clampitt, who at 59, after forty-two years of married life, paid his wife $60,000 alimony when she divorced him six weeks ago, yesterday obtained a license at Crown Point to wed Miss Flora A. Howes, 40.

Efforts to determine whether the nuptials had been solemnized were unsuccessful last night. Mr. Clampitt, who is president of the P. F. Volland company, was seen last evening about the Del Prado hotel, where he resides, but the hotel clerk expressed ignorance of whether he had been married.

Miss Howes, whose address was given in the license application as Sagemoor, Mass., also maintains a residence at the Del Prado, and she was there yesterday afternoon, according to the clerk.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

2—Build the Subway Now.
3—Abate the Smoke Evil.
4—Stop Reckless Driving.
5—Elevate Sidewalks Downtown.

A FOUR HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING BOOM.

The adoption of the Dever traction plan by the people means that construction work of $400,000,000 will be started. This will build 218 miles of elevated railroad, 247 miles of surface line, and 68 miles of subway. It will be continuous work. Sixty-eight miles of subway will not meet the city's requirements. The system will be added to year by year.

This is not construction work such as was done for the World's Fair. It is not a boom which is to lapse or collapse. It is not construction which is to be torn down or to fall into disuse. It is addition to the permanent wealth of the city.

It means employment, steady jobs at good wages. It is not only work in construction of lines and subways but more work in electric industries, in the utilities which must readjust their service to new underground galleries, in car building and general equipment. As transportation is extended to regions which now have poor service or none, it means building construction. The building trades follow the transportation lines. A new elevated station or a subway station means a new community with homes, offices, stores, theaters, and schools.

This will be a boom which will spread far and wide. It means continuous activity. It is cumulative and continuing. It is the equivalent of building hard roads into a region which has been stuck in the mud. It permanently raises the standard of living, the profits and the pleasure of living.

These transportation improvements obtained by starting with a construction fund of $400,000,000 will change the whole aspect of Chicago. It will not be a wildcat boom, but the soundest kind in the world, the building of a metropolitan area.

It means greater freedom for the citizen. Slow transportation limits him. It confines him within a restricted area whether he wants to live there or not. Only a certain amount of time can be spent in the daily trips. If they are slow trips the diameter of his life is shortened. If they are rapid trips it is lengthened.

Eighty per cent of the people now do not have rapid transportation. The Dever plan will give it to them.

Some people like political campaigns, red fire, the bandwagons at the curb and the megaphones on the sidewalk, distinguished fountains of eloquence inside the hall, the excitement of the ballyhoo and the whacking of the rostrum. That does not help the trip to work the next day. It does not pay the grocer. It may be exciting, but it does not add anything to the comforts of the householder or much to the pleasure and convenience of living in a city.

It is an issue between the steam shovel and the steam calliope. We are for the steam shovel, and the Dever plan is the only one in sight which will start it working. Otherwise it's eight more years of the calliope.

CONCERNING WESTERNS.

All this censoring of wild west movies is just about two years too late. The westerns used to draw the crowds because they showed Hollywood nymphs being rescued by bad men from worse men. There was plenty of hard riding. There was also plenty of quick drawing and fancy two gun shooting. It's the bad men and the shooting the censors are distressed about. They think little boys will become bandits through seeing so much gun play.

Two years too late. There is no more shooting for shooting's sake in the westerns. "The Covered Wagon" showed that the sweep of American history is screen stuff and it gets the crowds. The old type of western which Bill Hart had virtually copyrighted is dead. Nowadays the westerns teach history and economics and sociology and pride of birth. The shooting remains, but it is no longer the works. The Indians ambush us as our covered wagons blaze the trail of empire and our steel rails link the seas. We shoot the redskins not to shed blood but because they oppose destiny. There's no nobility in the shooting. The nobility is in our empire.

Maybe this "Deadwood Coach" and "Thundering Herd" are of the old bite-the-dust school. If they are, the public will take care of the censoring.

WHAT A LAW!

Tex Rickard and five associates are being tried in the federal District court in Trenton, N. J., charged with conspiracy to violate the interstate commerce act in getting the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures out of the state and shown in other states.

There are a number of ridiculous laws in the United States, but this law against the transportation of moving pictures of a prize fight from one state to another is about the prize winner. New York has legal prize fighting. New Jersey has it. The United States makes it illegal to send a picture of a fight in New Jersey over to New York.

Illinois has no law against the showing of prize fight pictures. It has a law against prize fighting. The Dempsey picture was brought in. The person who brought it was fined $1,000 in the federal court. The picture was shown and we were all legal and happy.

The law is a moralistic abuse of a trade act. It makes the federal government a prim governess to the states, which in this conception of law are little girls with pigtails. Any state which does not want prize fight pictures shown can have its own law prohibiting them. Why any should want to do so we do not know.

This moralistic, stupid rider on the interstate commerce act is such a law as promotes disrespect for law.

DANCING WITH THE BEAR.

Japan quasi officially says that the ecstasies of Russia over the Japanese-Russian treaty are inconvenient and not understood. The Russians have hung out the flags, beaten the drums and burned red fire as if celebrating something while the rest of the world could read 'em and weep.

The Japanese say there is nothing to this at all. They do not intend to disquiet any one. Their affection for their old allies is strong and they do not know what the shouting in Russia is all about. It is almost an apology. A new guest has been introduced. He seems to have taken off his shoes and gone to the piano. The punch may have gone to his head. Strange, because it was so weak, just a dash of claret. It is most embarrassing. Maybe he'll quiet down after a while.

Whoever has danced with that bear has got the cooties. Ramsay MacDonald did. Herriot walks considerably out of his way if he sees Krassin first. The dictatorship of the proletariat has not kept faith with anything, least of all with its own doctrines. The one thing it is steadfast in is the retention and extension of power. Its political prisoners are as numerous as the czar's were and worse treated. A political prisoner may be a small shopkeeper whose political offense was trying to earn a living. He may be a communist who did not like the retreat from communism or he may be one who liked it too much.

A political offense may be selling too many lead pencils or not giving up enough wheat. It is the most unscrupulous tyranny the world has known and a dance with the bear means cooties and cracked ribs.

MR. DEMPSEY'S RING IS A WEDDING RING.

Harry Wills, the Negro heavyweight, is having his usual run of luck when he tries to find Mr. Dempsey, the white heavyweight champion, at home. Mr. Dempsey has always moved and left no address. If they ever meet it will be an interesting engagement of octogenarians, and one of them may win by hitting the other over the head with a crutch.

Mr. Kearns, Mr. Dempsey's manager, is an able showman and a good judge of distance, knowing to an inch how far Mr. Wills and Mr. Dempsey and his meal ticket should be kept apart. He believes that Mr. Dempsey, although a husband now, still has a fight or two left if the right opponent can be found. In looking about he cannot see Mr. Wills for the smoke, but he does see Mr. Thomas Gibbons.

Mr. Kearns' idea of a climax to Mr. Dempsey's notable ring career is another fight with Mr. Gibbons if the populace can be brought to believe that it is demanding this rounding out of a life's work.

When Mr. Dempsey was married he was reported to have promised his wife that he would not fight again. If he takes on Gibbons and not Wills we'll know he made the promise and intends to keep it.

GEN. BILLY MITCHELL.

Gen. William Mitchell, general for a few more days while he remains assistant chief of the army air service, says that when he returns to the rank of colonel he would like to be assigned to the 6th corps area, which would have Chicago his headquarters, and have charge of a school of aviation. He will not resign from the service and be a candidate for congress.

Gen. Mitchell was a bad boy and he had to be sent to his room if the army was to remain an army, but we do not regret that he was bad. He had to be demoted or all the chiefs with whom he was fighting had to resign, but he made American aircraft deficiencies stand out in the light.

He is an air man and thinks only of the air. If he had been opposed in his idea of organization of the department of the air and independent operation of the air force by a cavalry commander or a general of the line it would only have been a conflict between different branches of the service. The opposition to him came from Pershing and chiefs who are in position to see the whole service with the whole eye. Foch in France, Pershing here, and the high command everywhere, even in Great Britain, where the separate air ministry still persists, know all branches must act together and that the air cannot act independently.

Mitchell has stimulated the establishment of an adequate American air force. It cost him his rank, but we'll be glad to have him as a colonel enlivening the 6th corps area.

The Other Side

MISDIRECTED PHILANTHROPY.

[Union Labor Journal (California).]

In a recent issue of the New York Evening Post two brief articles followed each other in immediate succession. The first set forth the fact that the small, expensive and exclusive Choate school in Connecticut was to receive a $1,000,000 library and social hall from Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury. The second recorded the distressing unemployment situation in Schenectady, N. Y., where "family after family were found without coal, food or extra clothing."

We believe in libraries and in beautiful buildings, but there is something wrong with a system which diverts so much money at the whim of an individual when other needs are so dire and pressing. Yet this sort of thing will continue to happen so long as the management of our natural resources and the calculation as to our national needs is left to the anarchistic principle that every man shall do that which will increase his own profit. An intelligent industrial democracy and production for use in the long run will increase and not diminish the number of libraries and the amount of good architecture in the United States without leaving thousands of self-respecting and useful producers in the dire and bitter straits of protracted unemployment.

PLACING THE BLAME.

A golfer on the Mont Agel links above Monte Carlo would never blame himself for his bad strokes. Somebody had coughed—somebody had laughed—somebody had moved—and he had been distracted.

This golfer, bunkered one day, made a very careful stroke, only to dig up a square yard of turf. He looked around at his companions furiously, but they had all been very quiet, and it was impossible to complain about them. So then he waved his hand towards the blue Mediterranean, dotted with a few tiny sails, 2,000 feet below.

"How can a man play golf," he growled, "with all these ships rushing back and forth?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

LOUISIANA MILK.

THE state of Louisiana is anxious to develop a dairy industry. At the same time it wants to promote the health of young children. These desires run parallel. A dairy industry that does not produce wholesome milk will never thrive permanently. Nothing so promotes the welfare of the dairy industry as confidence in the safety of milk drinking. In order to promote these ends the state board of health invited the American Child Health association to investigate the quality of milk sold in twelve cities and towns. This organization took about 1,600 samples of milk from about 1,000 dairies and examined them in various ways. Of these samples 220 were found to be very dirty, 369 were dirty, 387 were slightly dirty, 435 were fairly clean, and 115 were clean. This examination consisted in looking for visible dirt in the bottom of the bottle.

The bacteria counts ranged from 2,000 per c.c. to about 11,000,000. The sanitary scores of the dairies were low. About as low as the reports of dirt in the milk and the bacterial counts lead one to expect.

There was a fair amount of cheating. Sixty-one of the samples coming from forty-five dairies were shown to have been watered. Six samples of what was sold as whole milk were found to have been skimmed.

In the year in which this survey was made 36,000 cows were examined by the tuberculin test. Most of the milk was far warmer than milk can be in justice to the product and with safety to the infant consumer. The dairymen producing milk for the Louisiana market appear to be sufficiently alive to the advantage of tuberculin testing. They are not properly cleanly in their methods of milking and of marketing milk. They need to improve these methods if they are to develop a great dairy industry. They do not use pasteurization to make their product safe to a degree that the method is used elsewhere. The report says:

"Clean, safe milk requires:

"1. Clean barns and milk houses.

"2. Cows kept clean and free from disease.

"3. Healthy, clean operators.

"4. Steam (or hot water) and cold water for cleansing utensils, containers, and cows.

POISONED BY CARBON MONOXIDE.

T. O. writes: My office is in a garage where there is always some odor of gas. One day when I forgot to open a window I became so weak that I had to be revived with drugs and taken home. I had a splitting headache and lost my dinner. Then I had such a bad chill that it was almost impossible for them to break it. Then I became so weak I could not talk loud and I felt numb and a creeping sensation in my hands, feet and head. I kept very still so as not to waste energy as the creeping began in the chest, too. I did not eat or drink until the next day. I get weak and exhausted when I talk now. How can I overcome it?

REPLY.

You should get all right if you will change your office. I assume that your statements are facts and therefrom I conclude that you are suffering from chronic carbon monoxide poisoning. You appear to have gotten a heavy dose of the poison the day you forgot to leave the window open. If you forget again you may never remember thereafter—that is, if you are not a follower of Conan Doyle.

WOULDN'T HARM EYES.

Miss H. R. writes: I am a bookkeeper and stenographer working in a well lighted (daylight) office. Have been offered a better position with a firm, but must first work in a well lighted (artificial) office for about a year.

My eyesight is good now and I do not wear glasses; would artificial light harm my eyes in any way?

REPLY.

Probably not.

PLANTS IN SLEEPING ROOM.

F. O. W. writes: Is it healthful to have plants in a sleeping room?

REPLY.

As a rule it is.

Unless the air of the room is reasonably moist and cool the plants will die. They will not thrive unless some sunlight gets into the room. Therefore a plant in a bedroom is a fair meter for measuring livability.

Plants add a little moisture to air. Some of the water evaporates from the leaves and some from the moist earth required by the plant. Therefore plants add a little to the wholesomeness of the air.

A few people are unduly sensitive to plant odors. Such people should not have plants in their bedroom.

CHICAGO AND CALUMET RIVERS.

Valley City, N. D., March 7.—[Friend of the People.]—I had a discussion about the depth of the Chicago river, the other party claiming that vessels drawing thirty feet of water can navigate it, while I claim not over fifteen feet, and usually nearer ten feet. Will be obliged if you will settle this question. J. J. C.

The projected navigable depth of Chicago and Calumet rivers and harbors is twenty-one feet, which permits, under normal conditions, a boat draft of twenty feet. In the south branch of the Chicago river the sanitary district is required to maintain twenty-six feet depth over the central 100 feet of width of the channel; thus this portion of the Chicago river is in excess of the project depth. W. J. LYNCH, Harbor Master.

NORTH DAKOTA MORTGAGE.

Peoria, Ill., March 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am one of many victims of a farm mortgage firm. I bought this mortgage of a bank in and while a resident of Arkansas. The land is in North Dakota, but the mortgage firm is located in Minneapolis. I now am a resident here. How can I bring suit against the firm and should I also include the bank? S. S.

We do not understand upon what facts you would base your suit. If it is merely the default of the mortgage, you should place it in the hands of your local attorney, to forward to a North Dakota attorney for foreclosure. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ALLEY CLEANED.

Chicago, March 8.—[Friend of the People.]—Please have some one with authority call and inspect the alley located north of Wabansia, between Hermitage and Paulina. I have to drive my car through this alley and am getting tired of having to remove old bottles, decayed vegetables, and ashes which are dumped in the middle of the alley. M. J. S.

Alley complained of is an unimproved one and at date of complaint was receiving weekly service, having been cleaned a few days previous to letter being written. In the meantime there has been a strike of team owners, etc., but work has been resumed and alley was thoroughly cleaned on March 5.

As alley is an unimproved one, I should suggest that property owners request the alderman to take action to start paving proceedings. THOMAS H. BYRNE, Superintendent of Streets.

A SIMPLE WILL.

Wheeling, Ill., March 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I would like to make a will. It will be a simple affair, and am asking your advice as to how to go about it? Would it be sufficient to write out what I wish and swear to it before a notary? Or are there printed forms on which I could make out my statements? A. E.

You can secure a printed form from a stationer, but we strongly advise employing an attorney in the drafting and execution of so important a document.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1865.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Gen. Dodge has received a dispatch from Gen. R. B. Mitchell, at Fort Kearney, stating that the Indians attacked the soldiers 130 miles east of Fort Laramie.

NEWBERN, N. C.—Company B of the 4th North Carolina confederate cavalry came into the Union lines in a body, with their two lieutenants and their horses and equipment, and delivered themselves up to the commanding officers at Camp Palmer. They were given a bountiful feast, and said if the rest of the confederate army knew how well they had been treated there would be a general rush to surrender.

NEW YORK.—Gen. Sherman has written to Wade Hampton, commanding the cavalry forces of the confederate army, as follows: "It is officially reported to me that our foraging parties are murdered after capture and labeled 'Death to all foragers.' I have a number of prisoners in our hands to be disposed of in like manner. I have about 1,000 prisoners, captured in various ways, and can stand it about as long as you, but I hardly think these murders were committed with your knowledge and would suggest that you give notice to the people at large that every life taken by them simply results in the death of one of your confederates." To this Hampton responded that for every soldier executed by Sherman he will execute two federals, picking out officers as the first victims.

CHICAGO.—Samuel N. Calkin and Miss Adelia George were married by the Rev. Dr. T. M. Eddy. In Racine, Wis., L. S. Charlette of Chicago and Miss Lizzie Smethurst of Racine were married by the Rev. A. D. Benedict.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1900.

TOPEKA, Kas.—The Rev. C. M. Sheldon's newspaper, edited as Christ would edit it, was published here today. All crime news was barred, market and financial news of a speculative nature was omitted, and a prayer was run on the front page. The leading stories were a plea for a home for tubercular patients, the famine in India, an indictment of war, and an article tending to show prohibition has been a success in Kansas.

CHICAGO.—The engineering committee of the drainage board, composed of all the sanitary trustees, adopted resolutions declaring for the assumption of control of the main channel and the south branch of the Chicago river, the removal of all center pier bridges, and their replacement by draws of bascule type.

LONDON.—The British war office has received a dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing that Gen. French reached Bloemfontein and occupied two hills close to the railway station, from which he drove the Boers.

DUBLIN.—William Redmond, M. P., has written to the clerk of the corporation protesting against the proposed address of welcome to Queen Victoria and expressing his intention of resigning his seat in the council if the address is presented.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—After stewing over the matter for a couple of days, Republican senators have nearly reached an agreement over the Porto Rican bill. This is a temporary triumph for Senator Foraker.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1915.

LONDON. — The British auxiliary cruiser Bayano was sunk off Corsewall Point, Scotland, and so far as is known only 32 of the crew of 216 were saved. Eighteen of these were rescued from a raft by a passing steamer. Other steamers picked up fourteen from two life boats.

WASHINGTON.—John B. McManus, formerly of Chicago, was slain in Mexico City by Zapata's soldiers as he endeavored to defend his home over which flew the United States flag. On receipt of the news the cabinet took the matter up and Secretary of State Bryan immediately made a demand on Zapata for the punishment of the murderers and reparation for McManus' death. About fifty-five Americans have been killed in Mexico since the beginning of the Wilson administration.

PARIS.—President Poincare made a short trip to the Aisne front, visiting the sick and wounded in advanced base hospitals.

CHICAGO. — Robert M. Sweitzer, Democratic candidate for mayor, charged that William Hale Thompson, the Republican nominee, is the specially preferred candidate of William Lorimer. Thompson, in answering the charge, declared he has never received a single favor, political or otherwise, from Lorimer.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

MONOTONE.

We are the ones who cut the days,—the years,
From the vast pattern of infinity.
A moment's happiness,—a moment's tears,
We spin into the slender threads that cling
To other hours of some forgotten spring,
With weblike artistry.

We name the days so we may always know
Which leaf to tear from off eternity,
And mark exactly with what speed we go
Upon our way, as: "Twenty years last June
It was we kissed beneath that laughing moon."
"That many? . . . Can it be?"

But our small cycle whirls itself apace
With other bubbles flung into the sun,
Reflecting, for a second, lights that trace
A patchwork, like dead leaves upon the grass,
Of little lives that dream and sigh . . . and pass,

Grace B. Starbuck.

CHARLES B. WARREN'S name was sent back to the senate yesterday by the President. It is understood that ten White House messengers, fully equipped with alarm clocks, gongs, bells, tin pans, police whistles, and firecrackers have been stationed outside of the room where Charley Dawes takes his nap. At a telephone signal from the capitol that the senate is about to vote again on the confirmation of Mr. Warren the ten messengers from the White House will do their darndest.

We'll Bite. What Does Chicago Think of Henry?

R. H. L.: Mencken frequently admits that Chicago is the literary capital of America. Why not find out what Chicago thinks of Mencken? I, for one, think Mencken is the foremost literary figure in America, and, although somewhat Nietzschean, is original enough to pass muster for the first genius America has produced in letters since Mark Twain. Let's have a Mencken Derby. See what Chicago thinks. CHOLLY BLACKSTONE.

It's His Living.

RHL: Stop this awful discussion of the word "folks." Think how you are hurting Eddie Guest's feelin's. ISI OF LOVEJOY LANE.

CAL doesn't care a whoop about the Friday the 13th hoodoo. He sent in Warren's name yesterday and it will come before the committee and perhaps before the senate today—Friday the 13th. Well, we're just like Cal—in that respect anyhow—we're starting for Davenport this evening and we land there before the sinister day is done. But MacKinlay Kantor is wearing around his neck the left hind leg of a rabbit, shot in a country graveyard by a cross-eyed African at midnight. And Lun Dee's got a horseshoe that she picked up yesterday in Rush street, and Bitterroot Bill is going to keep his fingers crossed until we get safe into the Blackhawk hotel, on the other side of the Mississippi. Who cares for Friday the 13th? On to Davenport!

Bet He Ran a Beauty Parlor.

RHL: Has that dear Plain Jane never heard what a certain Frenchman said of women? "There are no homely women. There are only those who do not know how to look pretty!" XAN.

OUT IN DAVENPORT.

To Grenia: As the old poet said, I, too, have dwelt in Arcadia. I, too, used to coast down Fillmore street hill, and on steep Tremont avenue and in the great Tenth street dip from the cathedral down—and up—to Arlington. And I've picnicked out in Devil's Glen and gone nutting in old Camp McClellan before the millionaires bought it up and built their palaces all over it—and I've gone swimming in Duck Creek back of Oakdale, and hiked out the dusty Orphans' Home road to pick wild flowers back of lonesome Pine Hill cemetery. Ah! Them was the days! And when you remind me of the birds singing on the island, and the grand sweep of the Mississippi, and the plowing old ferry, where you can still ride all day for a quarter—well, all I can say is, stop, dearie, you're a-breakin' of my heart!

I like to go down there in Maytime, when the old river is at its best, and the yards and gardens look all dressed up, and the flowers and girls are blooming together—on Decoration day when the faithful, bent old boys—and now a lot of sturdy, serious, younger ones—march up to the monument on Main street—to show they still remember.

And maybe it's best that RHL and his troupe are going down there in bleak March—for if they ever went down in May, and saw the woods around Fejervary park, and the green knolls back of Bettendorf, and that majestic panorama of curving river, green island, and wooded hills that you get from Lookout, they'd never, NEVER want to leave there, would they now? You tell 'em, Grenia—I'm choking. FELIX.

'Ere's Yer Daily Congresshunel Reckerd.

R. H. L.: May I venture the suggestion that now Charley has attracted so much attention to the senate the Congressional Record is sure to become one of the six best sellers of 1925? And the newsboys will be selling it on the streets. "CAR."

"A RURAL POET somewhere in the corn belt of the middle west," is the way the Portland Oregonian refers to our MacKinlay Kantor, the author of "Floyd Collins' Cave." This won't please Iowa a bit, still the folks ("folks," Hank, not "folk") out there would be gratified if they read the whole article, which is a column long editorial. One paragraph reads:

> MacKinlay Kantor is a rural poet somewhere in the corn belt of the middle west. Nobody ever heard of him before. Yet his ballad, "Floyd Collins' Cave," first printed in the Line o' Type column of The Chicago Tribune, has startled the slumbering critics, in a manner of speaking. They are saying that it should be given honored place in the next anthology of American verse.

We Won't—But Don't Take 'Em Off. Not Yet. Not Yet.

RHL: Except for always killing the guy who leans against my chair when I'm playing poker and a few other little things like that, I'm not, generally speaking, a superstitious guy, but I do believe, with such an infinite belief, that all that not yet—not yet stuff of yours about a year ago had something to do with the dearth of spring and summer in 1924. So, oh migawd, please, old thing, don't harp on it again this year. Oh, please, sir, don't. GALENA PETE.

OLD SID SUTHERLAND has been worrying ever since people began leaping on Mel-O'D when he wrote, "The sound of some one laughing up their sleeve." For days and days Sid hunted and yesterday he brought in Oscar Wilde's Lady Windermere's Fan and pointed proudly to a paragraph towards the end of Act III.

DUMBY: Experience is the name every one gives to their mistakes.

Cut 'Em in Thirds.

R. H. L.: Here's a sad story, mates. With three in the family we could be happy, but the wife is worrying herself old before her time figuring on how to serve two grapefruit for breakfast and come out even on them. Wot'll I do? ANSCHUETZ.

But We Cannot Reprint.

R. H. L.: Either reprint or send me a copy of MacKinlay Kantor's "Floyd Collins' Cave" and Colorado Pete's "Chicago Gal," or I'll burn my Line Scrapbook and I'll never read the Line again. MY O'MY.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN! This is Friday the Thirteenth. R. H. L.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FOR MORE RADIO ADDRESSES.

Iowa City, Ia., March 5.—I firmly believe the inauguration address of President Coolidge went farther to inspire Americanism and to restore confidence in the minds of the American people than anything yet attempted along this line. Radio made this possible. If it were not an imposition on our President, how logical it might be to hear a message from our chief executive occasionally over the radio, that millions might get his words of inspiration and good advice, all of which would prove of the greatest help to our country and of vast benefit to our social, moral, and commercial conditions. The younger generation who were privileged to hear President Coolidge yesterday will profit by his words of wisdom and become better citizens. ROBERT N. CARSON.

SURE! GO TO IT.

New York, March 9.—Have read the writeup which you gave "Quo Vadis" in your issue dated March 6 with a great deal of interest, and wish to express our thanks for the splendid things you said about the picture.

It is our desire to take excerpts of this article, and, together with the heading of your paper—namely: CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE—have the back of our letterheads imprinted. Have we your permission to do this? A. W. SMITH, Department of Distribution, First National Pictures.

"HAS SHE EVER STOOD NINE WEARY HOURS?"

Chicago, March 5.—A. D., with hours 9 to 5 and an hour for lunch, opposes the eight hour law for women because it seems once in three months A. D. must work overtime. Thousands of women might be benefited by the eight hour law, but once every quarter it would inconvenience A. D.; therefore she frowns upon it. Such generosity of spirit, such far-seeing vision!

Has she ever, day after day, stood nine weary hours at a machine where the work has become so familiar and monotonous that it exhausts not only physically but mentally?

All the laws, all the preaching, and all the greed in the world can't make woman man's equal physically, yet to woman falls the greatest of all work. Other tasks fade into insignificance. A nation can have no greater asset than strong limbed, clear eyed youth, and it's a wise nation that guards its women.

What are ten thousand labels or a thousand more paper boxes glued compared to the smile of a rosy, dimpled baby? When all's said and done, humanity demands the passing of that law.

No, A. D., the passing of the eight hour law wouldn't noticeably lighten your load, but there are others—there are others who might get a little more out of life if it went through.

As for the extra money earned, it in time would find its way to the doctor, another example of "penny wise and pound foolish." ALICE CARLETON.

NOT A BIT PIGGISH.

Chicago, March 12.—In a long ride, say on an express run, where we sit the whole time while others stand, don't we sometimes feel a little bit piggish? So why not take turns? It could be done very nicely and easily. When we get tired of sitting, why not stand up, so that if there is any chance to get seats they may have a chance to get seats? Often a few minutes' rest means a great deal. It might be a convenient way to escape roasting over the hot pipes that often do double duty under the car seats. Or a draft might be better for us. Giving up part of our ride would mean our getting a seat another time when we might be tired and glad of the opportunity. All we need is to establish the precedent. Turn about is fair play. GERTRUDE CHARNY.

SUPREME COURT LIMITS DEBATE.

Chicago, March 9.—No logical argument can be made against that part of the Vice President's inaugural address which recommended modification of the rules of the senate to prevent the defeat of necessary legislation by filibustering tactics.

In the Supreme court of the United States one hour is allowed each side to argue a case, even those involving the most important constitutional questions, and no one has ever charged that the limit of one hour resulted in injustice.

The outstanding example of the filibustering of the senate to prevent the passing of legislation was when La Follette and a few other senators succeeded in holding up for many hours the declaration of war against Germany. JOHN E. HUGHES.

MANNERS IN THE THEATER.

Chicago, March 10.—Being but a humble foreigner and having not as yet acquired the superiority complex of the American, I doubt whether it is in my talent to give my opinions the earmarks of the cocksureness so common to the Americans in order to convince you of the soundness of my cursing of an American audience seeing "Blossom Time."

"Blossom Time" is the first musical play that I have attended in this country and I went there with the expectation of listening, undisturbed, to the divine melodies of Franz Schubert. But how I was disappointed!

The overture was being played and persons around me babbled about their next door neighbors, the radio, Rudolph Valentino, and other such fancies of the mob intellect. It did not stop until the curtain rose. After having beheld every detail of the costumes, the actors, and actresses, the grunting began anew.

I was aflame with indignation, but I subdued my ardent desire to cut this fellow's vile tongue by thinking that a hog could not speak otherwise.

Over in Europe, the home of the barbarians, where occasionally a man whips a woman if her instincts become too pronounced and where great wars are fought, there I have never met with a theater audience displaying such vulgarity. HERMAN SCHREIBER.

THE COST OF MARRIAGE.

Oak Park, Ill., March 10.—"A Reader" must be a disappointed bachelor, for who else would fasten all the blame on the female of the species?

The writer personally knows twenty young married couples, 50 per cent of the wives working, some retaining their office work, others moving beauty parlors and dressmaking shops into their new apartments. Very few of them invest their earnings in jewelry and none boasts a maid.

Most of them use the budget system, taking more interest in watching the bank account grow than in the acquiring of new dresses, spending evenings by the radio instead of the theaters. With the present high prices in rents, food, clothing, etc., "A Reader" will have to admit that it requires real courage on the part of both man and woman to marry. There are hundreds of girls in Chicago willing to be a helpmate. ANOTHER READER—AND A WIFE.

JUST A SONG AT TWILIGHT.

Chicago, March 9.—It would add greatly to the pleasure and comfort of the patrons of recitals and concerts if the custom of having the auditorium lighted during the program were discontinued. The glare of the awful yellow lights that stud the interior of the Auditorium theater is distracting and irritating. This glare is increased by the reflection from hundreds of white programs in the laps of patrons on the main floor.

Music heard in twilight or darkness has an added charm. THE GALLERIES.

OF JANNINGS AND CHARLIE.

Chicago, March 5.—The editorial in which Emil Jannings is given credit for being "the screen's greatest actor" is fitting, if somewhat belated. Since our first glimpses of him in "Passion" and "Gypsy Blood" some of us have not been so tardy in our appreciation. Over here we worship personality; in art excellence is of secondary importance.

Your editorial on the lastness of Charles Chaplin I do not agree with. Coming to Sennett studios for a second rate vaudeville act, Chaplin was glad to work for $75 per week. In the next two years he made no less than twenty-six Keystone comedies, each a classic. Prosperity has transformed the one time drudge of the Keystone studios into Charles Spencer Chaplin, playboy and dilettante. And who would not be the same under similar conditions? JAY DEE SEE.

Elmer Draws Marvels from Aerial Lanes

Praises Some and Pans Some Others.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

At this moment this recorder of aerial facts and fancies is in the midst of a sea of conflicting emotions.

There were programs to philosophise upon; one important and almost national broadcast to think twice over before speaking; one brilliant vocal satellite by surprise sweeping the aerial heavens; one concert that put a lock on dial turning for a half hour; a soprano and a tenor who should be gently reminded of wabbly, wabbling voices.

Arthur Gutaw's Chicago theater organ WMAQ program furnished the musical accompaniment to a movie for the visible audiences and furnished a typical operatic overture for this listener, for in it there were bright, happy sketches in the major key, sad, yearning moments in the minor key, triumphant marches, pauses and watch-your-step moments, spectacular chord formations preparatory to ——. The announcer suddenly switched us to the Hotel La Salle concert orchestra, the first number being the "Orpheus" overture by Offenbach. The one leads into the other ultimately anyhow, doesn't it? Anyhow, that's that.

Thirteen stations broadcast the first popular Victor company concert from 8 to 9. Whether the "thirteen" or the "popular" looked too ominous for WMAQ is for conjecture. Anyhow, WMAQ was not in the chain last night. Naturally, this popular program was as an entertainment, but most interesting because of the ever conscious feeling of being numbered among an audience of—I don't suppose one can say of millions as yet.

Back to Chicago at 8:37, hearing a coloratura soprano at W-G-N sailing around high up in air in a marvelous, breath taking way. It was Viva Athelia. Her next number was given as "Invitation Waltz Song," and she went up and sailed around in the air in a similarly marvelous way once again. It turned out that this was a part of the musical program provided at the annual banquet of the signal section of the American Railway association at the Drake hotel.

Our next room neighbor, J. L. Jenkins, TRIBUNE automobile editor, started taking us on a trip to the Yellowstone national park, but there's a limit——

While sailing around through the east at about 9:15 I heard a lady announcer. One always listens a while to a lady announcer. I listened long enough to find that the station was WEAO, Cleveland. A ladies' orchestra played "Rose Marie" in fine style.

The best concert last night was by the Edgewater Glee club of the Edgewater Presbyterian church, WMAQ, 9:15 to 10. This organization of singers was first heard from WEBH recently, where their rare qualities as soloists and choristers were instantly recognized. It is not always that good choral societies have equally fine soloists. Here all the units were in absolute tonal harmony, the one with all the others, which, with their choice program, made this a concert of unusual merit, and, likewise, unusually enjoyable.

COOLIDGE IDEAL PRESIDENT, SAYS WILLIAM HARD

Calvin Coolidge is an ideal President, attending only to the President's business and allowing other people to take care of theirs, William Hard, a newspaper man, told the members of the Chicago Woman's Athletic club yesterday morning in an address, "Washington from Within."

Mr. Hard has been a Washington correspondent for many years, and he told to the clubwomen his own views which he has gained as a newspaper man "behind the scenes."

Next to Paulina Longworth and Charles G. Dawes, Coolidge is the most interesting figure in Washington, Mr. Hard said. "I am a great admirer of the President, because he does not demand writers to treat him in a flattering manner. I believe Calvin Coolidge is the perfect example of an absolutely scrupulous, constitutional President."

Resume O'Banion Death Inquest on March 17

Following a conference with the Rev. Elmer L. Williams, foreman of the coroner's jury investigating the death of Dean O'Banion, slain florist-gunman, Chief Deputy Coroner Charles Fitzner yesterday announced the inquest would be resumed on March 17. Mr. Fitzner said he hoped to complete the case at that time.

CARDINALS URGE LABOR TACTICS IN FRENCH ROW

PARIS, March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—France's eight cardinals and archbishops have published a manifesto regarding the "so-called nondenominational laws, and the measures to be taken to combat them." The document protests against the injustice of these laws and envisages two forms of attack against them.

One is to make the best of the existing laws until they fall into disuse.

The other is to take a leaf out of the book of the Socialists, communists and workmen's functionaries, who, says the document, "march in a body to the doors of city halls, prefectures and ministries, send protests, delegations and ultimatums to the authorities, resort to all sorts of proceedings, even to strikes, and besiege and harry the government, which almost always ends by giving in to their urgings."

GIRL FREED; ASSAILS POLICE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PEKING, March 12.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen's body has been placed in a Chinese made coffin and will repose for the next two or three weeks in Central park, Peking, for public view. He expressed a desire for a coffin like that of Nicolai Lenin, which has been ordered by wire from Moscow. After its arrival a great funeral will be held in Peking, after which he will be entombed on top of Tiger hill, Nanking, where the revolution of 1911 began.

Throat raw?

Endorsed by more than 10,000 physicians

"Only a sore throat" means that germs are at work—poisoning your whole body.

Give it continuous antiseptic treatment at once—not just a gargle night and morning.

Formamint releases in the throat a powerful yet safe antiseptic that keeps up the germicidal action long enough really to kill germs. And this all-day-long treatment clears up the trouble as the action of a spray or gargle cannot do.

To prevent infection take a Formamint tablet about every two hours.

Ask your druggist.

VITA-SULPHUR
No Fuss—No Muss

WHAT PROMINENT PHYSICIANS SAY:

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, former Health Commissioner of New York, famous for his writings on health, says:

"If your tendency is to increase weight, you cannot stop it without freely perspiring every day."

"It is because excessive weight reduces the health and span of life, that I am opposed to it."

Now, there is nothing better to cause perspiration freely, at the right time—every day, and making sure of reducing flesh, harmlessly and successfully, without exercises or starvation, than "VITA-SULPHUR" (liquid) in your bath at home.

Dr. R. B. T. Sweany, 2135 Michigan Ave., Chicago, writes:

"I know of nothing safer and better than VITA-SULPHUR baths for those who have taken on excessive flesh and desire to reduce."

"For sufferers from rheumatism, gout, sciatica, neuritis, eczema and kindred skin eruptions, and who cannot afford the time and money it costs to avail themselves of the curative baths at our various sulphur spring resorts, there is in my opinion, based upon my experience of many years of hospital practice, no better home remedy than these VITA-SULPHUR BATHS. They are harmless, inexpensive, and accomplish results."

"VITA-SULPHUR" (liquid) is freely endorsed by physicians, and thousands of users testify that they have genuinely benefited by its use.

HOUSE BALLED UP ON VOTE AGAINST CASHACCOUNTING

It Seems No One Made a Motion; New Test Seen.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., March 12.—[Special.]—Some one forgot to "touch second" yesterday after the Demo-Republican state forces in the Illinois house of representatives clouted the Devine economy amendment to the rules.

That amendment, requiring reports from all state departments on their biennial expenditures, was walloped, 91 to 45—but everybody on the winning team was so keenly watching the ball in flight that nobody turned an eye to the sacks it was necessary to cross in order to put the score permanently on record.

No one remembered to make a motion for adoption of the majority report of the committee on rules. The printed journal appeared today and shows the omission plainly.

Motion's Not in the Journal.

Following the recital that the minority report, presented by Representatives John P. Devine and Arthur Roe, was tabled, the journal proceeds:

"The question recurring on adoption of the majority report, it was decided in the affirmative."

There are those who say that the implied viva voce vote was not even taken, and there are others just as insistent that it was taken. Regardless of that question, there is general recollection that nobody offered any motion to concur in the majority report. And this is substantiated by the journal. It contains no mention of such a motion. The only motion recorded was the motion to table the Devine-Roe amendment on which the roll call was taken.

This discovery is considered important, as it is believed to offer opportunity for another test roll call. Adoption of the rules requires not only a majority of those present but the full "constitutional majority" of those elected, 77, and the theory is that yesterday's majority of 91 would at least be reduced materially if the question again were put to a vote.

May Ask Vote Next Week.

Whether such a test will be attempted will not be determined until next week. Minority Leader Roe kept his secret to himself today while the imperfect journal was formally approved, and after conferring with those who backed him and Devine may decide on a try for a showdown next Tuesday.

This discovery provided the chief thrill of the closing day of the week's legislation. The most important event of the day, however, was the introduction by Senator Frederick B. Roos of Forest Park, Cook county, of a bill to revolutionize completely the method of electing the Chicago drainage board.

Roos' proposal is that instead of an election of the nine drainage trustees-at-large from the entire sanitary district, the district shall be cut up into nine voting districts, each electing its own member of the board. His plan would give at least two and probably three trustees to the country towns in the district outside the city of Chicago.

Those country towns have no representatives on the board, and Roos' move is avowedly an effort to give them a voice. It is predicted that both regular Republican and Democratic county organizations will seek to block the move.

Would Upset Some Trustees.

Six of the present drainage trustees come from the west side, all living in one of the nine voting districts proposed by Roos. President L. F. King, a Republican, would have to run in a Democratic south side district if Roos' plan went into effect, and Trustee James M. Whales, a Democrat, also a south sider, would find himself in Republican territory. Trustee Frank J. Link, the ninth man, is a resident of the north side, which, under the Roos plan, would be all one district. But his term runs to 1930, while under the Roos plan he would have to run again in 1928 or drop out two years later.

In the house Representative Norman G. Flagg introduced a measure presenting an issue on which he has been battling for years—that of compelling treasurers of counties, cities, school boards, park boards, and similar local bodies, to turn over all interest collected on public funds. This time it has the backing of the Illinois chamber of commerce and is believed to have a chance.

OLSON CALLS IN ALDERMAN AND JUDGE FOR FACTS

Walker and Assailant to Compare Tales.

CHIEF JUSTICE OLSON.

Tumult continued yesterday over the run-out given Ald. Stanley Adamkiewicz by Judge Henry M. Walker's bailiffs and the subsequent demand of the city council for an insanity test of the judge.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court opened an investigation into the incident, heard the story of the alderman and the version of the jurist and late last night announced that this afternoon he will bring them face to face in his office and hear them both together.

Julge Walker after telling his version, employed counsel to look up the slander laws, and passed the rest of the day preparing a statement he is to make public this afternoon.

Fire from Both Sides.

There appear to be prospects of bombardment from both sides.

Ald. Adamkiewicz during the day was rallying his colleagues of the council around him for an attempt to bring about the impeachment of Judge Walker through the legislature, by the insanity test already demanded, or both, should he fail to get what he considers proper aid from Judge Olson.

Judge Walker in the meantime was preparing to assail the city council with a dose of its own medicine in the form of a resolution introduced on Dec. 10 by Ald. Donald S. McKinlay and passed unanimously.

Aimed at Fixers.

This resolution was aimed particularly at fixing courts by members of the city council and other officials and challenges the judges to expose all such fixers, while they call upon the state's attorney to "indict and punish wherever the facts justify it all persons who shall attempt to interfere with the course of justice."

Judge Walker says he will toss that back into the face of the city council and ask how it likes it.

Two Stories Differ.

Judge Olson said he made arrangements to bring the two protagonists of the stormy court scene face to face because their versions as told to him today differed materially and he wishes to have each man tell him again while the other is present so that he may judge for himself what is the truth of the matter.

"I am sure when I confront each with the other I will know whose version is true and whose isn't," Justice Olson said.

"Judge Walker tells me that Ald. Adamkiewicz came into his court to intercede in a speeder's case. The alderman denies this. He claims he was not there in a speeder's case at all, but that he had gone on a bond and was standing up near the desk to testify as to his reputation and that he was in a hurry in order to get away to attend council.

Praises Alderman.

"I don't know what to think. I have high regard for Ald. Adamwiewicz as a fine type of councilman. Perhaps Judge Walker spoke carelessly or acted a bit rashly. I wouldn't be surprised, though, if the judge were preparing a lot of slander suits against some of these fellows who have been making charges high and wide about him.

"I'll determine today whether Judge Walker is to be censured. If it proves so, the matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Municipal court judges on the last Friday of the month for action."

What appeared to sting the alderman even more than the undignified rush given him by the husky bailiffs was the judge's admonition, as the alderman will have it, that "alderman and bums look alike to me."

May Seek Evidence.

So sorely wounded are Councilman Adamkiewicz's feelings by these words that he said yesterday his method of seeking the jurist's impeachment from the legislature may take first the form of collecting evidence through the city council judiciary committee.

Should this body so sit at the behest of Adamkiewicz, it would hold its sessions in the council chambers and invite anybody and everybody who has ever had an experience with justice as administered by Judge Walker to give testimony under oath.

And Ald. Adamkiewicz in his demands for redress has at least one ardent sympathizer, it is learned, in Titus A. Haffa, leader in the Brundage-Crowe-Barrett organization of the Republican party.

For Haffa, too, for all his power in politics, was given the same rush-out as the alderman by Judge Walker's pugnacoius bailiffs and he felt so keenly about it that he indulged in hot words and almost fisticuffs in Judge Walker's court yesterday.

4 out of 5 get Pyorrhea

The law of averages is immutable. Dental statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are marred by Pyorrhea. Do you want to escape?

It takes healthy gums to keep healthy teeth

If you neglect your gums—let them get in a "run-down" condition—you may soon be numbered among Pyorrhea's countless victims.

Bleeding gums are Nature's first warning. Then the gums begin to recede, lose that rich, healthy-pink color. Poisons collect in pus pockets and often drain through the entire system, causing indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious diseases of mid-life. In the final stages the teeth loosen and fall out.

Take no chances—use Forhan's

If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea, or check its progress—something ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to do. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession in the treatment of Pyorrhea). It is safe, efficient and pleasant tasting. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line

No Need to Tolerate Gray Hair any Longer

You Can Restore the Former Shade with Kolor-Bak

The clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, has enabled thousands of men and women to take years from their appearance by restoring the original shade to their gray hair.

The following is a letter typical of many written in praise of this remarkable preparation.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger. No wonder I'm so thankful for Kolor-Bak."

Authorities state that hair turns gray when for any reason it fails to receive the proper amount of coloring matter from the cells in the scalp. No matter what the cause of the grayness, it is amazing to see how quickly Kolor-Bak brings back the former shade. It is the best known substitute for the natural pigmentation.

Kolor-Bak is not sticky, greasy, mussy or unpleasant to use. It is just a clean, colorless liquid containing ingredients known to be beneficial to hair and scalp—as easy to use as water. Results often appear in a week.

It not only restores the former shade to the hair; it banishes dandruff, prevents itching of the scalp and stops falling of the hair.

No samples of your hair required—no tests necessary—as this one clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Money back instantly if desired results do not appear.

Greets New Envoy and Lauds Ebert.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—Declaring that Germany was once more set in the path of prosperity and peace, President Coolidge today officially welcomed Baron Ago von Maltzan, the new German ambassador, and expressed the hope that he would profit by a study of our experience of a century and a half of democratic government.

The new representative of Germany thanked the President for the work of American citizens in the economic and financial reconstruction of his country.

"I gratefully recall the generous activities of American citizens in social and cultural help, and the farseeing work of financial and economic reconstruction, bearing an American name which has become historical," he said.

Gets Ebert's Message.

"The last order of the deceased president of the reich was to express to you, Mr. President, his feelings of high personal esteem and his sincere wish for the welfare of the United States of America."

"It is for you to interpret to America the just aspirations of your nation," said President Coolidge in reply. "It is for you to promote the understanding which is the only sound basis of lasting peace.

"We have had a long history as a republic, and we hope that you may profit by a study of our experience of a century and a half of democratic government.

"President Ebert succeeded because his vision was clearly fixed on right and duty, because he was a man naturally of great ability and had within him the power of growth which made him year by year a greater force. He succeeded also because he had the support of men and of good will."

Houghton Sees Germany Gaining.

Both in its economic and political life Germany has made marked strides, according to Alanson B. Houghton, former ambassador to that country and now ambassador to Great Britain, who left today for a visit to his home in Corning, N. Y., after being a White House guest for several days.

In spite of its economic advances, Germany still has a long way to go, however, before it regains its old position of wealth and power in the commercial world, Ambassador Houghton pointed out.

If the German people, two-thirds of whom are republicans, go back to some form of monarchy in the distant future, said the ambassador, "it will be a greatly diluted monarchy." Germany is disarmed and living up to the peace treaty, he asserted.

GRAND DRAGON OF KLAN CHARGES $50,000 SLANDER

Charles G. Palmer, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, realm of Illinois, through his attorney, C. D. Fithian, yesterday filed suit for $50,000 damages from Mrs. Fannie Robinson Carter of East St. Louis, major kleagle of the women's auxiliary of the Illinois klan.

Suit for the same amount was brought against Mrs. Carter by Grand Dragon Palmer's wife, Mrs. Mary J. Palmer. The Palmers live at 3844 Alta Vista terrace.

Only praecipes in the suits were filed, but Mr. Fithian declared yesterday that he would soon file declarations in which he will charge Mrs. Carter with slander.

Open Office Here for Visiting Purchasing Agents

In an office for the convenience of visiting purchasing agents Chicago now has the only establishment of its kind in the country, according to F. C. Boggess, president of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Chicago. The announcement was made last night at a banquet of the association in the Auditorium hotel. The office has been opened at 14 East Jackson boulevard to give visiting agents any information they desire concerning the Chicago market.

FASCISTI CALL A BIG STRIKE IN NORTHERN ITALY

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, March 12.—For the first time since the Fascisti took over the Italian government and told the world they were ending industrial strife and supplanting class struggle with patriotic unity and coöperation, they have called a strike of metal workers, which involves 15,000 men, in northern Italy

From a political as well as industrial viewpoint the strike marks the birth of a new idea in fascism, which, according to best informed observers, may have far reaching results, affecting the future of the nation.

Beginning in Brescia, with a few thousand, it was looked on as an usual strike, but soon the Fascisti, who controlled the union calling the walkout changed its character. They called out men in Milan and other cities, and when the employers failed to accede to the terms they attempted to turn the action into a revolutionary strike.

Fascisti Threaten Force.

Thus, today the strike leaders issued a warning to the metal manufacturers' association which reads just like communistic or radical threats in other countries. The warning concludes:

"The black shirts used force to crush the Socialist labor unions, and now the black shirts can use their power against your association."

The Roman press is deeply impressed with the new turn of the Fascisti labor movement. Only yesterday Premier Mussolini's brother, Arnaldo, made a speech denying that fascism was started and supported by the northern industrialists and therefore was a tool of the employers against the employés. This has been the general belief in Italy.

Seek Socialist Aid.

Another feature of the metal workers' strike is that the Fascist unionists have asked the remnants of the Socialist unions to join in their proclamation.

Well informed observers believe it is the beginning of a separation of fascism from its industrialist backers — bankers, manufacturers, automobile makers, steamship line owners, and others whose existence was threatened by bolshevism in 1920.

Seek Jurors to Close Double Murder Inquest

Plans to close the inquest, begun long ago into the deaths of John Duffy and Mabel Exley Duffy, whose murders marked the opening of the almost forgotten beer war, failed yesterday when police reported their inability to locate two members of the coroner's jury impaneled to make the investigation. Deputy Coroner Charles Kennedy continued the inquest until March 19.

Vassar Students Forbid Smoking by Themselves

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 12.—[Special.]—At a meeting attended by all the students of Vassar this evening, the new code of social rules was launched, forbidding smoking or the use of hired automobiles, and leaves of absence from the college.

ANSPACH'S WIFE BRINGS HIM BACK; HINT AT ROBBERY

N. H. Anspach, vice president of the Chicago Railway Printing company, is to leave New Orleans today for Chicago.

Anspach was moved from the Presbyterian hospital in New Orleans yesterday by friends, who said the family had instructed them to do so.

Mrs. Anspach arrived and was closeted with her husband for some time. It was announced that there had been no family quarrel, but that Mr. Anspach had probably been hit on the head with something in Chicago and maybe was robbed.

Mexican Rail Union Heads Fight Government Demands

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

Mexico City, March 12.—Red agitators, fearful of losing their jobs as union officials, are inciting the unions to refuse to sign pledges of loyalty to the government, which was demanded as the price for retaining employment with the railways.

STYLES

THAT'S a perfectly natural development.

We have exceptional facilities for observing what the best dressed young men the world over want and wear—young men with sufficient means to get their own ideas incorporated in the clothes they wear.

And we possess the resources to adapt the new ideas in suits ready to wear for our own clientele.

You get them before the great mass-producing manufacturers have seized them and made them standardized and common.

The new suits are now ready, in exclusive variations of the brighter colors, which we were the first to show.

You Can't Eat Your Cake and Have It, Too, But—

"I am rather tired," he said. "I've worked hard for many years. I own quite a bit of property, the care of which is getting burdensome. I shall give it to various philanthropic institutions when I die, and I would give it now, but I want the income. Is there any way of arranging it so that I can be relieved of the care and still have the income?"

Our trust department told him of the plan many older people are following of placing in trust the property they intend giving an institution, while making it a condition of the trust that the income be paid over to them as long as they live. In effect, it is exactly as if the property were still in their own name without the burden of caring for it, and the institution benefits by knowing long in advance what funds it will have to do with later on. Moreover, the person making the trust has the fun, if he wants it, of planning with the institution officers just how his money is to be used.

We would suggest that any one who has property to leave an institution come in and talk over the situation with us. The talk will be entirely confidential, and perhaps we can show ways of making the care of this property easier for you now.

LOAN SHARK FOE FAVORS POOL'S 2 PER CENT PLAN

Monthly Interest Set in Proposed New Law.

Insisting that his proposed reduction from 3½ to 1½ per cent in the legal monthly interest rate for loan sharks is warranted by conditions, State Senator Harold C. Kessinger [Rep., Kane], yesterday agreed to meet the objections of Marvin B. Pool and fix the amount at 2 per cent.

"After all, there is only one-half of 1 per cent difference between us," Senator Kessinger said. Mr. Pool, general manager of Butler Bros., is father of the Illinois wage loan law which was enacted eight years ago with the aid of Senator Kessinger.

Why They Obey.

"I said then that the rate of 42 per cent a year was too high and should be reduced as soon as possible," Senator Kessinger said. Replying to Mr. Pool's statement that the rate Kessinger now proposes would help the loan sharks because they would refuse to obey it, the senator said:

"If this is true, then the only reason they obey the present law is that the rate is high enough to suit them."

Senator Kessinger added that the day of legal recognition to loan sharks in Illinois is passing, due to the formation of small loan plan banks, and credit unions, which charge much smaller interest rates. He said he would amend his present bill to make the rate 2 per cent and then propose another reduction two years hence.

Will Favor State Police.

The Kane county senator gave another legislative promise yesterday. That was to vote for the state police bill if it needs his vote to pass it. Otherwise he will vote present. He said he does not believe a state constabulary would be used against organized labor, particularly under the present state administration. The establishment of a state police is sure to come some time, he said, and suggested that labor leaders take it now when they can have a voice in selecting the superintendent.

Senator Kessinger said too many extravagant claims are being made for a state police.

Sees No Calls.

"A governor who did not send state militia to Herrin probably would not send state police there," he said. "The sheriff who would not request troops probably would not have summoned state police."

TWO EASTERN CITIES WIN HIGH HEALTH RECORD

Only two cities in the United States with populations of more than 100,000—Fall River, Mass., and Hartford, Conn.—went through 1924 without a single death from typhoid fever, according to the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical association.

"It is well known that deaths from typhoid fever constitute an index to the sanitary conditions of the community," according to the Journal. "The analysis for 1924 shows that geographical location has considerable bearing on the incidence of typhoid fever."

An oyster borne epidemic of typhoid fever gave New York its highest mortality record for a number of years. At one time, the normal number of cases for that city was exceeded by 650 while Washington, D. C., had about fifty cases of the fever, also traced to infected oysters.

Indianapolis and Toledo "continue with high rates, although beginning to approximate more nearly what might be considered a normal incidence of the disease," and Louisville and Birmingham have exceedingly low rates, according to the Journal, which says that Nashville and Memphis "produce figures so amazingly high as to require special investigation."

PICK POCKETS OF ATTORNEY.

While Attorney David H. Greenburg for the Yellow Cab company was trying a case yesterday morning in Harrison street police court an enterprising pickpocket got $74 and two checks from Greenburg's pockets. This, he explained in Wabash avenue court, made him tardy, because even car fare was lacking.

DRY LAW KILLED AGED WINES; NEW VINTAGES LIVE

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

ARTICLE III.

San Francisco, Cal., March 12.—[Special.]—The new order of things, typified by wall maps, whereon little red topped pins confer distinction on all cities in which a given number of nickel boxes of raisins pass over the counters, tipped its hat to the old order in California a little while ago.

The occasion was the closing of Berringer Brothers old rock walled winery in the Napa valley. This is the place, built of solid chunks of rock, two feet thick, where two pioneers in grape raising and wine making laid a corner stone in 1877.

As the Alsatian boys gradually acquired more land, they took time to build the stone walls a little higher until their winery became a three story castle. It was built into the hillside, and the Berringers tunneled their underground wine cellars farther and farther back into the mountain. There they prided themselves on aging their vintages even better than the old country by preventing temperature changes in coldest winter or hottest summer.

The Berringer place prospered until 1919 when prohibition brought the new order. Then the gardens grew tangled, and the presses became idle. Wine is still stored there, but ceased to be made there last year.

Wineries Die Out.

The end of some such picturesque winery is an oft told story in the northwest coast counties of California, where wine culture got its impetus back in 1856. By 1864, vineyards and wineries in Napa and Sonoma counties were helping to produce 2,000,000 gallons of dry and sweet wines.

Col. Agoston Harassthy, a Hungarian who came to California with the gold rush in 1849, set out a few imported European grapevines in Sonoma county in 1856. About the same time Gen. Salvador Vallejo, Charles Krug, Charles La Franc, and others from France and Spain were planting other selected cuttings of European wine and table grapes. Later the industry founded by these men's plant slips converted entire countrysides from desert land into bloom.

A trip about the vineyard regions of this state, where prohibition wiped out a $20,000,000 wine business in the five years since 1919, but supplanted it with a $55,000,000 business in fresh grapes, led to the largest individual plant in the world.

This is the 5,000 acre grape and wine producing plant of the Italian Vineyard company near Cucamonga, San Bernardino county. The Guasti winery is one of the few still making wine in quantity to compare with prohibition days.

In 1924, while other wineries were closing, it turned 890,000 gallons of dry and sweet wines into huge redwood casks to age for five, six, ten, fifteen years or longer. A total of 2,500,000 gallons of wine is ageing in the chief warehouse. There is a capacity of 5,000,000 gallons in waiting for a light wines and beer law.

The company employes 250 to 1,000 men, according to season. Planing mill, box factory, blacksmith shop and cooperage works make its own casks and crates. One hundred and fifty children of employés attend a public school erected through company enterprise. There are five teachers, and two of them conduct night classes in English for adult employés. Little English is spoken.

Obeys Dry Law.

"We are strictly an American concern," Secundo Guasti Jr., the manager, said. "We urge our employés to take out American citizenship, and we are living strictly up to the letter of the prohibition law, although hoping for a change in it.

"We are making money by shipping our wine grapes. We shipped more than half of them last year. We sold 890,000 gallons of wine on government permits. The prices for this brought us nearly the same as our normal annual sales of 3,000,000 or 3,500,000 gallons before prohibition. We shipped 528 carloads of grapes eastward last year. One of them brought $234 a ton in New York."

Other wineries in the southern California section, for the most part, have gone out of business.

California voted anti-prohibition five times in state-wide referendums prior to 1922. At present, prohibition does not seem particularly irksome to most communities. Sections of foreign-born population consume an annual output of unsanctioned wines, 2,000,000 gallons or more—which would sound rather incredible if it were not mentioned to you by the federal men in various localities.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

$500,000 NEST EGG FEATURES DENNISTOUN SUIT

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, March 12.—A discussion of the dowager Countess of Carnarven's $500,000 "nest egg" featured the Dennistoun trial today. The day before marrying Lieut. Col. Ian Dennistoun, formerly of the Grendier Guards, the countess provided £100,000 which Col. Dennistoun agreed to pay her trustees on a certain date. The lawyers of Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun claim the sum was tied up in order to thwart her if she gained a verdict in the suit against her former husband for loans and verbal promises of support after their divorce.

"Just a Nest Egg."

The countess' counsel denied such a plan, explaining the sum was intended to be "just a nest egg" upon which the couple could always rely. Upon an expression of incredulity by the opposing counsel, Alfred Fyzer, the countess' solicitor, declared:

"A sum of £100,000 is not to be despised by a person of wealth—even the Countess of Carnarvon."

The hearing today revealed how detectives, paid by the colonel "or some other interested person," shadowed Mrs. Dennistoun night and day during the period just before the trial. It was admitted that a fortune was spent paying sleuths who hounded the "mouse girl" everywhere. On one occasion she stopped a detective following her in the street and had him arrested by a policeman.

Defense Costs $75,000.

The colonel's counsel admitted that the defense has cost nearly $75,000 so far, mostly in counsels' fees and expenses in bringing squads of witnesses from all parts of Europe.

Some of the witnesses were to tell of Mrs. Dennistoun's relations with a handsome young Spaniard, Señor Bolin, connected with the league of nations, with whom she is alleged to have spent amorous days in Switzerland.

The colonel attended court today for the first time in three days. The young Lord Carnarvon was present with his mother.

FIVE CANDIDATES ENTER FIELD TO SUCCEED EBERT

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, March 12.—All attempts to bring about a coalition of the right parties failed tonight with the refusal of the people's party to back Herr Gessler's candidacy for the presidency. Herr Stresemann's objections, based on the fears of foreign opinion, were supported by his party. Germany goes into the election campaign with five candidates, none of whom seems able to secure the election on the first ballot.

They are: Herr Thaelmann, former American hobo, for the Communists; Otto Bruan, Prussian parliamentary leader for the Socialists; Herr Marx, Catholic, of the center; Herr Jarres, industrialist, for the Socialists, and an unnamed Democratic candidate. Herr Jarres claims nonpartisanship, though he leans strongly toward the right. His chances of election are slight, since the Bavarian people's party withdrew from the coalition, demanding time to confer with the party leaders in Munich.

Dramatic Conference Scenes.

There were dramatic scenes when the conference of the coalition parties was called this afternoon. The center party asked an hour's time to consider the proposal of Herr Gessler as coalition candidate. The rights said that important time already had been lost on account of the center's delays. The centers haughtily withdrew, assembled in another room, and nominated Herr Marx, who immediately accepted the nomination and proceeded immediately to form campaign plans. However, the complete failure of all the coalition's attempts assure that a president will not be elected in the first election, necessitating a second election on April 26.

Dr. Simons Is President.

Dr. Walter Simons at noon today took the oath of president of the German republic before the various diplomatic corps and members of the reichstag in the reichstag. Dr. Simons will hold the office until the elections name a new chief. Dr. Simons was foreign minister in the Fehrenbach cabinet from June, 1920, until May, 1921, representing Germany in the London conference which attempted to fix the amount of reparations. He recently was named president of the Supreme court.

ZION FLAG ALOFT AS 400 SAIL TO PROMISED LAND

Patriotic Frenzy at Dock as Thousands Cheer.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—Decorated from stem to stern with flags of the international code and bearing the six pointed star—the shield of David—on her funnels, the steamship President Arthur of the American Palestine line, sailed today for the Holy Land, beginning a new steamship service and linking New York directly with Palestine.

A crowd of 15,000 gathered to see her off and the congestion became so great the police had to be called to prevent a panic. Although the vessel was scheduled to sail at 11 o'clock it was not until noon she got away.

Big Crowd Gets Excited.

It was an excited crowd attracted to the pier because of a sentimental interest in seeing the first vessel that ever left this port flying the blue and white flag of Zion. Only a few of them had friends among the 400 passengers that sailed on the President Arthur. Several women fainted.

An emotional climax came when, after the singing of the Zionist anthem "Hatikvah," Jacob H. Strahl, president of the line, speaking from a decorated platform on the pier, said:

"This event marks the advent for the first time in more than two thousand years of the flag of Judea on the high seas."

This started an outburst of applause that swept the length of the pier. Some of the elderly Jews lifted up their voices and more than one was seen to wipe away tears.

Most Are Tourists.

Most of the 400 passengers are not Jews returning to their homeland, but tourists. Some sailed to be present on April 1 at the dedication ceremonies of the Hebrew university on Mount Scopus. The dedication ceremonies will be presided over by Lord Balfour and by Dr. Chaim Weissman, head of the Zionists, who is now in London.

The President Arthur is scheduled to reach Naples in eleven days and four days later Haifal. Passengers to the holy land will have twenty days before the vessel sails again for New York. In the meantime she will go on a freight gathering expedition touching at Beyruth, Jaffa, Alexandria, and other ports. She is expected to arrive in New York May 8 and sail on her second voyage on May 11.

MOUQUIN'S, FAMOUS GOTHAM RESTAURANT, PADLOCKED FOR MONTH

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—Mouquin's restaurant at 454 6th avenue, for eighty-six years one of the landmarks in the old Tenderloin, will be padlocked for one month beginning April 1, under a consent decree agreed upon by former Judge John A. Bolles, attorney for Moquin's, and Emory R. Buckner, United States attorney.

It was at Mouquin's that Mr. Buckner said his young lawyer friends bought champagne and saw open selling of liquor with champagne coolers at nearly every table.

"For sixty-eight years in the restaurant world the name Mouquin has been synonymous with business honesty, fair dealing, and worthy service to the public," Mr. Bolles said. "It is sincerely regretted that the mistaken zeal for its patrons and business exigencies have led to a violation of even a law which has in this locality so little of public sentiment in its favor."

Federal Judge A. N. Hand approved the settlement.

PLANT SEIZED AS FAKE RUM LABEL HEADQUARTERS

General prohibition agents under Divisional Chief A. C. Townsend yesterday seized the entire four story plant of the Chicago Box Specialty company, 141 West Kinzie street, on charges that it is the source of most of the bottles and labels now used by imitators of standard booze packages.

The agents found more than $100,000 worth of bottles, with bundles of all kinds of whisky, wine, gin, and champagne labels. Capt. Townsend estimated the total number of labels at 9,000,000.

Two officials of the company who said the company had been a factor in Chicago industry for thirty-six years were arrested. Their names were withheld pending questioning and arraignment before a United States commissioner.

The agents intercepted four carloads of labeled bottles which were about to leave the plant switch for points in Iowa.

According to the raiders, the company has been specializing in bottles which have booze brands blown into the glass. These, in each case, it was said, were sold with counterfeit labels and other paraphernalia of such perfection that liquor consumers could not possibly distinguish a fake liquor package from its outside appearance.

Virtually every patented booze package known to prohibition officials was found in the vast collection stored on each of the floors of the plant.

Bootleggers who desired to imitate cartoned brands of liquor, such as most of the standard bourbons, could have their requirements filled by the box department of the manufacturing firm, which formerly operated legitimately in the shipping package business.

The raid was made after shipments to forty bootlegging centers were traced to the plant by General Prohibition Agent Jack Earley.

WITNESS AVERS ALD. MENDEL SAW SALE OF WOMAN

Although one witness yesterday afternoon in the second trial of Ald. Joseph Mendel on charges of staging an obscene show said the alderman was present when a woman was "raffled off," Assistant State's Attorney Peska last night saw little hope of obtaining a conviction.

"There has been some high 'fixing,'" he said. And the Rev. Philip Yarrow, chief investigator in the charges, declared most of the witnesses had been intimidated since the first trial, when a jury disagreed.

The jury probably will get the case early this morning.

which is to be submitted to the voters for ratification April 7."

The business organization phrased its opinion in the following language: "Be it resolved, That the Chicago Association of Commerce approve in principle the pending ordinance, providing for a comprehensive municipal transportation system by acquiring the existing street and elevated railway properties, extensions thereto and equipment therefor, and by the construction of subways."

Latham Makes Analysis.

Carl R. Latham has made an analysis of the ordinance at the request of President Dawes of the association. Commenting upon the plan, he said:

"It is doubtful whether there is anything more important to the welfare and growth of the city than a proper settlement of the transportation question. The outlook, in the event the ordinance is defeated, is most serious and means at best that there is every probability that years will intervene before any settlement can be made, and in the meantime no improvements worthy of the name could be made."

Taking up the crux of the ordinance, the board of control, Mr. Latham added:

"Municipal ownership, the vesting of the title to the traction properties in the city, seems to be absolutely necessary, if the city is really to have adequate development of traction facilities.

Some Question Management.

"This seems to be quite generally recognized, even by those who generally do not approve of municipal ownership. There unquestionably is a widespread lack of confidence of securing good and efficient management through municipal operation. There is apparently sound basis for this attitude where municipal operation is to be the basis of political control.

"However, municipal operation provided under the pending ordinance vests the management of the properties in a board of nine until 51 per cent of the outstanding certificates shall have been paid. The manner of the appointment of this board gives assurances of a businesslike board not under political control."

Sikes Opposes Measure.

George C. Sikes, one of the 1905 M. O. advocates, has issued a nine page argument against the ordinance. In this he says: "According to my views Mayor Dever is making a colossal blunder in giving support to the pending traction ordinance."

"The whole question of adequate transportation for Chicago comes down to the problem of getting the cash," said Ald. U. S. Schwartz last night to the Chester Highlands Improvement association at 7914 South Halsted street. "It is impossible to obtain the improvements in this ordinance at an estimated cost of more than $390,000,000. unless some plan can be devised to get the money.

"The plan of the ordinance provides that means which the bankers assert is sound. It is the only plan to get the money under the existing laws. It is a plan which the best experts we could obtain say will insure the return of the money invested. This ordinance supplies the only means of getting what the city so sorely needs, better transportation; and in my opinion it is the best plan that can be devised."

Assistant Corporation Counsel Frank Corr also spoke last night to the South Michigan Avenue Improvement association at Citizens' hall, 45th and State streets. Assistant Corporation Counsel C. Morton Doty gave another explanation of the ordinance before the Nonpartisan club of the Forty-ninth ward in the Rogers Park hotel yesterday afternoon.

CITY GETS $1,640,000

Within the next thirty days the city of Chicago will receive approximately $1,640,000 from the street car companies. This payment will represent the city's share of operating profits for the year ended Jan. 31 and will push the city's traction fund above $42,000,000.

The Chicago Railways company will pay more than $1,098,000 and the Chicago City railway company will pay around $542,000.

The annual report of the Chicago Railways company, issued last night, shows that its properties were valued at $93,986,705 under the terms of the contract ordinances. This price, at which the city may take over the property, falls $6,516,614 below the company's book value, whereas its book surplus is only $3,275,470.

SURVEY FINDS AMPLE FUNDS FOR CATTLEMEN

Credit Crisis Past, Farm Loan Head Says.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—R. A. Cooper, commissioner of the federal farm loan board, returned to Washington today from an extensive tour made at the instance of the President and announced his conviction that there are ample funds immediately available for the live stock and other farming industries for every purpose except for the repopulation of breeding herds on the range. Even as to the depleted range herds the commissioner is hopeful, and expressed the belief this phase of the industry had long since passed its crisis.

Banks Ready to Loan.

Mr. Cooper, with A. C. Williams, a member of the board, visited practically every state west of the Mississippi river and helped organize six new cattle loan companies in sections where the range breeding herds are most diminished. He explained that even conservative banks now are regarding cattle loans as safe propositions, but they cannot function as well in financing breeding herds as other forms of credit institutions. The cattle loan companies, however, can be of inestimable service in this connection, and it was to this end efforts of the two government officials were directed.

Industry Beating Back.

Mr. Cooper said they tried everywhere to encourage the organization of the local agencies through which the farmers may take advantage of discounting facilities or direct loans available with government funds.

"The cattle industry, which has recovered slowest of all agricultural pursuits," said Mr. Cooper, "unquestionably has struck bottom, and it is already on the road to betterment."

THE FAIR PASSES INTO NEW HANDS; KRESGE AT HELM

S. S. Kresge yesterday took over control of The Fair, when he was elected chairman of the board. D. F. Kelly is president, G. F. Williams vice president, in charge of merchandising, J. J. Buell vice president and assistant general manager, in charge of operations, and E. W. Grover, in charge of the New York office.

There are now 261 stores in the Kresge system, planning to do at least $100,000,000 worth of annual business. The Fair is operated independently of the others, but in conjunction with them, it was explained.

U. S. DECREASE IN COFFEE DRINKING WORRIES BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 12.—Dr. William L. Schurz, United States commercial attaché at Rio de Janeiro, Richard Connell, commercial attaché at Sao Paulo, and Dr. Helio Lobo, Brazilian consul at New York City, hurriedly called a conference today with the Paulista institute for a permanent defense of Sao Paulo coffee, following the receipt of urgent cables from United States coffee importers who are meeting in Chicago on March 17.

The importers cabled that there is a decreasing demand for coffee in the United States on account of the soaring prices, imperiling the trade. They requested the Paulista institute to terminate its policy of secrecy regarding coffee stocks in the interior.

The Chicago conference will make an effort to determine a policy to protect the threatened business.

WANT BORGLUM TO RENEW STONE MOUNTAIN WORK

Raleigh, N. C., March 12.—A delegation of Atlanta, Ga., citizens are expected to arrive here tomorrow for a conference with Gutzon Borglum, dismissed sculptor of the Confederate Memorial at Stone mountain, for the purpose of reaching an amicable settlement of the differences between the sculptor and the executive committee of the Memorial association, it was learned tonight.

Overtures were said to have been made to Mr. Borglum today by long distance telephone before he left Wilmington for Fayetteville. He stated to friends that he would welcome any discussion of the differences between himself and the committee with any responsible citizens of Atlanta.

ASK BUNDESEN TO ADMIT ONLY MILK OF TESTED COWS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago, was requested yesterday to issue a regulation "allowing only milk, cream, butter, skimmilk, buttermilk, and ice cream stock from cattle tested for tuberculosis annually under state and federal supervision to be sold in the city of Chicago." The request came from 100 representative dairymen from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan in a voluntary conference held here at the City club.

Health commissioners of other towns and cities in the Chicago milk producing territory will be asked to pass exactly the same kind of regulation.

Enough Tested Cattle.

Farmers attending the meeting from counties in the four states which supply milk to Chicago and have their herds tested under state and federal supervision believe that by Jan. 1, 1926, there will be enough tested cattle to meet the needs of this city and other markets in the territory with clean, wholesome milk from cattle free from tuberculosis.

Only 250,000 to 300,000 tested cows are needed to supply the city with the 1,250,000 quarts of milk consumed here daily. There are more than 200,000 cattle already tested in the Chicago dairy zone, according to a compilation of figures reported at the meeting by federal veterinarians in charge of the eradication work in these four states.

In the dairymen's resolution asking health officials to lock out the untested cow after the first of the year, the farmers ask that milk distributors and dealers be requested to coöperate in enforcing, through trade regulations, the delivery of milk from cattle tested under the coöperative area testing plan now in force in sixty-three Illinois counties and many counties of other states.

Legislators of the four states will be requested to enact the necessary laws and make sufficient appropriations to enable dairymen to rid their herds of tuberculosis and thus qualify in the production of milk that will meet the proposed requirements of Chicago and other towns in the district.

The passage of the Lantz bill now pending in the Illinois legislature, which proposes to repeal the law preventing cities and towns from passing regulations against the untested cow, was also urged by the farmers. They insist that the Tice bill, which recodifies the existing jumble of laws governing the tuberculosis eradication work, be passed at this session of the legislature at Springfield.

Many Prominent Speakers.

Among the speakers at the meeting were: Dr. Bundensen, Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of THE TRIBUNE; Dr. H. C. Becker of the health department, farmers, and state officials from Illinois and surrounding states.

More stringent inspection of the milk coming to Chicago has been made necessary because of the milk rejected by forty-seven Illinois cities and towns, as well as towns in other states, passing ordinances prohibiting the sale of milk from untested cattle, according to the health commissioner. He emphasized the need of testing to maintain and improve the quality of milk sold here where pasteurization is enforced fully as rigidly as it is in any other city in the United States.

Dairymen believe that their proposal will give Chicagoans the same protection now afforded other markets with regulations to prohibit the sale of milk from untested cows.

The resolution was introduced by Willard Darrell, Lake county, Illinois, and is considered the most drastic of a series of similar resolutions passed recently by dairymen supplying milk to Quincy, East St. Louis and other midwest cities and towns. M. L. Noon, a Michigan dairyman, was chairman.

(Photograph by Monfort)

Dynell Spring Water Co.,

Gentlemen: At the request of my mother, Mrs. H. Fineberg, 215 E. 58rd St., Chicago, Ill., I am writing this testimonial in appreciation for the wonderful benefits that have been derived by the use of DYNELL SPRING WATER.

I know that for years my mother was troubled with NEURITIS, and also her STOMACH was in a weakened condition due to an attack of malaria fever that she had some twenty years ago. Today she is in the pink of condition and cannot recommend too highly the DYNELL WATER for STOMACH TROUBLE, NEURITIS, RHEUMATISM and LIVER TROUBLE.

My mother has recommended DYNELL water to a great many of her friends, and they all are being benefited by the water as was my mother.

If at any time I, or any member of my family, can be of service to you, only the asking is necessary, as we all (our whole family) are users of the wonderful water.

Again thanking you for the results that we have gotten from using DYNELL SPRING WATER, I remain,

Sincerely,
LEON A. FINEBERG.

Hundreds of other prominent Chicagoans have written letters similar to the above, all voicing the same enthusiastic praise of Dynell Spring Water as the veritable Fountain of Youth.

This wonder water can't help but bring them back to health and strength, a perfect rejuvenation. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, constipation, high blood pressure, gall stones, gastritis, torpid liver, anemia, and systemic conditions for which a thorough cleansing of the blood and consequent relief to the kidneys is called for, don't fail to either visit the spring or send for a Five Gallon Test container. The regular price of the five gallons is now down to only $3.00, delivered free to any point in Cook County, slight express charge to outside points, and is the lowest price ever made for any mineral water, even those of far less merit. Character

Hats Off to The New York World!

(By John Temple Graves in the Palm Beach "Post")

TO THOSE who believe that the City of New York, that modern citadel of sophistication, is approaching the twilight of overcivilization and is doomed one day to be hoist on its own petard of polyglot racial and intellectual effeteness, the most telling reply in rebuttal is THE NEW YORK WORLD.

Here is a newspaper whose make-up is a printed expression of Iago's recipe for success—

You must be proud, bold, pleasant, resolute, and, now and then, stab, as occasion serves.

In the history of American journalism there have been newspapers which have been great because of a great editor. Others have attained greatness through the accuracy of their news service, while still others have had greatness thrust upon them by the mere importance of the community which they served.

In THE NEW YORK WORLD, however, is exampled a newspaper whose greatness comes of the spirit which animates its columns and determines its news and editorial policies. It is a spirit which not only permeates its editorials, brightens its news sections and enhances the importance of the vast metropolitan community which it serves, but one which superimposes on all of these things a color of gayety and a quality of sincerity to intrigue the public fancy and persuade the public conscience.

New York has many newspapers. It has the Hearst press, which is always interesting but rarely convincing. It has the New York Times, which is undoubtedly convincing but painfully uninteresting. It has the Evening Post, which neither interests nor convinces. It remains to THE WORLD, in its editorials, its sports page, its news sections, its financial columns and even in its advertising, to be both interesting and convincing. Interesting because of the originality of its editorials and the colorfulness of its choice and display of news. Convincing because of its proven intellectual and moral independence, its mental gallantry and its moral courage.

THE WORLD is no man's plaything, no party's hireling, but the efficient, lively and honest expression of the group of men who conduct its several departments and pages. When it is wrong it is honestly so. When it is right it is bravely and effectively so.

In the daily records of this great paper a new chapter is added to the philosophy of journalism. The noblest mission of a newspaper, after all, is not fatuously to cater to popular interest but rather to understand that interest fully and to prod it in the right direction. "The function of a statesman," says George Bernard Shaw, "is to express the will of the people in the way of the scientist." This is in equal measure the function and statesmanship of journalism when it is true to itself.

America is too big and its territorial stretches are too broad to be dominated by any single newspaper as the London Times dominates England. But in THE NEW YORK WORLD it can, at least, find its best expression and its example of what is brightest and best in the Fourth Estate.

A GREAT newspaper—to be truly great—must be an accurate and dependable daily cross-section of the community which it serves. It is doubtful if any large city in America has a journal that so faithfully mirrors its activities, urges its civic needs, reports its municipal affairs with the fidelity that characterizes THE WORLD'S service to Greater New York.

Within a month it has embarked upon two projects that call for a devotion to the public service seldom evidenced by a newspaper.

One of them has spread far beyond the limits of Greater New York, and has aroused a Nation-wide protest against the debasing influences of recent theatrical tendencies. Hundreds of THE WORLD'S contemporaries have applauded its fight against commercialized obscenity. The other has resulted in a determined official drive against the outlaw taxicabs of New York.

All of which demands CHARACTER—a quality in which THE WORLD is abundantly rich!

THE ADVERTISER who seeks to establish for his product a reputation for dependability, and for his name the goodwill that creates its chief value, cannot disregard the inevitable association between the CHARACTER of a newspaper and the products advertised therein.

It is the newspaper of CHARACTER that produces the greatest return.

For forty-two years THE WORLD has served New York and served it well!.

Its circulation within the limits of the Greater City is larger by several thousands than that of its nearest standard-sized competitor.

At 3 cents per copy, it entirely overshadows the two 2-cent newspapers most generally compared with it in QUALITY of circulation, in that intensive city selling-area where the manufacturer has his best distribution and in which the merchant makes his greatest number of sales.

Favored, therefore, with the type of New Yorker who is able and willing to pay 3 cents for his morning paper, THE WORLD occupies a unique position among the newspapers of the greatest retail market in America.

On the score of selling-price alone, if its own columns were not sufficient evidence in themselves, THE WORLD today is indisputably the quality medium of the morning field.

It has been a powerful factor in practically every successful attempt made in the last quarter century to invade the New York market. Hundreds of products whose names are now household words have had their introduction into Greater New York under the guidance and often under the complete direction of THE WORLD'S MERCHANDISING DEPARTMENT.

The City's Department Stores Use the All-Day Service of THE WORLD GROUP

In combination with THE EVENING WORLD, THE WORLD offers an all-day advertising service of more than 650,000 circulation—the most important selling-group in the city available as a unit under a single contract.

It is upon this all-day WORLD service that the foremost merchants of the City depend for that quick response necessary in the moving of merchandise in large quantities. In February alone, eleven of the City's greatest stores used 88,213 more lines in THE WORLD and THE EVENING WORLD than in the corresponding month in 1924.

Last year, seven of these great stores, representing some of the best informed and most successful merchants of the country, used 1,000,000 more lines in THE EVENING WORLD SIX days a week than they used in either The Times or The Herald Tribune SEVEN days a week.

What Mr. Graves has to say about THE WORLD, therefore, ought to find an echo in the mind of every advertiser who understands the value of CHARACTER in the medium in which he buys space.

Burned Evidence

By MRS. WILSON WOODROW

Reg. U. S. Patent Office.

SYNOPSIS.

The story is being told by young Dandridge, junior member of a New York firm of lawyers. Old Jerome Fosdick, one of the richest clients of the firm, invites Dandridge to lunch at his home. The young lawyer is interested in the old man's granddaughter, Sara, a beautiful young society woman, who is Fosdick's sole heir. Fosdick tells Dandridge that Sara's father, his only son, had spent many years in South America, where he died. After his death a South American woman appeared at the Fosdick home with baby Sara, whose mother, the nurse said, had died soon after the baby's father. Fosdick had investigated the woman's story and found it to be true.

After luncheon Mme. Adelbron, a famous psychic, calls on Fosdick and tells him she had been an intimate friend of Sara's mother in Buenos Aires, when Sara was an infant, and that when she had had to leave the city on a theatrical tour she had left with Sara's mother all her jewels and a large sum of money. When she returned to Buenos Aires Estrella Fosdick was dead and her property had disappeared. She had just succeeded in tracing them and she demands that Fosdick return her jewels and the money with interest. Fosdick refuses and makes some reference to a scarred Spaniard which obviously frightens her. A few days later the old man is found dead in his car. The case is in the hands of Police Inspector Curran. Dandridge tells him about Mme. Adelbron's demands and informs him that the medium had carried with her a list of jewels which had belonged to Sara's mother and written in the latter's handwriting, identical to a list in Sara's possession. Before Dandridge is able to have Fosdick's safe—which contains important letters—opened, it is mysteriously drilled and rifled. Curran and Dandridge hasten over to the Fosdick house and find that the letters are missing. The inspector questions Herbert, curator of the Fosdick museum, and the old man's secretary, Miss O'Connor. Both have good alibis. Herbert claims he spent the hours between 6 and 11 at the home of Prof. Markham, but admits he allowed a Prof. Quigley, known to him slightly, to remain in the museum alone during the afternoon.

Achison, a famous criminal lawyer of New York, is Adelbron's attorney. He invites Dandridge to dinner at his apartment and there informs the younger lawyer that his client is about to sue Sara Fosdick for the money and jewels she claims she left with Sara's mother. Graham Smith, a reporter who had covered the Fosdick death for his paper, tells Dandridge that he saw Sara Fosdick in a downtown restaurant the night of the robbery with a crook known as Lord Harry. Afraid that Sara will meet with harm, Dandridge goes to the Fosdick house to warn her. While there Curran telephones to say that Hebert had been killed on the street between the Fosdick home and his office. Miss O'Connor faints at the news, under the impression that the victim is her brother, Lord Harry, and not Herbert. She revives when Lord Harry walks into the house. Sara had engaged him to open the safe for her, but he found the safe had already been opened. The next day the professor calls at Dandridge's office and gives him a picture of a Spaniard autographed "Eugenio de Guzman y Manara," which Herbert had left at the professor's house. It is a photograph of the scarred Spaniard that Fosdick had mentioned to Adelbron. Dandridge calls on the Spanish consul. He arranges to meet Graham Smith, in whom he had confided his suspicions about Adelbron, and passes on to him the information he received at the consul's office.

INSTALLMENT XXXV.

CROSS PURPOSES.

After a slight interruption I resumed my story to Graham Smith. "The general left one son—the old man died about two years ago—but he entered the church, and they do not know where he may be. But I have cabled to Madrid for full information."

"Quick work," Graham remarked, "and you'll get a quick answer—from Spain. I should say in about three months."

"You're so sunshiny, Smith; always cheerful and inspiring, but this time your croaking doesn't affect me, for the person I cabled to was not a Spaniard, but our old classmate, 'Skates' Conger. He has been secretary of the legation over there for the last four years, and if he's anything like as inquisitive as he used to be in college, he knows the unwritten secret memoirs of every person of prominence in the country."

"This is Sara Fosdick."

"That," Graham conceded, "is more like it. If 'Skates' doesn't know the size of the late general's shoes and his preference in breakfast foods, it will be because the general didn't wear shoes or eat breakfast. Really, you couldn't have gone to a better shop, Tony."

We finished our luncheon and walked back to my office to find that an answer to my cabled inquiry had just come in.

"Good old 'Skates!'" I exclaimed as I tore it open. "Right up to the minute. No manana por la manana theory for him."

But, as I read it, my elation evaporated. Smith saw from my face that something was wrong.

I passed the cablegram over to him and he read it aloud.

> Unable to communicate with Primo de Guzman y Manara, as he entered Trappist monastery two years ago, and is under vows of silence. Even his place of retreat unknown. As to subject of inquiry can only give you a mass of hearsay and gossip which cannot be confirmed. Latter part of life appears to have been clouded by domestic tragedies, but too proud to have any confidants. Single known fact I can give is that only daughter ran away from home, and became a dancer at low cantinas and cabarets. Said to have got into trouble with the police, and to have left the country either under the protection of or married to young American, and to have died later in South America. For possible particulars refer you to a relative, Juan Manara, importer, 350 Beaver Street, New York.

Graham's face was impenetrable as he finished, but I knew what he was thinking, and his thoughts were mine. Instead of helping us, this information seemed to strengthen and reinforce the claims of Adelbron. And I was swept by the desolating knowledge of the blow this revelation would be to Sara.

I looked up to find Smith's eyes on me, and felt a sudden, violent impulse to smash him in the face. I knew from that gleam in them just what he was thinking; that the adventures of Sara's mother would give added sensationalism and piquancy to his newspaper story when it came to be written; but second thoughts prompted me to control my ungrateful and homicidal desires. After all, Graham had been useful, and might be more so.

"Trust Conger to pick up any rotten, backstairs gossip that's around," I said bitterly.

Smith was silent, and I got into my overcoat and picked up my hat.

"I am going down to see this Juan Manara or whatever his name is." I glanced again at Conger's message to note the address, and put it in my pocket.

"Want me to go along?" Smith asked.

I did not, and told him so, although I expressed it more diplomatically, saying that when he found it was a family matter on which I had come to interview him, Juan Manara might presumably be extremely reticent; in fact, he might even resent my inquiries; and if I appeared accompanied by Smith, a newspaper man, he would probably shut up like a clam.

Graham accepted this, and I started off alone; but it struck me presently that a witness might be advisable. Foreigners, too, are apt to have a respect for the physical embodiment of the law. So I stopped at Curran's office to see if he could go with me.

He looked up from his desk as I came in, and nodded distantly.

"Sit down," his tone was as frosty as his manner. "I was thinking of either going to see you, or asking you to come here, whichever was most convenient." He leaned back in his chair and looked at me steadily, a wrinkle between his brows. "I am a great believer in coöperation, as you probably know, and I have not been getting it. If you and Miss Fosdick think you can handle this case better than I can, I am ready to retire and give you free swing; but I can't go on with all of us playing at cross purposes as we are now."

"I don't blame you, inspector, for feeling as you do, but there was no intention of setting you aside as the directing head."

"What else can you call it, when you and Miss Fosdick follow up some lead of your own, and leave me in the dark about it? Not a word to me when I dropped in there last night, and you," his hard, sharp eyes bored through me, "even tried to fix it so that my men wouldn't report that another person was spending the evening with you; a notorious crook, by the way."

Before I could say anything there was a ring on the telephone; and, as sometimes happens, the words of the message were quite audible to me, although I was a foot or two away from the instrument.

"This is Sara Fosdick, inspector," the voice, brassy and metallic, anything but Sara's, rasped on my ear. "I hear you have been interviewing L. H. today, and that he was rather uncommunicative. So stupid of him for, of course, you should know everything that happens, and I am sure none of us dreamed of leaving you in the dark. We all rely on you too thoroughly."

Even the squeak and rattle of the telephone could not destroy that note of persuasion which Sara could make so effective.

"But," she went on, "things have been happening so fast that we have hardly had time to catch our breaths, and we felt so important, too; we thought we had so much to tell you. But, of course, you had to get ahead of us and spoil our little triumph with your darned shrewdness. How did you ever discover that L. H. had been at the house last night? Can't you come up now and let me tell you all about it? Or perhaps it would be more convenient for you to see Mr. Dandridge?"

"Mr. Dandridge is here now," he answered.

"Splendid. Tell him to explain the whole thing to you. We are anxious to have your opinion of it. Good-by."

"I couldn't help overhearing," I said as he hung up the receiver, "so I'll take orders and go ahead."

Good morning!

The plot proper, which has to do with gun running over the Mexican border, is led up to by a lot of foolishness that has not even the virtue of being entertaining foolishness, and it is such involved business that to tell about it in detail would use up more space than it seems to me the production is worth.

So, to be sketchy—but quite explicit enough—be you told that the too gay son of a wealthy father is sent west to investigate a report that has come to the elder Lanning that his property near the Mexican border is being utilized by law breakers for their nefarious industry of gun running. The boy is chosen for the job because his folks think it would be a good idea to get him away from certain Follies ladies on whom he has been wasting much attention and money.

Arrived at his destination the first person he meets is a somebody in curls and short skirts. He believes her to be a mere child who has missed her train. She's missed the train, all right, but in reality she's a big girl, member of an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, and she's dressed up like 10 years old because at the station lunch counter children are fed for 50 cents instead of the dollar charged adults, and 50 cents is all that "Little Eva" happened to have.

The next train doesn't leave until Thursday and the hero meets her on a—Tuesday, I believe. So he takes her to dad's hacienda and she has quite a part in the adventures that shortly befall the hero as he uncovers the evils that are rife upon the estate. He proposes to her and is accepted by her in the last reel.

The players all do their best with the rôles dealt out to them. The photography's all right. I guess the director did all that could be expected of him with the material at hand.

CLOSEUPS

Dorothy Gish has been signed to play opposite Rod La Rocque in Paramount's "Night Life in New York." Ernest Torrence and George Hackathorne will have important rôles in the production.

Few people know that 210 pound Lincoln Stedman is the son of Myrtle Stedman. "I was married when I was 15," Miss Stedman says. "Lincoln was born when I was 17. Now he's grown up and I'm still young, and I have not only a son but a pal and a business manager as well. Marry young, I say!"

Press Outer Drive Work to Link South Side Parks

Work on the widened South Park avenue from 35th street to Grant park is being rushed by the south park board, and Linn White, chief engineer, said yesterday it would be open to traffic by July 1.

The approach from Monroe street is paved as far as 16th street, and the remainder is expected to be finished shortly after the viaduct is completed. The stretch from 35th street has been ready for some time.

In addition, the park board is getting ready to let contracts for completion of preliminary construction work on the outer drive from Grant park to Jackson park. Piling and bulkheads which will support the new roadway, which is to be out in the lake 500 feet from the present shore, is ready with the exception of a gap from 39th to Fiftieth street.

Construction work will start on this stretch shortly, and contracts for filling in will be let at the same time.

Cardinal Mundelein Visits Noted Buildings of Paris

PARIS, March 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago today visited some of the architectural ornaments of Paris. He visited among other buildings the Saint Chapelle, close by the Paris law courts, a structure of which he erected a duplicate in Brooklyn, N. Y. His eminence had a surprise yesterday in finding at his own hotel several tourists who remembered him as their former parish priest in Brooklyn.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question T. H. Brothers, 729 West Wildwood avenue, Fort Wayne, Ind., was awarded $5.

The Question.

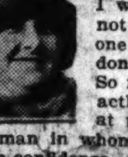
Where Asked.

Congress at Wabash avenue.

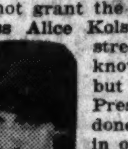
The Answers.

M. J. Collins, 526 West 66th street, postoffice clerk — He certainly has. Wheels and money spending make the world go around. If everybody followed President Coolidge's policy, the country would go bankrupt in a couple of years. Economy in government management is proper, but governmental efficiency is of more importance.



Mrs. William H. Smith, 945 Sheridan road, Hubbard Woods, Ill., housewife—I would say that I do not think so, not for one minute. He has done wonderfully well. So far he has done exactly the right thing at the right time. He is a man in whom we may have absolute confidence. I am for him.

F. M. Hartley Jr., 111 Broadway, New York City, representative technician—He has overplayed it so far as the postoffice department is concerned. My recent correspondence with Washington shows that this department is hampered through lack of funds. More men are needed in the service, but Washington will not grant the increase.



Miss Alice Kolsrud, 451 East 62d street, nurse—I don't know much about that, but everything the President has said or done since he has been in office seems to have met with public approval. There is a certain—what will I say?—stability about President Coolidge that we never had before.

R. C. Floyd, Toledo, O., civil engineer — My personal opinion is that he has not; in fact, I think he has only begun his policy of economy, and we will see more of it—that's my impression of President Coolidge. In common with the general public, he is probably sick of extravagance by city and government officials.

Rae Bernstein Has Piano Recital with Chicago Symphony

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Rae Bernstein, pianist, made a stirring and successful debut with the Chicago Symphony orchestra last night. Having been this year's winner in her division of the annual contest by the Society of American Musicians, she is one of the several young artists to appear in the orchestra's popular concerts. As the competitive piece was Beethoven's Concerto in C minor, she played it in this program, proving thereby not only that she had learned it well, but that it had been worth while for her to learn it. She was speedy and certain, with sense of rhythm and sense of form, and the audience gave her instant and hearty response. Judging by what prize winners have already appeared, the contests that provided the chances to appear have thoroughly justified themselves.

The male chorus of the Central Trust company gave a concert at Kimball hall last night. This is one of several amateur choral organizations of the same kind in this city. Memberships are drawn from commercial institutions, regular rehearsals are held, and at times in their occasional concerts one hears surprisingly good singing. This one showed a marked improvement over last season's appearance in the general quality of tone, pitch, and exactness. A number of part songs and several extended numbers were on the program. Elmer J. Crabbs was the conductor.

The assisting soloist was Helen Hedges, soprano, whose talent is unusually interesting, since to good voice and good technical singing she adds a bright alertness of manner that adds a full half to the effect in projecting a song.

Natalie Robinson, violinist, and Norman Kling, bass-baritone, gave a joint recital in the Young American Artist series at Fine Arts Recital hall last night. Whether from nervousness or some other reason, Miss Robinson had considerable trouble in playing on pitch in the Bruch D minor Concerto, so much so that what other musical qualities she had at command were badly obscured. Mr. Kling has made a fair start along the path of good singing. He has even quality in his voice except at the top, and he has learned several valuable secrets about the art of singing in English.

Appeals for Cash to Help Orphans of War Veterans

"The veterans of the greatest conflict of history are passing at the rate of fifteen a day. We must do our utmost to give those remaining every care and compensation that a great and generous people said should be theirs."

Maj. Gen. John R. McQuigg of the Ohio national guard, a leading banker of Cleveland, who saw active service overseas during the war, made this statement yesterday at a luncheon of the American Legion endowment fund at the Hotel La Salle.

"Four-fifths of the men of that great army that went overseas," he said, "are not affiliated with any veterans' organization, and many of them are ignorant of the privileges accorded them by the government.

"It is the task of the Legion to play the part of big brother to these comrades, who came to their present plight through their loyalty and patriotism to this nation.

"We owe the orphaned children of veterans the same duty that we owe their fathers, and we bring to this work a volunteer force of 900,000 persons, members of the Legion and its auxiliary, who are working with might and main to keep the toll for the veterans and their children going as long as there is a legionnaire or a disabled man left."

Boys' Club, Closed Through Years, Will Meet Again

In 1905 the Monarch club was established by fourteen boys between 12 and 14 years old. They went through grammar school, high school, and college together. Saturday night they will meet once more, with their wives and sweethearts, in the Belden-Stratford hotel. A moving picture of 1907 vintage will be a feature.

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

WELL IF YUH ASK ME I THINK IT'S A BUM HAT!
HAND OUT A MINORITY REPORT.
GAAR WILLIAMS

THEATER

It turns out that the play of German origin in which Lionel Barrymore is rehearsing with (it is said) a Chicago theater in mind is one already known in this country as "Taps!": it was acted unsuccessfully about twenty-two years ago by the late Herbert Kelcey, Miss Effie Shannon, and Robert Loraine. It was done in London about that time as "Lights Out!" . . . I have a vague memory of the play, itself, and of the three actors' being quite mild and colorless in scenes having to do with the German socio-military code. Another piece not unlike it in general tone and style was acted in Chicago in 1911, in what is now Cohan's Grand, as "The Affair at the Barracks": Emmett Corrigan and Miss Izetta Jewell were in it; and the late C. M. S. McLellan made the adaptation from the German. . . . As to the earlier piece, the chances are that it has been made over for present-day uses and to suit Mr. Barrymore.

"Whadda You Say?" is the name of something by Philip Bartholomae, with music by Con Conrad. . . . And 'tis hinted that it will be put on as an amelioration of life in Chicago.

Sir: You may be able to give to the undersigned some action on this box-office symposium that I could not easily get from Vox-Pop. . . . I went to the Illinois Theater the other day and asked for three seats in the eighth or ninth row. "The best I can do for you, Mister, is the seventh row," was the insolent reply of the ticket-seller. I protested: he assumed an air of sincerity, and told me that he could not give to me what he didn't have, adding, when I suggested that I might be able to get the eighth or ninth row at an agency: "I doubt that, Mister! Besides, this is the place to buy seats." Well, it was the seventh row or nothing—unless, that is, I should have been content with the sixth. I took the tickets, but paid only the regular box-office price for them. Indeed, although I tendered a twenty-dollar bill and thus gave to the boy the chance of over-charging, he counted back the right change. Fancy my chagrin when, on going to the theater the next night, I saw not one unoccupied seat in the entire house! . . .

Surely, F. D., there must be a remedy for this sort of thing! Why doesn't The Tribune make an issue of such cases?

Bucko T. MacOoze.

Somebody has taken the trouble to figure out that tonight's performance of "Topsy and Eva" by the Misses Duncan will be the eight-hundredth—whether with them or altogether is not explained: they were out of it for the time necessary for their manager to find out that it was no good without them.

Here's a Good Title.

The Mask-and-Wig Club of the University of Pennsylvania, which has had thirty-seven years of activity in writing, staging, and performing pieces written by its undergraduates (with incidental assistance from the alumni), is to visit Chicago for a performance the 31st instant—the first visit in the organization's annals. . . . The cantata for this year is named "Joan of Arkansas."

Sir: You say that the rôle of Candida is actor-proof. Perhaps it is; but I believe that Katherine Cornell can always bring more to a character than almost any other actress on the American stage. As for Laurette Taylor's refusal to play the part, you will find that it is not exactly sagacity regarding the lack of acting possibilities in the rôle, but because she did not care to follow another player in what is already an established hit. Wait till you see Miss Cornell, and you'll understand what I mean! Marion Hammett.

Thomas Wood Stevens, who is in direction of drama in the Art Institute, is to talk tonight in the Chicago Book-Store on "Playwright's Luck"; and that seems to me to be a pregnant subject. When you look about you, it is to get the belief that, success or failure, it's all a matter of luck. . . .

An unknown woman writes a play, "Hell's Playground," and sends it round among the producers: a canny actor manages to get a hole-in-the-wall production for one he said he wrote: the woman goes to law, charging plagiarism, and wins the verdict after "White Cargo" has piled up royalties and profits in six figures. . . . More than nine in every ten theatermen tell you they passed up "Is Zat So?" . . . A chap who had been unsuccessfully peddling his plays for years sticks a bit of chorus-girls' slang on a shapeless little piece, and is going weekly to see his banker with the royalties on Applesauce." . . . Cyril Maude, who came from London to act in a failure named "When Winter Comes," puts on "Aren't We All?" because he has to be paid, anyway, under his contract; and Frederick Lonsdale, who wrote it, may have five thousand dollars of any manager's money any day as advance royalty if he will merely promise to write another.

City Planner Asks Airplane Parking Space

Also O. K.'s Traction Plan Before Medillians.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Like a physician diagnosing the pains and aches of his patient, Allen D. Albert, newspaper man and city planner, after feeling the pulse of this great city, last night diagnosed the symptoms of Chicago in a lecture at the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern university. He suggested several prescriptions.

"If Chicago is not careful," he warned, "she will discover that the traction problem is concerned not at all with politics, and that the very best thing she could do for her own good would be to appoint a commission in whom the public has confidence, to conduct a nonpartisan inquiry into the engineering facts of the case, then make recommendations accordingly. I believe that Mayor Dever's plan would be the ultimate selection of such a commission.

"Chicago's greatest social need at the present time is a new kind of housing for about 10,000 families.

"That is because the worker a decade ago was obliged to live near enough to his work to get trolley car transportation. But the automobile came along, and in the revolution it caused, homes are now as far from work as their cars will carry the employés.

"The place of the newspaper in city planning is vital. Never before in history have newspapers gone so far in playing fair with their readers. He who talks of the good old days of journalism should be sent to a lunatic asylum. Horace Greeley, in spite of his fame, didn't play fair with his readers. He gave them what he wanted them to know. But even now, the newspaper has not reached its real development in serving the city by planning for the future.

"In 1905 we were making the same sort of plea for the accommodation on highways of automobiles as is beginning today for accommodations of airplanes to the airways. And they laughed at us harder in 1905 than they are laughing now. Is it hard to imagine that in 1936 pupils will be going to Northwestern university in their flivver planes, just as they go now in automobiles? Then we must plan for a sufficiently large landing place at the university for the parking of planes."

Doctors Hail the Press as Big Aid to Public Health

The newspaper was ranked with the pill bottle as an important factor in maintaining health by speakers in the closing session yesterday of the congress on medical education, licensure, public health and hospitals, held under the auspices of the American Medical association, in the Congres hotel.

"The physician must be a health adviser as well as family doctor," Dr. John M. Dodson said. Then City Health Commissioner Bundesen told how he got columns of publicity for his department and for health campaigns in the daily newspapers, and of the service to the city's general health that publicity brought.

The growth of the health column in newspapers is significant, he said. He cited the columns of Dr. W. A. Evans and Dr. Brady as the highest type of this feature.

Dr. C. C. Pierce, representing the surgeon general of the United States public health service, traced the development of the use of the radio and the public address in presenting health information.

Something Seems to Be All Wrong with Young Manhood

BY DORIS BLAKE.

There's something rotten in the state of Denmark! I am going to "out with it" today. It is unpleasant to write about. It is sensational, and it is ugly.

If I received only an occasional letter on the subject I would handle it privately and personally, feeling it to be such an exceptional case as not to warrant publicity here. But of late I am appalled beyond words at the number of letters from girls with the same story.

In explanation I'll let one of these tell it exactly as she puts it to me:

"I am a girl past 19. At the seashore last summer I met a boy 22. We liked each other from the start. He treated me nicely and politely, and really, Miss Blake, his every step and movement showed what a splendid bringing up he had. I have been seeing this boy about twice a week until last Wednesday. Miss Blake, he asked of me what I am afraid to give. He claims he still likes me, but in order to have me show him I like him, too,—which I do, and O, so much—he asks something of me which any decent girl would be ashamed to write. This boy has made me love him by his gentle ways and wonderful treatment of me. And now—he asks such a thing! When he said it I asked him to take me home. He did, and looked much troubled, but said that was the only way we could continue our friendship. The worst of it is, Miss Blake, I love him and miss him terribly. He claims he is not enough settled yet to talk about marriage. But what the future holds for either of us he seems not to care the least about."

Now I am going to let this girl by this morning with the simple reminder that what the future holds for her that young scoundrel cares nothing about, and that he cares less than nothing about the girl herself. She may raise her foolish excuses and her more foolish hopes on his fine treatmen of her previous to his remarks last Wednesday, but from that hour dates the demise of any single ray of happiness from his direction.

But you young men! What is wrong with you? Where is that so-called boasted chivalry of yours? Where is that noble instinct of protection we've heard tell about? Where is your sense of fair play? Where your decency, your morals, your conscience? So dead at 22 you could make a cold blooded proposition to a girl to murder the youth of her, slay the joy of her living, ruin her chances for a decent man and a decent home?

A mistake made in the heat of an unbridled passion one might understand, but to win a girl, foolish, weak though she may be, by playing the rôle of devoted suitor up to a certain point and then to make her a proposition she is ashamed to put down in words, as well she might be, is the work of a criminal heart, from which every grain of pity and decency has escaped.

There is something rotten in the state of our young manhood. I support that claim on first hand evidence right here in my mail, not from one letter, nor two, but from dozens of them.

Never mind blaming the girls of today, their dress, their manners, their conduct. In other days men who blasted their lives in the corner saloon blamed the saloon for their downfall. The saloon was on the same corner for the men who had the moral stamina to pass it by.

It is not the girls who are to blame for your immorality, for your lack of plain, common decency. And no one knows it better than the young man who cold bloodedly plans to ruin a girl and cast her aside immediately after he accomplishes her ruin. It goes without saying she will be a castoff, just as surely as winter follows fall.

The hopelessness of trying to appeal to finer instincts in such a male is what gets me, because there are no finer instincts there. There's nothing to appeal to. There's no heart, no soul, no responsibility to God, and none to self.

Give Dance Tonight.

The Coöperative league juniors will give a formal dance at the Opera club this evening. Miss Alice Loewenstein is chairman of the ticket committee, Miss Margaret Byfield chairman of publicity, and Miss Alice Ringer and Miss Gertrude Adler are also members of the committee in charge.

More Joy

More energy—more fitness. Millions get them from a sparkling morning drink.

Here is the way to happy days, to keeping yourself at your best. The millions who know it live two days in one.

First—do what every doctor tells you. Drink a glass of water in the morning, hot or cold. It washes out the stomach and prepares the way for breakfast.

But add to that water a little Jad Salts. That makes a fruity, effervescent drink. Jad Salts are made from the acids of lemon and grape, combined with lithia.

In one hour comes elimination of the poisons and waste in the system. The dark days become sunny. High spirits appear. You feel like a child.

Try this tomorrow morning. Watch the brighter day. You will never again, when things look gloomy, go without Jad Salts. Every druggist has them for you.

MEN'S FASHIONS

Ties for Tuxedos.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—A friend of mine told me the other day that he had the conceit to match the facing of his tuxedo coat, which happened to be black satin, with a black satin bow tie, but that unable to secure them anywhere, he had them made to order at a certain prominent haberdashers.

Now, he tells me that particular men's outfitters has laid in a supply of these which are sold generally, indicating that there is perhaps a definite trend to match dinner coat facings with a necktie of the same material.

There is certainly a tendency today to brighten up the otherwise murky dinner coat with silk or satin lapels, and the satin tie goes a long way to help make the attire a more cheerful one.

It is already possible to get dress ties in the ribbed silk with which the lapels are sometimes faced, as well as the plain dull silk. The establishing of these satin dress ties makes it unanimous.

It doesn't hurt to repeat that one never wears a white bow tie with a dinner coat. Only the other day I received two letters asking that question.

There is no must connected with wearing the tie of the same material as the lapel.

Out Fell the Plate.

My sister broke a tooth off her plate while indulging in some taffy, and as I worked in the loop close to her dentist I was elected to bring it down to be fixed.

I had one of those purses you open and then blah—everything falls out—and I just carelessly covered the plate with tissue and shoved it in my purse. The next morning my train was coming, and as I opened the purse to show my pass, it did its trick and the first thing to fall was the plate, making a sound like a bottle of exquisite perfume, but revealing a worse sight.

In Safe Keeping.

I had some friends in for Sunday night supper, and afterwards two of the girls offered to help with the dishes. I emptied the coffee grounds from the percolator and discovered a five dollar bill which I had put in there for safe keeping and forgot.

I had sterilized the bill in the coffee at the expense of my guests. H. H. M.

Instead of sitting on the edge of the chair, with your weight resting on the base of the spine, the lower part of the spine should rest against the back of the chair; the back should be held straight and not allowed to rest against the chair, otherwise the abdomen will be thrown out of correct position. Practice sitting in this position, and you will find your back strengthened. You will not become fatigued easily, and you will get real enjoyment out of your work.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Shirred Eggs.

Plained shirred eggs are eggs broken into a dish and baked in the oven. Fancy shirred eggs are eggs baked in the same way but with a sauce of some agreeable preparation in the dish under the egg, and sometimes over. Baked in a little butter alone and basted with it while they are baking, they will have a bright and shining surface which is admired greatly by some cooks. A little salt is used.

Plain cream may take the place of the butter but it is always best to butter the dish no matter what the preparation, and there are at least fifty different preparations that may be used. And these may be multiplied by different garnishes.

For instance, an egg may be shirred in white sauce in which there are asparagus tips for a garnish, arranged artistically in the thick sauce.

One of the prettiest of shirred eggs is that with pimiento. One-half of a canned pimento is enough for one or two eggs. Chop the pimento rather fine and heat it up in a teaspoon of butter, then put it into the little dish—these may be plain little saucerlike dishes or the little porcelain cocottes with handles or those of metal, silver lined—break in an egg, add a bit of salt, a scant grating of white pepper, and two tablespoons of cream. Put into a hot oven to cook for five or six minutes or it can be cooked under the broiler if far enough away from the flame.

A thick tomato sauce may be used instead of the pimento. To make a meat paste, use equal parts of bread crumbs and some finely minced ham or chicken with enough cream to make the mixture a smooth paste.

Standing on Heads Found Restful by Some Society Women

BY NANCY R——.

Have you heard the latest substitute for afternoon naps, those beautifying, youth giving little siestas that wise women always try to include in their daily programs? The substitute is to stand on one's head, and three women here that I know of are becoming so expert at it that they flip over into position without any apparent effort.

They aren't the youngest of Chicago's society leaders, either, but they have figures that are the envy of many of their friends, and they attribute their well being entirely to their gymnastic prowess. They say that standing on the head for just a very few minutes each day is the greatest way to rest that they know, and they quite enjoy their unusual little stunt and the longing sighs of other women less agile.

From exercises to newcomers in our midst, with a swift mental handspring of our own:

Those of Chicago's young marrieds still here are delighted with an addition to their gay circle. The Elijah Stillmans arrived here recently to make our burg their home, temporarily at least. They are a most popular and attractive young couple, at present quietly domiciled in a large old house out on Kenwood avenue.

Mrs. Stillman before her marriage was Rebecca Campbell of Youngstown, O., while her good looking husband hails from Boston, the city of books, beans, and Beacon street. They are old friends of the young Prince and Princess Michel Cantacuzene, who entertained for them at dinner shortly after their arrival in Chicago and who are even now helping them hunt a house up north of the river. Another long time friend of Mrs. Stillman's, Mrs. Bradford H. Whiting of 227 East Delaware place, gave a small luncheon for Mrs. Stillman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingals Pierce of 1337 Astor street and their daughter, Miss Adelaide Pierce, are to return on Sunday from a six weeks' stay at the Everglades club in Palm Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse of 40 Scott street and their daughter, Miss Martha Morse, have sailed for Europe, to be away until summer. The Morses will be joined by their son, Charles H. Morse Jr., who is at school in Switzerland.

Mrs. J. J. Kearney of Evanston has finished her winter travels in Spain and Portugal and is now starting on a trip up the French Riviera. She expects to return to Chicago soon after Easter.

◆

Day's News in Society

Two more members of Chicago's younger social set have selected mates from out of town, according to two interesting betrothal announcements made public yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Larned Greeley of 455 Maple avenue, Winnetka, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Walter Franklin Stiles Jr. of Fitchburg, Mass. Mr. Stiles is a graduate of Harvard and was in service in France during the world war. Miss Greeley is a graduate of Vassar college. The wedding is to take place in late May.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Helen Deaner of San Francisco to Lieut. Charles J. Rend, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose J. Rend of 910 Crescent place. Miss Deaner is the daughter of Mrs. William Deaner. She is a graduate of the University of California with the class of 1923 and has recently returned from an eighteen months' stay abroad. Lieut. Rend is a graduate of Annapolis, class of 1918. He is now on duty in Cuban waters as assistant engineering officer on U. S. S. Texas. The wedding is to be an event of the spring.

Mrs. John P. Wilson will be hostess at the monthly tea to be given by the English Speaking union at the Chicago Woman's club this afternoon. Mrs. Chauncey Borland and Mrs. Mark Skinner Willing will assist Mrs. Wilson. The tea is being given for Cyril Maude.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Ayer of 2 Banks street, who are sojourning in California, motored to Coronado Beach for a brief stay a few days ago, according to a southern California correspondent. Mrs. Philip L. Reed is among other Chicagoans who are now at Coronado. Many gay events were planned to entertain the naval officers yesterday when the entire Atlantic fleet was in San Diego harbor.

Miss Caroline Kirkland of 25 East Walton place will accompany Mrs. Francis J. Johnson of the Drake hotel when she goes to Florida next week. While Mrs. Johnson visits Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Miss Kirkland will be the guest of Mrs. William J. Chalmers.

Carnegie Foundation to Help Fix Music School Standards

A diploma from some music schools today means only that on the date stamped on the diploma the student's money gave out, Kenneth M. Bradley of the Bush Conservatory of Music said last night, adding that the Carnegie foundation and the National Association of Schools of Music and Allied Arts hope to correct such conditions. The Carnegie foundation promised, it was said yesterday, it will supply funds for a survey and campaign for the next two years to develop a standard system of courses for music schools.

"Now," Mr. Bradley said, "too many schools present only the musical opinions and manners of some one musician. A diploma from such a school means that a pupil has spent a certain length of time imbibing those ideas. This new code of requirements, which the association is working out, will chart standard courses, requirements, and subjects for every school of the association."

Mr. Bradley, who is the first president of the association, did not know just how much money will be needed for the survey which will be finished in about eighteen months. There are thirty schools in the association. One representative from each school is on the board of directors. They are working on a plan by which music schools can be as well organized as schools of engineering or medicine.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Worthy of Assistance.

"We are badly in need of help. My husband has been unable to work for the last year, being crippled with rheumatism. Our only income is what I make scrubbing and cleaning, and I have been unable to work for two weeks, due to the sickness of the children. I have four little ones, girls 12 and 11, and boys 14 and 9, who are in need of clothing. I can sew and remake clothing for them and would not waste any gift. One of our greatest needs is bedding, as we have no sheets or blankets. I will be glad for anything at all. A. S."

You will find this family a case of pathetic need, worthy of your generosity and assistance.

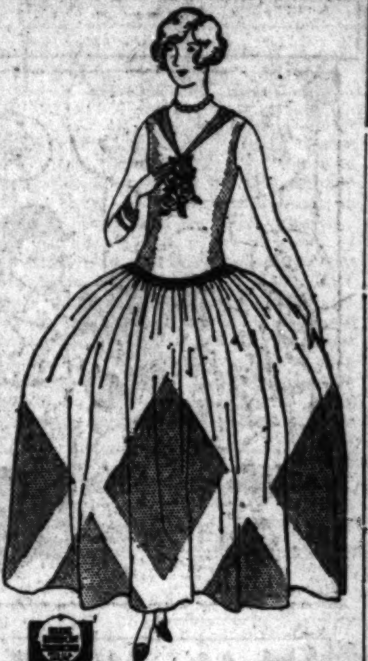
Diamond Shaped Appliques Make It Unusual

by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—In this case the queen of diamonds is also sure to be the queen of hearts. For a youthful figure in a period frock such as we present today is always marked for victorious entrance into the fashionable world. When, in addition to this charming silhouette, the frock possesses a diamond motif of novel interest, the conquest is made doubly sure.

Pink and blue are the colors selected here for their effect of fragile daintiness. For the body of the taffeta frock pink is used and blue for the large diamond shaped pieces of self material inserted in the skirt. A fold of blue taffeta at the neck is finished with a bunch of pink and yellow flowers.

Such large patterns of floral or geometric character for the ornamentation of bouffante frocks are much in vogue. They produce an effect of newness upon a mode which has for so long swayed the preferences of the younger fashion set. One of the most noted of New York couturiers created for the leading woman in a popular comedy a period frock decorated in huge pink flowers on a periwinkle gown. One flower was repeated on the bodice and one formed each cuff of the full peasant sleeves. Such a creation demonstrates anew that the charm of this silhouette is as potent for formal afternoon wear as it is for evening.

This mode is now adapted to the slender woman not in her first youth by a modification of its extreme outline. Recent collections have displayed charming frocks of tulle with skirts full, to be sure, but far less distended than in our model.

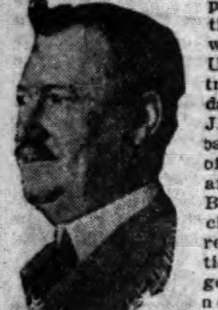
Trenton, N. J., March 12.—Echoes of the senate investigation of the department of justice last summer were heard in United States District court here today when Thomas J. Spellacy of Albany, ousted agent of the department, and William J. Burns, former chief of the bureau of investigation, testified as government witnesses against Tex Rickard and five co-defendants, charged with conspiracy to show the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films throughout the country.



W. J. BURNS.

Several witnesses, including William A. Aschmann, Chicago, branch manager of the Pathé Exchange, were called late in the afternoon, the testimony all relating to the taking of films into the various states and of the negotiations for rights to show the pictures. All of these negotiations, according to the testimony, were with Fred C. Quimby and William B. Randolph of New York, who has pleaded guilty to the charges.

Says Muma Confident.

Testifying this afternoon, Spellacy said Jasper C. [Jap] Muma, who is one of the defendants, told him the promoters of the fight pictures need have no fear of prosecution because it would mean "the biggest men in the country would be dragged into the case."

Burns, on the stand this morning, testified concerning a call made at his office by Muma and Quimby, who also is a defendant. Muma asked to see reports of the investigations being made of the film transportation, a request which Burns said he refused.

Ask About Dempsey.

Questioned on whether he had ever asked Muma if he had any connection with the picture, Burns replied:

"My recollection is that he told me himself he was connected with it. However, the witness said he was "pretty sure" Rickard's name was not mentioned.

Another attempt by Rickard's counsel to bring Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, into the case came when he asked Burns if he ever had heard they were interested in the picture.

TALABER ACCEPTS DEFI OF MEYERS; WILL GET $6,000

Lou Talaber, world's middleweight champion, yesterday accepted the challenge of Johnny Meyers, providing Johnny puts up the $6,000 which will go to Talaber win, lose, or draw. Meyers said the money will be up the first part of the week and then articles will be signed. The match is an attractive one and local promoters will start to bid for it as soon as the wrestlers' names are placed on the dotted lines.

Talaber and Bylund Meet Tonight on Theater Mat

Lou Talaber, the world's middleweight champion, and Bobby Bylund, the wrestling Swede of Minneapolis, will clash in the main event of the mat bouts at the Star and Garter tonight. Bylund is considered one of the leading 160 pounders in the country and has been seeking a match with Talaber since Lou won the crown from Joe Parelli. Bylund recently lost a long and hard match to Johnny Meyers at the Broadway armory and expects to gove the champion an interesting struggle. John Freberg and Charley Byrd will take holds in the other contest.

COVENANT BAPTISTS WIN.

With Joe Smidl, former Maroon athlete, starring, Covenant Baptist basketeers last night defeated the Bishop Cheney Memorial team, 26 to 15, and won the heavyweight championship of the Church A. A. cage league.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

BOXING NOTES

REM WILLIAMS, the Detroit welterweight matched to meet Billy Wells in East Chicago on Monday night, arrived in Chicago yesterday and worked at the Mullen gymnasium in the afternoon. Wells is doing his work at the Arcade while other fighters on the card are training at both gymnasiums.

Peter Sarmiento, the Filipino, and Connie Curry of Iowa were matched to box ten rounds before Frank Mulkern's club of Milwaukee on March 23. The weight will be 120 pounds and Sarmiento will be here early next week to train for a few days at the Mullen gymnasium.

Eddie Long, matchmaker for the East Chicago club, completed the card late yesterday afternoon for Monday night's show. In the eight round semi-windup, Ollie O'Neil of South Chicago will clash with Sammy Lloyd of Englewood at 122 pounds. Johnny Williams of Salt Lake and Paul Allen, the University of Illinois 122 pounder, will meet in one of the preliminaries, and Danny Kahn and Tom Migdal, local 158 pounders, will meet in the other six rounder. 'RECORD PURSES' FOR DEMPSEY GO COMMON

GIBBONS RESUMES WORK

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 12.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, who has been idle for the last two weeks, will resume active training tomorrow in preparation for his campaign for the world's heavyweight crown now held by Jack Dempsey. Gibbons' twin sons have been ill from pneumonia for two weeks and Tommy gave up training to be at their bedside.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—The Polo Grounds A. C., which will conduct bouts at the Polo grounds this summer under the direction of Charles A. Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, definitely entered into the bidding for a world's heavyweight championship bout today when Jimmy De Forest, the organization's matchmaker, wired an offer to Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, for a title bout against Harry Wills to be held not later than Sept. 25.

While the details of the offer were not disclosed, De Forest said they would assure the champion of more money than he ever had received.

Henderson Also Bidding.

Simultaneously Charles Henderson, the Long Island City promoter who is planning to build an arena near the Queensboro plaza, stated he was prepared to post a certified check for $500,000 with Kearns as a guarantee that if he closes a Dempsey-Wills match with him, there will be no legal interference with the fight.

Henderson said he had received every assurance the bout would be sanctioned in this state and no political efforts would be made to stop it. He also reiterated his previous announcement he was certain Dempsey and Wills would fight for him this year.

"Will give Dempsey a bigger amount than he has ever received for a world's championship bout if he will fight Harry Wills for the title at the Polo grounds not later than Sept. 25. Will meet you on your arrival in New York. Answer if interested."

Kearns Arrives Sunday.

Kearns is expected to arrive in New York on Sunday when a definite announcement is expected from Dempsey's manager as to the heavyweight championship plans for the outdoor season.

In explaining his offer to Kearns, De Forest said:

"I am not setting any specific figure in my offer. That would constitute a guarantee and guarantees of boxing purses are not permitted in this state. Dempsey repeatedly has stated he will gladly fight Wills if some responsible promoter would make a bona fide offer. Well, we have made him an offer. The Polo Grounds A. C. is a responsible club and it stands behind this offer."

Kaplan Signs for Coast Clash with McLean

San Francisco, Cal., March 12.—Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., the New York boxing commission's featherweight champion of the world, has been matched to fight a ten round bout with Stewart McLean of St. Paul, Minn., in the Oakland baseball park on the evening of April 1. Kaplan's title will not be involved.

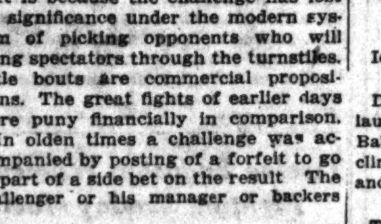
IN the WAKE of the NEWS

CHALLENGES.

WHY does the public at large attach so little importance to challenges directed at reigning pugilistic champions?

It is because the challenge has lost its significance under the modern system of picking opponents who will bring spectators through the turnstiles. Title bouts are commercial propositions. The great fights of earlier days were puny financially in comparison.

In olden times a challenge was accompanied by posting of a forfeit to go as part of a side bet on the result. The challenger or his manager or backers risked their own money on the result. Often the entire gate receipts, as well as the side bet, went to the winner.



Under such conditions, champions were bound to pay some attention to defis hurled at their supremacy because the public took all challenges backed by cold hard cash as evidence the challenger expected to win.

Present challenges, backed by a forfeit, mean only that the forfeit goes for weight—if weight is made—and appearance. There is a loser's end. Reputation is risked, but not money. That is why Dempsey and other champions have more latitude in the choice of opponents.

Sorrow.

There comes a time in all our lives
When sorrow pays a call;
We cannot dodge or pass it by,
It comes to one and all.
The rich or poor, it matters not,
Are treated all alike—
It seems to be our common lot
As we tread road or pike.
The actor, if death arrives, must carry on the same,
And laugh and strut and act his part,
Because it's in the game.
I write of this because right now
Sorrow has come my way,
For, with many thousand others,

MUNN WILL SEE MAT SHOW HERE TUESDAY

Wayne Munn, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, and Manager Gabe Kaufman will be in Chicago on Tuesday to witness the all star mat show to be conducted by Promoters Krone and Cutler in the Coliseum.

While Munn and his manager are in the city, Billy Sandow, manager of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, who meets Tommy Draak in the Tuesday night show, will make a flat offer of $30,000 to Manager Kaufman for a return match between Munn and Lewis. Sandow will be ready to put up all or part of the amount which will go to Munn, win, lose, or draw. At the same time Manager Kaufman will give a definite answer to the syndicate which has bid $100,000 for Munn's services until June 1.

Although Lewis wants the first shot at Munn, other grapplers on Tuesday night's card also are clamoring for a chance to match their skill with the Cornhusker. Among these are Joe "Toots" Mondt, the Colorado cowboy, who tangles with Mike Romano, the Italian heavyweight champion, and John Pesek of Omaha, who takes holds with Joe Komar in another bout of the all star card.

Ten Posts Enter Teams in Sixth Army Corps Games

Ten posts will be represented in the 6th army corps area athletic meet at Fort Sheridan March 16 to 21. Championships will be decided in boxing, wrestling, and basketball. Each post within the corps area has been holding elimination tournaments in these sports for the last two months.

WAUKEGAN ELKS WIN.

All but One of Bookies Here Paying Up on Miami Cleanup

BY FRENCH LANE.

Chicago handbook operators and betting commissioners were paying up yesterday on the bets they lost in the coup engineered by a group of New York gamblers on Wednesday's seventh race at Miami.

Some money they had bet off in the east had not been collected last night, however, and stories were heard that many layers in New York and Pittsburgh were refusing to settle. As far as could be learned only one of the big operators in Chicago had refused to pay. He is said to have lost about $18,000 on the race, most of his bets coming from New York.

Talk of Investigation.

There were rumors of a pool being raised to employ detectives to investigate the case. Officials of the Miami Jockey club took no official action, J. M. Smoot, the president, declaring the reports of the "cleanup" were ridiculous. He did not indicate the circumstances surrounding the race would be probed.

Some of the Chicago losers were endeavoring to get further details yesterday on the betting in the race from Miami.

Heavy Place Bet on Loser.

Except for one bit of information to the effect that an $8,000 place bet made by one man at the track on Attorney Muir, the horse that finished third in the race, was responsible for the unusual high odds for place on Dellahm and Firmament, the horses on which the "killing" was made.

A few Chicago operators were forced out of business, it is said, by the losses they took, bankrolls having been depleted. The amounts lost by dozens of Chicago layers ranged all the way from $1,000 to $30,000, it is reported.

MILWAUKEE GIRL BEATS EASTERN STAR IN FLORIDA

St. Augustine, Fla., March 12.—Miss Helen Payson of Portland, Me., youthful golfer who yesterday defeated Mrs. H. P. Turnbull, Philadelphia, here in the first round of match play of the Florida east coast women's championship golf tournament, today was eliminated by Miss Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee, 7 and 5.

Other eliminations of the city, including that of Miss Ruth Anne Perry young Philadelphia star, by Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, former national title holder, 2 up, and that of Miss Bernice Wall, Wisconsin state champion, by Mrs. Alex Smith, New York and Philadelphia, 2 and 1. Mrs. H. D. Sterrett of Hutchinson, Kas., medalist of the qualifying round, defeated Miss Harriet Ellison, Braeburn, 7 and 6.

QUATRAIN SHOWS DERBY CLASS IN ORLEANS VICTORY

New Orleans, La., March 12.—[Special.]—Quatrain, Frederick Johnson's great Derby colt, which has been assigned the top weight of 126 pounds in the Louisiana Derby, to be run here next Tuesday at Jefferson Park track, toyed with a field of three other horses today at a mile and seventy yards over the Jefferson course.

Turning into the stretch, Quatrain was three lengths behind the third horse. But he charged down the stretch at such terrific speed that he beat Starbeck for the count by a full head, and the latter was a nose in front of Lady Belle, while Benedict Vow was last.

'Tucky Derby Favorite.

Quatrain's fractional time for the distance was :24, :47 3-5, 1:13 1-5, 1:38 2-5, and 1:42 3-5, a fifth of a second behind the track record. No running such as the horse gave has ever been seen here, and there is little wonder why Quatrain is now the favorite in the Kentucky Derby. Many in the crowd declared him a greater stretch runner than Black Gold. He carried an impost of 116 ponds today, it being his first test under weight.

In the early Kentucky Derby winter book speculation Quatrain has been quoted at 7 to 1 in New York and 15 to 1 in the few books operating in Chicago.

The Louisian Derby Tuesday will be worth nearly $20,000 to the winner, and after today's racing it was indicated that a field of a dozen will start. It will be the richest stake ever decided at Jefferson park.

Public Likes Him.

Quatrain's victory today has made him a redhot public choice, and if he continues to show the high speed that has marked all his races here he will become the most dangerous contender for the Kentucky Derby of May 16.

Horse.	Owner.	Jockey.

DEMETRAL TRIAL FOR MAIMING MAT FAN STARTS

Cleveland, O., March 12.—William Demetral, Chicago heavyweight wrestler, went on trial here late today on a charge of maiming Joseph Di Lello, a spectator at a match between Demetral and Stanislaus Zbyszko.

Di Lello claims Demetral landed in his lap when thrown from the ring by Zbyszko. Becoming enraged when Di Lello attempted to push him back on to the mat, Demetral gouged his fingers into Di Lello's eyes, he claims, injuring his vision.

CUBS TACKLE ANGELS TODAY IN FIRST TILT

BY FRANK SMITH.

CHARLEY ROOT.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—[Special.]—Twenty-six Cubs, hand in hand with Manager Lotshaw, piled into the lobby of the Ritz hotel tonight, after a pleasant trip from Catalina island. The waters of the channel which separates Wrigley's kingdom from the mainland were calm and there was no sickness, judging from the way the athletes stampeded for grub once they were sure where they were going to sleep.

The Cubs, who will open a three game series with the Angels here tomorrow, put in some strenuous work this morning over on the island, but were given a rest after luncheon in order that Trainer Lotshaw and Secretary Seys might pack up the baseball tools needed for the invasion of historic Washington park.

Statz to Take Rest.

Arnold Statz and Joe Westnedge, the only two invalids on the squad, were in the party. Statz will rest for the next three days at his home here, while Westnedge will wend his way homeward after he witnesses some more major league ball. Both are well on the road to recovery, and Statz undoubtedly will be able to don a uniform on the Cubs' return to the island on next Monday.

Charlie Root, who was with Los Angeles last year and came out of the long schedule with 21 victories and 18 defeats, will start on the firing line for the Cubs, while tonight Marty Krug, a former Cub and now manager of the Angels, was undecided on his choice to go against his former star. It makes little difference to these Cubs, who during the week have been hitting the apple in big league style. And Krug's choice will have to be "in the pink" to stop them.

Cubs Wallop Rookies.

It seems to be a cinch that George Milstead, the ungainly left hander from Marshall, Tex., will be left here with the Angels, but Krug will have to wait until the next trip of the Cubs at least before he will be awarded another player in the swap that brought Root to the Cubs.

Willie Killefer's Cubs staged a brief practice game at noon today which was won by the regulars, 6 to 0. It would have been a better contest but Gabby Hartnett committed a passed ball in the first inning and helped the regulars to a pair of runs.

President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals went back to the mainland this afternoon after having luncheon with Mr. Wrigley. It seems as if his conferences with the Cub officials came to naught. There were rumors a trade was brewing, but nothing definite was accomplished.

SOX SLUGGING BALL

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Shreveport, La., March 12.—[Special.]—Four home runs featured a seven and a half round contest today at the White Sox training camp in which the Collins Colonels drubbed the Clancy Klan by a score of 12 to 2. It was so late before the battle ended a lot of fellows missed their lunch, but it was the longest and best workout the Sox crew have had since coming here.

The homers were socked by Ted Blankenship, Frank Wojack, George Bischoff, and Johnny Mostil, but there was a lot of other good hitting. Young Spencer Harris, who is looking more and more like a big leaguer every day, socked a couple of doubles and a single, Davis hit a two bagger and a single, and Mostil had a double and single besides his homer.

Mostil Scores Five Runs.

Johnny was up five times and scored five of the runs for the Collins team. Three pitchers worked on each side, Robertson, Cvengros, and Thurston hurling for Collins' team, while Faber, Blankenship, and Lyons toiled for the Klan. Lyons, who hasn't been in camp long enough yet to get his fast ball hopping or to use his curve, was the long suffering man of the six. In two rounds he was slapped for nine hits and nine runs. The others worked in pretty good style for this day.

The game was livened up considerably by the presence of Earl Sheely and Willie Kamm, who arrived in the camp late last night and took their first workout today. Collins wouldn't let them go very long, sending them to the showers after four innings.

"They're Ready," Says Buck.

Collins had himself, Sheely, Davis, and Wojack as his infielders, with Mostil, Barrett, and Harris in the out garden, and Crouse and Bischoff catching. Clancy had McClellan, [illegible] and Kamm, and Cortazzo with him in the infield, with Archdeacon, Elsh, and Falk as outfielders and Grabowski catching.

Trainer Buckner is authority for the condition of the athletes, and he says they are ready to go. Until the last day or two Buck has had to do a lot of muscle rubbing on the players, but most of the early soreness has disappeared.

RECORDS GO AS PURPLE LEADS BIG TEN SWIM

BY TED ISERMAN.

By qualifying men in ten of the preliminary heats of the Big Ten swimming championship meet at the University of Chicago last night, Northwestern university practically assured itself of another conference tank title. Ralph Breyer, veteran natator and captain of the Purple outfit, gained added honors for himself and his school by sinking two Big Ten and national collegiate records, navigating the forty yard swim in :18 3-5 and beating Dick Howell's time of :56 2-5 in the century swim by a full second.

These were the only two marks to be lowered in last night's swims. The competition was not particularly spirited, most of the mermen reserving their greatest effort for tonight, when the finals in all events will be held. The ease with which several of the athletes copped their events indicates that in addition to Breyer's performances several other marks will be sent to Davy Jones' locker in this year's tournament.

Faricy Easy Winner.

John Faricy, Minnesota, the record holder, didn't set out to do anything startling in the breast stroke, but distanced the other swimmers in his heat without any effort, making only 2:51 3-10. Paul Manovitz, one of Northwestern's four mermen, made the best time, doing 2:47 2-10.

Promise of the breaking of another mark was made in the relay when Northwestern's quartet, composed of Manovitz, Corbett, Ramsay, and Howell, swam the 160 yards in 1:20 2-5. The record, set by the Purple in 1923, is 1:19 1-10, which Coach Tom Robinson's outfit has bettered this season.

Illini Star Surprises.

There was one unexpected upset last night, L. E. Eldredge of Illinois beating M. B. Lake of Iowa in the plunge with a time of :17, the latter being doped to win, having beaten the conference time in dual competition.

Preliminaries in the fancy diving will be held at Bartlett gym this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The qualifiers follow:

220 YARDS FREE STYLE — Breyer and Howell, Northwestern; Lambert, Iowa; Sampson, Michigan. Best time by Howell, 2:31 2-10.

160 YARD RELAY—Wisconsin, Michigan Northwestern, Minnesota. Best time by Wisconsin, 1:19 1-5.

40 YARD SWIM — Breyer and Ramsay, Northwestern; Gilbrath, Herschberger and Hipple, Wisconsin; Gow, Michigan; Noyes, Chicago; Thompson, Indiana. Best time by Breyer, :18 7-10 [New conference record; former record, :19, by Breyer in 1923].

200 YARD BREAST STROKE—Faricy, Minnesota; Diamond, Chicago; Manovitz and Farrell, Northwestern; Wittingham, Michigan; Harkins, Chicago. Best time by Manovitz, 2:47 2-10.

150 YARD BACK STROKE—Hill, Minnesota; Ashton, Iowa; Kerr, Michigan; Gilbreath, Wisconsin. Best time by Hill, 1:52 2-5.

100 YARD FREE STYLE—Breyer and Manovitz, Northwestern; Gow, Michigan; Herschberger, Wisconsin. Best time by Breyer, :55 2-5. [New conference record; former record, :55 4-5, by Howell in 1924].

440 YARD SWIM — Howell and Corbett, Northwestern; Samson, Michigan; Dunekin, Michigan. Best time by Howell, 5:19 3-10.

GILL GUEST OF ILLINOIS GRADS HERE TOMORROW

Illinois alumni living in and near Chicago will tender Harry Gill, coach of the Orange and Blue track and field team, a testimonial dinner at the Orrington hotel tomorrow night at 6 o'clock. Gill is now coaching in his twenty-first year at Illinois, and during this span of years has by far the best record of any coach in the country.

Gill's Illinois teams have won the outdoor conference meet eight times. They finished second on four occasions, third in two years, finished fourth four times, were fifth on two occasions, and sixth once. Harry's teams won the Big Ten indoor championship games on seven occasions and were second five times, third once, and fourth once.

BRUINS' RALLY BEATS FAIRIES

Beloit, Wis., March 12.—[Special.]—Holding the Beloit Fairies to a lone field goal in the second quarter of their game here tonight, the Chicago Bruins amassed enough points in the last few minutes of play to win the fourth game between the two teams this season, 29 to 26. Taylor scored a basket in the last minute to win the game.

In the first half both teams shot wildly and the score at the rest period was 24 to 20 in Beloit's favor. Lineup:

POLO MATCH AT THE RIDING CLUB

Last night's entertainment at the Riding club was featured by a polo match in which a team made up of Corpening, Garfield, and Hillman defeated a combination composed of Hays, Bahr, and Foster, 10 to 5. Pen jumps and steeplechase races were also on the program. A banquet in the club lounging room concluded the evening.

Big Ten Track and Swim Championship Meets Tonight

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

While the western conference indoor swimming championships are being decided tonight in the University of Chicago pool, open events of the Big Ten indoor track and field championship games will be held in Patten gymnasium in Evanston.

The board of directors or graduate managing committee has decided trials in the 440 and 880 yard runs together with the pole vault will be held tonight starting at 8 o'clock. There will be at least half an hour's rest between the two runs as some coaches may decide to double back their runners if some fail to qualify in the first event held.

The coaches will meet with the board of directors at the University club at noon today to draw for heats in the dash and hurdles and pole positions in the runs. Scratches also will be made in the various events and other details arranged to insure tomorrow night's finals going run off with the proper dispatch.

Badgers, Wolverines Favorites.

As Wisconsin and Michigan are about equal favorites for the team championship, chances of either team will be brightened or dimmed by the results of tonight's trials. Indications are both schools will qualify one or more athletes in each event, but allowances must be made for the known ability of performers of other institutions.

Capt. James Brooker of Michigan and Bouscher of Northwestern are the two leading pole vaulters. Kreiger of Wisconsin and Hunsley of Illinois, are point possibilities. Brooker will make an attempt to shatter the world's indoor pole vault record of 13 feet, 5-8 inch, made by Dean Brownell in the same meet last winter. The Wolverine captain, who finished fourth in his specialty in the Olympic games last summer, won the event in the Illinois indoor relays by clearing the bar at 12 feet, 6¾ inches.

In tonight's preliminaries in the runs, Martin of Northwestern will be hard to keep out of the qualifying list. Indications are Coach Hill will start him in the half mile only. Among other good 880 yard runners are Vallely and Cassidy of Wisconsin, Reinke of Michigan, Ponzer of Illinois, Cusack of Chicago and Sorenson of Iowa.

Flock of Quarter Milers.

Flueck, Roberts and Kennedy of Wisconsin, MacFarlane and Spence of Chicago, Capt. Coulter of Iowa, Cole and Reynolds of Northwestern, Schock and Mehok of Illinois, Feinsinger and Gibbs of Michigan, and Alfred Johnson of Minnesota, are among the leading quarter milers. The number to run in each heat and the number to qualify for the finals will be determined at the meeting of the coaches and board of directors at noon today.

All teams will be in Chicago today. The track and field squads will be quartered at north side and Evanston hotels, while the swimming teams are stopping at south side hostelries. Tickets for both championships are on sale at Patten and Bartlett gymnasiums.

CHICAGO REDS WIN BY POINT IN A. A. U. MEET

Chicago Reds beat the Division Y. M. C. A. Bullets, 29 to 28, in a second round game of the Central States A. A. U. 135 pound basketball championship tournament at Broadway armory last night. The Reds led, 21 to 9, at half time, but after a strong rally the Bullets took the lead just before the game ended, only to lose it by one point.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the third round will begin with the 202d coast artillery five clashing with the Lake Shore Independents. Other games tonight will be: Jefferson Park Blues vs. Calumet K. C., Bethlehem Imps vs. Chicago Reds, and Fox Aces vs. Hull House Minnionettes.

THREE CHANGES PROBABLE IN GRIDIRON RULES

New York, March 12.—Three major changes in the football playing rules will likely be made when the football rules committee meets here tomorrow and Saturday. The three changes are the abolition of the first down after an offside penalty, the return of the kickoff to the kicker's forty yard line, and the return of the kicking tee for the kickoff. They were recommended by the Football Coaches' association and other bodies.

Aside from these three changes nothing radical is expected to develop at the meeting.

HOPPE RALLIES TO BEAT JAKE IN 7TH BLOCK

Boston, Mass., March 12.—[Special.]—After trailing by 323 to 33 at the end of the fourth inning, Willie Hoppe, former champion, rallied and with a run of 231 in the fifth inning and an unfinished run of 136 in the sixth defeated Young Jake Schaefer, the champion, in the seventh block of their ten block 18.2 balk line match here today, 400 to 331.

Hoppe now has won five of the seven blocks and is leading in point total with 2,661 against 2,483 for Schaefer.

Entries Close Today for C. A. A. U. Indoor Games

Entries for the Central A. A. U. indoor track and field championships to be held in the Broadway armory on March 20 close today with Charles A. Dean, 112 South Michigan avenue. In addition to the regular list of events the pole vault and two mile steeplechase have been added to the championship program. Joie Ray of the I. A. C. will attempt to shatter the world's indoor 1,000 yard record of 2:12 1-5 made by Larry Brown in 1921. The high school events, together with those for women, are attracting a large entry.

In Motordom

By J. L. JENKINS

HOW do you walk in relation to the flow of city traffic?

There is a right and a wrong way to walk, whether you are traveling in Chicago's loop or on a country road far from the roar and jam of city life, say safety experts who have just completed a pedestrian safety survey for the American Automobile association.

"The pedestrian seldom takes time to avoid the danger point or to consider which is the safest side of the street to use in walking," the report declares. "The all important precaution is to keep the line of vision clear, especially at street intersections. The majority of street accidents occur where motor vehicles make right hand turns and come up behind the pedestrian.

"To avoid this point it is safer to walk on the side of the street where one faces the approaching traffic and has a clear view of the right hand turners."

Safety on country roads lies in walking on the left side of the pavement or road and "against" the traffic. Scores of deaths have resulted from people using the right side of the road with vehicles approaching behind them. At night it is sometimes impossible to see a pedestrian on the highway ahead in time to avoid an accident.

PURDUE TRIMS BADGERS, 32-26, IN CAGE FINAL

Lafayette, Ind., March 12.—[Special.]—Purdue closed its western conference season here tonight with a 32 to 26 victory over Wisconsin. Winston Robbins, star Purdue floor guard, covered himself with glory by dropping in three long shots to give the Boilermakers a lead in the last half, after the Badgers had threatened from the start of the second period. Purdue led at the half, 14 to 13.

REISELT MAKES RECORD BEATING AUGIE TWICE

Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia won two National Three Cushion Billiard league games from Augie Kieckhefer yesterday, scoring 100 billiards in 57 innings, establishing a new season's low inning record in the afternoon game. He ran 50 points in 26 innings, which is 1 inning less than the record held jointly by John Layton and Allen Hall.

In the first tilt, Reiselt won, 50 to 17. The evening game lasted 31 innings, 50 to 32. The victor took the lead in the eleventh inning when he marked up a 10 for high counter of the day. Up to this time Augie had a good advantage.

Kieckhefer had high markers of 3 and 6, while Reiselt registered an 8 in the afternoon game. The games were played at the Kieckhefer recreation room.

NURMI BREAKS OWN 3,000 METER RECORD

New York, March 12.—Paavo Nurmi of Finland broke his own 3,000 meter record tonight in a special two mile race. His time of 8:26 2-5 bettered by two-fifths of a second the mark he made in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 15.

The Olympic champion covered the two miles in 9:03 1-5, five seconds behind his record. He had no trouble in lapping Andy Craw of New York and Jimmy Connolly, former Georgetown university star.

Nurmi's race was the feature of the annual Greek-American A. C. meet. He appeared to be in excellent condition after a journey that took him to Hamilton and Toronto in Canada and to Buffalo, Milwaukee, and Cleveland in the United States.

Willie Ritola, Nurmi's teammate in the Olympic games, ran three miles in 14:14, against his record of 13:56 1-5.

Willie Plant, American walking champion, defeated Phil Granville of Canada and the veteran Joe Pearman of New York in a two mile event, but failed to establish new time. He outclassed the field.

BUFFALO PAIR ROLLS INTO 2D PLACE IN A. B. C.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 12.—[Special.]—Just to relieve the monotony several Buffalo boys went out in the doubles and singles events of the American Bowling congress tourney here this afternoon and knocked off scores that changed leader positions as well as put them in the prize money.

New second placers were established when Dorman and Pfeiffer hit 1,220 in the doubles. A third place team developed in the two men event when the Kistner brothers of Buffalo registered 1,192.

In the singles Saur of Buffalo tipped the timber for a 607, which placed him second in the individual list.

Tomorrow night is the one that has been looked forward to ever since the tourney started, for it marks the first visit of out of town bowlers, among them several teams from Chicago and several from Detroit that are expected to make the present leaders take a back seat.

DIRECTORS OF BIG TEN SPORTS TO MEET TODAY

Athletic directors of western conference universities will hold a meeting this morning starting at 10 o'clock at the Auditorium hotel for a general discussion of the athletic situation in the Big Ten. The faculty committee will meet tomorrow morning at the same place and at the same hour. One of the most important subjects is the petition of about twelve football officials who were dropped from the Big Ten list because they officiated in professional games since the adoption of the Big Ten rule which prohibits a conference official working in a professional football struggle.

The faculty committee will take lunch with the board of directors at the University club and attend the Big Ten track and field championships at Patten gymnasium tomorrow night.

ST. PHILIP'S FIVE LOSES BY 34 TO 11 IN A. A. U. MEET

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Washburn college of Topeka, Kas., completely outclassed St. Philips A. C. of Chicago, winning, 34 to 11, and entered the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. basketball tourney here tonight.

The Moon A. C. of Lafayette, Ind., won a place in the semi-finals by eliminating the Southern Surety company team of Des Moines, Ia., 44 to 41. Kansas City Athletic club advanced to the semi-finals by submerging Lombard college of Galesburg, Ill., 34 to 26.

The other team to enter the semifinal round was the Hillyards of St. Joseph, who defeated the Schooleys of Kansas City, 38 to 33.

PURPLE TRUSTEES TO TALK STADIUM

Plans for the new Northwestern university stadium will be discussed today and some definite announcements made regarding the beginning of construction at a luncheon to be given by the trustees and business office force at noon at the University club. Woods and Waters

by BOB. BECKER

ARE YOUR BIRD BOXES READY?

NOW is the time to wield the saw and hammer if you are going to build any bird boxes, as the birds that you want to nest in your yard will soon be here. One can design and construct a number of novel and at the same time practical bird boxes at home with few tools and little work, although good boxes can be purchased so cheaply that (aside from the fun of constructing them) it hardly pays to open up the home workshop for the making of bird homes.

It pays to get the bird boxes in position quite early in the season. As wrens like to be close to a house, you can often hang a home for these birds in such a position that you will be able to watch the occupants from a window. Last summer we had two wren houses occupied. One was fastened on the house near the back door, and the other was nailed to a tree some eight feet from the ground and about 10 feet from a kitchen window.

When a family moved into the box which was fastened to a big tree it was possible to observe the wrens without leaving the house. We had a show going on nearly every hour of the day, to say nothing of music, as the wrens are regular light opera stars.

PREP GIRLS IN GOLF MEET.

INTERSCHOLASTIC AT EVANSTON TO DRAW BIG FIELD

Entries continue to pour in from all parts of the country enrolling the cream of the prep school athletes in the thirteenth annual interscholastic track and swimming meet to be held at Northwestern university March 20 and 21, and officials of the meet estimate that a record field will be registered before the lists are closed. Last year the meet drew close to a thousand track and swim stars, eclipsing all former marks, but the present meet will probably top that number by at least a hundred.

"Eckie" Track Official.

Walter Eckersall, THE TRIBUNE'S sport expert, has been named as starter and chief judge of the track events, a position which he has handled for several years. Tom Robinson, the coach who has made the Purple team famous in national swimming circles, will preside over the events in the tank. Most of the other officials will be prominent Purple athletic luminaries.

Thirty-one schools, ranging from Atlantic City to Atlanta, Ga., have sent in applications for entry blanks, according to Coleman Woodbury, student manager of the meet. Chief among the track entries is Cedar Rapids, Ia., runners-up in last year's meet.

Atlantic City May Enter.

Atlantic City, winner of the swim events in easy style last year, has applied for blanks, and although no entries have been received from the east to date it is almost a certainty that they will again be represented.

SUBURB PREPS TO MEET FOR TITLE

The lightweight basketball championship of the suburban league will be decided tonight when Thornton, B division title holder, tackles New Trier, A division champion, at the Thornton gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

A Mild Character—a Distinctive Blend

NOWHERE can you duplicate the mild, yet distinctive character of El Producto. It is due to the blend—and the blend is uncopyable.

But more—the blend never varies! Always you can be sure that the El Producto you buy tomorrow will have the same mild, distinctive character that so delighted you today. That is saying a lot, but there are thousands of day-in and day-out El Producto smokers to vouch for it.

STOCKS ADVANCE ON BIG BUYING IN WALL STREET

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

	High.	Low.	Last.	Net chge.
25 railroads	81.44	80.30	80.90	+.64
25 industrials	140.46	138.80	139.69	+.97
50 stocks	110.95	109.44	110.29	+.80

New York, March 12.—The stock market moved irregularly higher under the leadership of the railroad and public utility shares. Many active issues showed net gains of 1 to 3 points with a dozen or so specialties scoring advances of 5 to 11 points.

There was a marked relaxation of selling pressure. Bear traders covered freely, with the market showing a tendency to dullness when their immediate requirements had been met. Buying of the rails was stimulated by improvement in earnings and rumors of other favorable dividend and merger developments affecting the southwestern carriers.

New Peak for Wabash.

The three Wabash issues recorded new peak prices for the year on extreme gains of 2@3 points. Rock Island closed 2 points higher at 52¼. Western Pacific, which recorded a 16 point advance yesterday by touching 55, forfeited more than half of its gain, closing at 46¼. Reading was bid over 3 points to 79¼ and then eased to 78¾. Norfolk and Western showed an extreme gain of 4½ points at 131¼, and then slipped back to 130½.

Good buying also was noted in Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, Atlantic Coast Line, Canadian Pacific, Chicago and Alton preferred, Chicago and Eastern Illinois common and preferred, Lackawanna, Pere Marquette, Frisco common, St. Louis Southwestern common and preferred, Seaboard Air Line preferred, and Texas and Pacific, all of which closed 1@2½ points higher.

Utah Securities Also Higher.

Utah Securities soared over 10 points to a record top at 69¾ on reports that its assets would be taken over by a new company. Laclede Gas rose 6¾ points to 161¾. The Federal Light and Traction issues each advanced about 2 points. American Water Works common and 6 per cent preferred and Public Service of New Jersey also attained new peak prices for the year.

The rise in the so-called pivotal industrials was a more orderly one. U. S. Steel crossed 124 and then slipped back to 123¾, up ⅛. Baldwin showed a net gain of 1⅝ at 137⅛, and American Can closed ¼ higher at 177¾ after selling 2 points above that figure. Studebaker showed a small fractional gain at 44¼.

General Electric Gains.

General Electric advanced 12 points to 277, closing a point below the top. Ludlum Steel jumped nearly 8 points to 44½. Other outstanding strong spots included Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, American Linseed, preferred, Associated Dry Goods, the Commercial Solvents issues, Magma Copper, Loews, Inc., Famous Players, and Pressed Steel Car, the net gains in which ran from 2 to 7 points.

The Fair.

G. F. D., Crete, Ill.: The Fair has been successfully in business in Chicago for fifty years. On Feb. 21, 1925, the store and business was sold to the S. S. Kresge interests. Mr. Kresge, now the largest individual stockholder, has been made chairman of the board of directors. Since 1899 he has built up the S. S. Kresge company from one store to 261 stores at present. D. F. Kelly, who has been general manager for some years, will continue in that capacity and has been elected president. The company has outstanding $4,000,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock and is offering 240,000 shares of no par common stock, making a total of 375,000 shares of common presently to be outstanding. The balance sheet as of Jan. 31, 1925, after giving effect to the capital readjustment, shows net assets of $11,862,986, including net quick assets of $3,381,033, available for both classes of stock. Net earnings, adjusted to present conditions, for the year ended Jan. 31, 1925, were $1,270,636, equal to $3.64 per share on the common stock presently to be outstanding. For the last twenty-five years such earnings have averaged $1,098,567, or $3.18 per share on this stock. It is stated to be the intention of the board to place this stock on a $2.40 per annum dividend basis. The company has no bonded debt. This stock deserves a fairly good rating among common stocks.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Thursday, March 12, 1925.

Year ago 16,500   Previous year 2,255,289

The more active issues in Chicago stocks were strong yesterday, the principal exceptions being Fair Store common and Stewart-Warner. The latter closed ⅝ lower after a turnover of about 12,000 shares and the former lost a point. Kraft Cheese was off ⅛. The recent strength in Middle West Utilities, which yesterday advanced ⅝, is attributed to belief that the directors will consider the initiation of common dividends after June 1, when the five year stipulation in the reorganization plan to withhold common dividends expires. Cudahy and Swift gained ⅛ each and Yellow Cab gained ¼, while Union Carbide was ⅛ higher.

The income account of Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, which was not included in the annual report made public yesterday, was given to the exchange yesterday and shows net income of $1,926,062, equal to $27.89 a share on the 69,015 shares of capital stock outstanding, compared with $1,290,856, or $18.70 a share, in 1923. On small sales gains were: Middle West Utilities preferred, 2⅝; United Light and Power A, 1½; Yellow Manufacturing, 1⅝, and Electrical Research Laboratories, Midland Steel Products, and McCord Radiator, a point each. Independent Pneumatic Tool was off a point.

COTTON MARKETS

Cotton prices were lowered in all markets and closed 35@40 points down on futures and 45 points off on spots. Rains in Texas, with prospects for more, combined with liquidation and selling by professional traders who are in Florida, was the main feature. Spots in India and Egypt were higher. News from the print cloth and yarn trade was more favorable, but had no effect. Prices in leading markets follow:

Wanted Correspondent for Bond House

ONE of our investment banking clients of wide reputation needs the services of a young man between 25 and 30, conservatively trained in the bond business, with ability to sell by mail and advertising. He should understand financial statistics, correspondence, contact with salesmen, and theory of successful advertising followup. Only a man with active bond experience need apply. Perhaps a salesman who does not feel temperamentally fitted for personal solicitation may find his real opportunity in this position. Interviews will be held confidential. The following summarizes information contained in a letter from Mr. E. A. Loveley, President of the Detroit Metropolitan Corporation:

ORGANIZATION AND PROPERTY

Detroit Metropolitan Corporation has been organized under the laws of Michigan to acquire the fee title to 40,296 square feet of land, located at the junction of Bagley Avenue and Clifford Street, Detroit, Michigan, and to erect thereon and operate an office and theatre building to be known as the Detroit Metropolitan Building. These bonds will be secured by first mortgage lien upon such land and building. The structure, to be built from plans of C. W. and Geo. L. Rapp, Architects, by The Lundoff-Bicknell Co., Cleveland, under a completion bond furnished by The Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York, will consist of a 12-story office building, designed to permit of five additional stories, and a connected moving picture theatre building, both of the highest-grade, steel, fireproof construction throughout. The office building will contain 124,356 square feet of net rentable area, and will have stores on the first and second floors. Excellent light facilities will be secured through frontages on two streets including 220 feet on Bagley Avenue, and, in addition, unobstructed outlook in the rear above the theatre roof. Detroit Properties Corporation, which owns all the capital stock of Detroit Metropolitan Corporation, owns the remainder of this block, thereby controlling the character of any adjacent development. The theatre will be of modern design and equipment and will have a seating capacity for 4,100 persons.

Bagley Avenue, with a width of 120 feet at this point, is a main thoroughfare, running southwest from Grand Circus Park, which is the hub of the shopping, business and theatre district of Detroit. The Statler and Tuller Hotels are located at the intersection of Bagley Avenue and Grand Circus Park, within 300 feet of the Detroit Metropolitan Building.

SECURITY

The value of the land and building to be subject to the lien of this mortgage is in excess of $6,000,000, as follows:

Appraised value of land (unimproved)	*$2,125,000
Cost of building (including architects' fees, taxes, interest and other expenses incidental to construction)	4,027,807
Total	$6,152,807

*Appraisal by Homer Warren & Company, Detroit, who also appraise the land, when improved by the building, at $3,022,224.

This bond issue, therefore, represents less than two-thirds of the value of the mortgaged property.

A surety bond guaranteeing completion of the building, according to plans and specifications, has been obtained from The Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York. Title insurance in the total amount of $4,000,000 will be furnished by Union Title & Guaranty Company, Detroit.

THEATRE RENTAL AND EARNINGS

The theatre has been leased for a period of fifty years from completion of construction, at an annual rental of $250,000, to Balaban & Katz Corporation of Michigan. All the capital stock of this corporation is owned by Balaban & Katz Corporation, Delaware, which reports net earnings of approximately $1,600,000 for the year ended December 31, 1924.

Net earnings from the building, available for interest on these bonds, after giving effect to the lease of the theatre and after allowing for 10% vacancy in the office building, have been estimated by Homer Warren & Company, at $516,505, or approximately twice the maximum annual interest charge. The annual rental of the theatre alone practically covers such interest charge. The company estimates such net earnings at $557,100.

SINKING FUND

The Mortgage will provide for a semi-annual sinking fund, beginning March 1, 1928, sufficient to retire $2,400,000 of the bonds prior to maturity by purchase at or below the redemption price, or, if not so obtainable, by call by lot at that price.

EQUITY

The equity, representing an investment in excess of $2,000,000, is owned by Detroit Properties Corporation, through acquisition of the entire capital stock of Detroit Metropolitan Corporation.

We offer these bonds for delivery, if, when and as received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel.

UTILITY MERGER AFFECTS MANY WESTERN CITIES

BY O. A. MATHER.

Another big consolidation of public utilities in the southwest and west was announced yesterday.

It closely follows and to a degree supplements the recent segregation by the General Electric company of its public utility holdings into the Electric Bond and Share Securities corporation.

Now the Electric Power and Light corporation has been formed. It will take over the assets of the Utah Securities corporation and also the common stocks and certain other securities now held by the Electric Bond and Share company, of the New Orleans Public Service, Dallas Power and Light, Dallas Railway, Texas Interurban railway, and Power Securities companies. The last named company owns the common stock and other securities of the Idaho Power company.

Serve 253 Communities.

These component companies serve 253 communities and have 3,541 miles of electric transmission lines and 5,267 miles in electric distribution systems. The new holding corporation will have an authorized capitalization of 500,000 shares of $7 cumulative preferred voting stock, 120,000 shares of $7 cumulative second preferred nonvoting stock, and 2,400,000 shares of common stock, all without par value.

The Utah Securities corporation will distribute to its stockholders $10 in cash and four shares of common stock of the new company for each Utah Securities share. The directors yesterday approved the provisions of the plan, subject to confirmation by stockholders at a special meeting to be called later. The Electric Bond and Share Securities corporation yesterday placed its common stock on a $1 annual basis by declaring an initial quarterly dividend of 25c.

Big U. S. Finance Deals.

Although the government's quarterly financial operations this week and next will involve a turnover in funds of around $1,000,000,000, there is no appearance of strain on the money and credit situation. Money rates have firmed somewhat in the last few weeks and bankers expect the present rate level to continue until seasonal commercial and agricultural borrowing is satisfied.

The weekly report of the federal reserve system shows an increase in loans of only $9,556,000, while bills bought declined $2,287,000. Government securities increased $5,597,000. Earning assets rose $12,866,000. Gold and total reserves expanded $13,852,000 and $14,726,000 respectively. Deposits were up $17,799,000, due entirely to member bank reserve credits increasing $35,282,000. Note circulation gained $3,301,000. The ratio of reserves to liabilities stood at 75.5 compared with 75.8 per cent in the preceding week.

Dividend News Cheerful.

Dividend news continued cheerful yesterday. The Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad placed its common stock on a $3 annual basis by declaring an initial quarterly dividend of 75 cents. The Canfield Oil company declared a 20 per cent stock dividend and increased the common stock from $750,000 to $1,250,000. The J. W. Murray Manufacturing company declared a 2 per cent stock dividend. The Cadillac Storage company declared an extra of one-half of 1 per cent. The West Comstock Gold Mines declared an initial dividend of 4 per cent.

The Devoe and Reynolds company increased its common stock annual rate from $5 to $6 by declaring a quarterly dividend of $1.50. The Seiberling Rubber company declared three dividends of $2 each, payable in April, May and June. The Ideal Cement company declared initial dividends of 75 cents on the common and $1.75 on the preferred stocks.

WALL STREET NOTES

Strength of the public utility shares featured yesterday's curb market, which showed a marked improvement in tone. National Power and Light soared 11 points to 221. Electric Bond and Share securities closed nearly 4 points higher at 62¼. American Power and Light gained 4⅝ points and Lehigh Power Securities 3.

A jump of 5 points in Cities Service common and losses of about a point each by Standard Oils of Kansas and New York were the principal developments in the oil group. Strong spots in the industrial list included Lehigh Valley Coal certificates, Continental Baking 41, Frank Shattuck company, and Car Lighting and Power, the last named selling at the highest price in several years. Goodyear Tire broke 2¼ points.

With selling pressure lifted from St. Paul railway obligations, bond prices scored moderate recovery. Buying support checked the drastic decline of St. Paul liens today and the 4s of 1925 rallied 2¼ points. Scattered selling of some of the other issues continued, but recessions were limited to fractions.

The progress noted in railroad consolidation plans in the southwest stimulated trading in these issues. Buying of Rock Island obligations was promoted by that road's acquisition of the "Cotton Belt," which Wall street felt had improved its strategic position for a new merger or entry into the Southern Pacific system. Gains of 1@2 points were recorded by Chicago and Alton 3½s, Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s, Chicago Great Western 4s, and International Great Northern adjustment 6s and "Katy" adjustment 5s.

PREDICTS ASIA WILL BE FUTURE CENTER OF TRADE

BY SCRUTATOR.

From his post on one of the western shoulders of Asia, just close enough to the European scene to get its perspective as a whole, one of THE TRIBUNE foreign service men has propounded in a letter predictions and queries.

"I think we can take it for granted that the Pacific markets—China, India and Japan, notably—will soon be more important than European and South American markets," he writes. "As the nearest industrial neighbor the United States will get the bulk of the far eastern trade.

"If the Pacific coast is going to have more trade than the Atlantic coast I suppose it means a vast change in the whole industrial organization of the United States.

"Can the east continue to be the industrial section of the country, if the main flow of trade is westward?

"The shifting of industry to the Pacific coast means the shifting of population, and that means political changes.

"In other words, we may be facing profound changes in every phase of our national organization."

It may be of interest to check up this long distance observation with some facts close to hand.

The 1924 imports of the United States from Asia represent an increase of 234 per cent in ten years and the exports to Asia show an increase of 255 per cent in the same period.

In the same time the imports from Europe showed an increase of only 22 per cent and exports of 64 per cent. As these percentages are based on prices, they really represent a great increase of volume of business with Asia, but little, if any, real increase with Europe.

It is true also that Asiatic business increased more rapidly than our business with South America. The increase of that trade in ten years was 103 per cent in imports and 152 per cent in exports.

The figures on the business of the Pacific ports also throw support to the correspondent's main idea. But on the other hand the figures as to increased traffic through the Panama canal and the increase of manufacturing in the midwest show that the rest of the country is taking a substantial share of the increased Asiatic business, and with water way outlets the midwest can expect even more.

The exports from the United States from Pacific ports, according to the Trade Record of the National City bank of New York were $132,000,000 in 1914 and $447,000,000 in 1924. The imports through those ports amounted to $149,000,000 in 1914 and $478,000,000 in 1924.

On the other hand, the percentage of the manufactured output of the United States credited to the mountain and Pacific states tributary to those ports remains small. It was 4.7 per cent of the total in 1900, 6.3 per cent in 1914, and 6.9 per cent in 1921. In this same period the percentage of the total manufactured output on the Atlantic frontage has been decreasing, while that of the Mississippi valley has risen from 38.5 per cent in 1900 to 41.3 in 1914 and 41.4 in 1921. If the steel operations in the Chicago district are any index the midwest is now forging ahead even faster.

The total value of the property is $11,400,000, so the combined mortgage debt is only 59% of the value.

GRAIN MARKET TONE IS HEAVY; EXPORTS LIGHTER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets showed a relatively heavy undertone the greater part of the day, with wheat ⅛@4½c lower, the latter on July. May acted tight, due to commission house buying, while the July was under pressure from local traders, and there was also selling on reports of rains in Texas and Oklahoma, which will be highly beneficial in some sections. May closed at $1.81¼, July at $1.57@1.56⅞, and September at $1.46⅛@1.46¼. Corn was 1⅞@2¼c lower, with oats unchanged to ½c lower and rye off 2¼@3⅝c.

Aside from the rain reports from parts of the southwest little change was shown in the wheat situation. Export demand was slow, with sales of around 250,000 bu, European buyers showing little interest in the market. Russia was reported after flour in Canada, and London cabled that Russia had bought Australian wheat. This probably had some effect on Liverpool, which was only ¼@½d lower at the last despite the sharp break in American markets on Wednesday.

May Wheat Acts Tight.

May wheat was in demand, with a strong commission house an aggressive buyer at times, and there was also local buying. Many of the pit element took the May and sold the July as a hedge, and helped to widen the difference to around 24¼c, compared with 17c recently, after having sold as much as 32c apart in the last few weeks. The weakness in northwestern markets gave the local bears encouragement, and sentiment on the whole was more in favor of lower prices than for some time past. Buenos Aires closed ½c lower.

The trade look for fairly liberal world's shipments this week, with possibly some increase on ocean passage. At the close Chicago July was about 36c under Liverpool, but there was no evidence of spreading of consequence between the two markets during the day. At the low point July sold the lowest it has in several weeks, getting 2¼c under the inside figure it made when sold at $1.59 when the May was around $1.77.

More Pressure on Corn.

Corn showed a heavy undertone a good part of the day and closed within a fraction of the bottom, with May $1.26⅝@1.26½, July $1.29⅝@1.29¾, and September $1.29¼@1.29⅜. Trade was largely of a local character, with many operators doing little, as the market has failed to show a decided trend for some weeks past, the fluctuations as a whole being a reflection of those in wheat. Prices at the low point were in new ground on the present downturn. Cash demand was only fair, with the spot basis unchanged to 3c higher, better quality and buying by Ohio and Indiana markets being a factor.

Oats showed independent strength as the result of the recent improvement in the cash demand, and the nearby deliveries showed little change in price as compared with Wednesday's finish, reacting after an early bulge in sympathy with the break in other grains. Rains in the southwest will be beneficial for newly sown grain. There was selling of July and buying of May at 1½c difference to turn over hedges.

Scattered liquidation was on in rye, and while there was good buying at times by houses with seaboard connections the undertone was heavy. Export demand was reported as fair, but no sales were claimed.

Provisions Close Higher.

Scattered longs were on the selling side of provisions, while packers' brokers were the best buyers. Hogs were strong, which had some influence on futures, and at the close lard was 7½@10c higher, with ribs and bellies 5@7½c higher. Deliveries on March contracts were 50,000 lbs lard. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export demand for wheat was slow with sales in all positions finally estimated at 250,000 bu. Exporters took 225,000 bu at Omaha Wednesday and yesterday, while at Kansas City milling sales were 75,000 bu.

Chicago handlers sold 12,000 bu wheat, 12,000 bu corn and 56,000 bu oats to the domestic trade with 150,000 bu corn to go to store.

No. 2 red winter wheat on track here brought 8c over May, or about in line with recent nominal figures. No. 2 hard sold at 2½c under the future. Receipts 15 cars. Outside markets were 2c higher to 1c lower, both Kansas City and Omaha closing at the low point.

Quality of the corn received here during the day was much better than of late nearly 50 per cent of the receipts of 159 cars grading No. 4 or better. Toledo, Indianapolis and Terre Haute continue to buy here. Cash basis was unchanged to 3c higher with No 3 grades 8@13c under May; No. 4 grades, 12@23c under; No. 5 grades, 13@30c under and No 6 grades 32½@40c under. Outside markets were unsettled, and 3c higher to 2c lower.

Cash oats sold fairly with No. 2 white ½c under to ½c over May and No. 3 white 1½c@2½c under. Receipts 42 cars.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

WALGREEN DRUG AND WOOLWORTH LEASE NEW SITES

The latest loop lease is that just consummated by the Walgreen Drug company of the corner store in the Grace Hotel building at the southeast corner of Jackson boulevard and Clark street. The lessor is Mrs. David Bremner.

Ten years is the term of the lease, beginning May 1, on a guaranteed rental and percentage basis, which is figured to make the consideration for the full period approximately $350,000.

E. F. Keebler & Co. handled the negotiations for the lessor. This is the third loop corner lease to be closed by the Walgreen company during the past month, and the store, when opened, will be the sixty-third in their chain.

Announcement of another F. W. Woolworth store came yesterday with the recording of the transfer of two 99 year leasehold estates and buildings on the southeast corner of Halsted and 13th streets to the 5 and 10 cent store company of George B. and Sara Friend.

A reported consideration of $150,000 was paid by the company. The two lots are adjoining, giving a total frontage of 48½ feet on Halsted street and a depth of 102 feet. Both leases have 82 years to run, at an annual rental for both of $2,000. The Woolworth company will take possession May 1, 1927, and erect a new two story store, giving up their present store at 1247 South Halsted street.

In addition to the leaseholds, the Woolworth company, also purchased the 54x62 lot on 13th street, just east of the corner property, for a reported $11,000. E. C. Summerfield was broker, E. H. Williams represented the company, and D'Ancona & Pflaum acted for the sellers.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

There is a bearish situation in corn, as seen by leading manufacturers of the various corn products. A conference of manufacturers has been on here for several days and the consensus of opinion is said to be against high prices, even in the face of a short crop and the smallest farm reserves in years. They say that corn prices are so high that cane sugar is being substituted for glucose by candy and hootch makers. Potato starch is substituted for corn starch. There is very little demand for feed, while syrups are the only bright spot, and they are selling fairly. They say there is no profit in the business.

There is a larger percentage of bears on grains among the local traders and the disposition is to sell the entire list on sharp bulges. Professionals and commission houses are advocating buying on sharp breaks only. May wheat is regarded as in a strong position, owing to large holdings and houses who have advocated buying that delivery remain bullish.

Foreigners have been liberal sellers of wheat in Chicago and Winnipeg for several days. They are said to be hedging against purchases on ocean passage, some of which are about due to arrive in Europe. The foreigners have been speculating on a large scale in all the markets and are said to be long wheat. Liverpool cables intimated that the strength there was due to covering by shorts.

"There was 8,000,000 bu of short wheat covered, which advanced prices," said a pit trader. "After it was over the market broke nearly 4 cents. I cannot see that it is a bull market."

The head of one of the leading corn industries says that there will be more corn than wanted next September unless there is an unfavorable crop season. There are fewer cattle and hogs to feed and high prices is checking consumption

MANUFACTURERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, Trustee

Property: The 692 Broadway Building, New York City, occupies approximately 15,000 square feet of land. It is situated on the southeast corner of Broadway and Fourth Street two blocks south of the John Wanamaker Store, runs through the entire block front to Lafayette Street and has 395 feet of outside light.

The Building, 12 stories and basement, was completed in 1911, has a concrete foundation, structural steel frame, concrete floors, brick and stone exterior, and is completely equipped with sprinkler system. There are three street frontages, and the interior is so arranged that every rental unit has the benefit of a proportionate part of this outside light.

The Building containing a net rentable floor area of 144,767 square feet is used for offices and lofts. It was erected by Thompson Starrett Company and its structural soundness has been approved by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc.

Sinking Fund: The mortgage will provide for deposits with the Trustee of $62,500 annually in quarterly installments commencing June 1, 1925, for the payment of interest, and $88,000 annually thereafter in quarterly installments commencing June 1, 1927, for the payment of interest and principal.

This Sinking Fund will, it is estimated, reduce the amount of the Loan over 50% by maturity, or to a figure substantially less than the present valuation of the land alone.

Security: This loan will be secured by first closed mortgage on the above described land and building, owned in fee simple, valued, according to two recent independent appraisals by J. Romaine Brown Co. and W. Albert Pease, Jr., at $1,670,000 and $1,675,000 respectively. The Loan is, therefore, less than 60% of the appraised valuation of land and building. The value of the land alone, according to these appraisals, exceeds $550,000.

Title to the property will be insured by the New York Title and Mortgage Company, New York. Adequate insurance will be carried payable to the Trustee.

Legal for Trust Funds: Based upon these appraisals, this Loan, in the opinion of counsel, will be legal for the investment of Trust Funds under the laws of the State of New York upon the issue of the Loan as planned.

Earnings: Gross rentals from the building for the year ended December 31, 1924, with leases at the very low basis of approximately $1.20 per square foot including the ground floor, amounted to $170,405.47; operating expenses, including taxes, were $56,877.60; leaving net $113,527.87; maximum annual interest charges are $62,500.

Legal matters in connection with this Mortgage Loan are under the supervision of Messrs. Noble, Morgan & Scammell. Engineers' report by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc. These securities are offered when, as and if issued, and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel.

The issuance, guaranty and sale of these Bonds are subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission

Samuel Rea, Esq., President of The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company, in a letter dated March 11, 1925, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned, writes in part as follows:

"These Bonds are to be the direct obligation of The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company and will be guaranteed as to both principal and interest by endorsement by The Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The Bonds are to be issued under the General Mortgage of the Company dated June 1, 1920, and will be secured by a direct mortgage upon all the lines of railroad and appurtenances thereto now owned by the Company and upon all properties acquired by the issuance of any of the General Mortgage Bonds. The present properties include about 1,862 miles of railroad from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Columbus, O., Indianapolis, Jeffersonville (across the Ohio River from Louisville, Ky.), Terre Haute, Ind., East St. Louis and Chicago, Ill., together with all appurtenances, equipment, engine houses, etc., large and valuable shops, freight stations and yards at most of these cities: the shops at Columbus, O., being the largest shops west of Pittsburgh on the Pennsylvania Railroad System. These General Mortgage Bonds are subject to $69,753,000 of prior lien bonds which may not be extended or renewed and for the retirement of which, at or before maturity, General Mortgage Bonds are reserved.

The railroad covered by the General Mortgage embraces lines in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Illinois, the line from Pittsburgh, Pa., through Columbus, O., and Indianapolis, Ind., to East St. Louis, Ill., comprising the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad System between Pittsburgh and St. Louis, with important branches extending to Wheeling, W. Va., Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati, O., and Chicago, Ill. The Company's lines also form an alternate route for direct traffic from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

The purpose of the sale of these bonds is to provide funds to make payment to the United States Government for capital expenditures made by it upon the property of this Company during Federal control, to repay money heretofore borrowed for the purpose of making payments on account to the Government for such expenditures, to pay The Pennsylvania Railroad Company for capital expenditures made by it upon the property of the Company and to retire maturing prior lien obligations.

All of the railroad properties of The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company are leased to The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, under a lease running for 999 years from January 1, 1921. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company agrees under said lease to pay a sum sufficient to cover interest on indebtedness, sinking funds, taxes, administration expenses and 4% dividends on the capital stock of the Company for the first five years and 5% dividends thereafter.

The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company has outstanding $84,714,500 of capital stock of which The Pennsylvania Railroad Company or its subsidiaries own approximately 99%.

The total authorized amount of the General Mortgage Bonds is limited so that the amount thereof at any one time outstanding, together with all outstanding prior debts of the Railroad Company, after deducting therefrom the bonds reserved under the General Mortgage to retire prior debts at maturity, shall not exceed three times the then outstanding paid-up capital stock of the Railroad Company. Of the authorized amount there will be outstanding in the hands of the public, after the present issue, $20,000,000 of Series "A" 5% Bonds and $26,000,000 of Series "B" 5% Bonds. $69,753,000 bonds are reserved to retire a like amount of prior lien bonds and the remainder is to be issued under the restrictions stated in the mortgage for the payment, refunding or retirement of General Mortgage Bonds outstanding, for additions, betterments and improvements, for equipment to the extent of ninety per cent of the cost thereof, and for the acquisition of other companies' securities.

Both principal and interest of the bonds will be payable in gold coin of the United States of America without deduction for any tax or taxes (other than Federal income taxes) which the Railroad Company or its successors or assigns or the Trustee may be required to pay or retain therefrom under any present or future law of the United States of America or of the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Illinois.

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE ABOVE BONDS, SUBJECT TO ALLOTMENT, AT 99% AND ACCRUED INTEREST TO DATE OF DELIVERY, TO YIELD ABOUT 5.06% TO MATURITY.

The undersigned reserve the right to close the subscription at any time without notice, to reject any application, to allot a smaller amount than applied for and to make allotments in their uncontrolled discretion.

The above bonds are offered if, when and as issued and received by the undersigned and subject to the approval of any public authorities that may be necessary to the issuance and guaranty of the bonds and their sale to the undersigned, and to the approval by their counsel of all legal proceedings in connection with the issuance thereof. Temporary bonds or interim receipts will be delivered against payment in New York funds for bonds allotted, which temporary bonds or interim receipts will be exchangeable for definitive bonds when prepared.

Application will be made in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

The down turn in hog values was checked yesterday and best again reached the $14 mark, being 15c above high point of previous session and 30c higher than a week ago. More than a dozen loads averaging 218@330 lbs sold at $14.00. It was last Friday that full carload lots sold at the year's top of $14.30. Speculators were among the best buyers and they carried over quite a number. Small packers and shippers were fairly good buyers, while the Armour and Swift houses stayed out of the trade, refusing to follow the early advance. Receipts at 28,000 were short of expectations. General quality graded fair, with day's average $13.70, against $13.40 the previous Thursday and $7.35 a year ago.

An increase in cattle receipts checked advances in beef steers yesterday, although an improvement in quality lifted the range of prices to the highest level of the week. Choice 1,068 lb yearlings topped at $12.35, with best heavy averaging 1,485 lbs, at $11.90, the next highest price of the day, which stands 40c above the highest price paid last week for that weight. Cattle receipts at 11,000 were largest since January for Thursday, comparing with actual arrivals of 8,862 a week previous. Butcher stock held firm, with strength and a shade advance apparent in some transactions. Canners and cutters were steady. Bulls sold slowly at little price changes. Stockers and feeders strong. Calves ruled strong to 50c higher.

Heavy Lambs Slump.

All but choice light and handy weight killing lambs broke 25@50c during yesterday's onslaught of prices under pressure of burdensome supplies of Colorado and Nebraska fed lambs. A few 75@88 lb lambs topped at $17.50. Bulk changed hands at the full reduction, selling largely under $17.00, with good 100 pounders at $15.00@15.50. Several large bands of "collies" totaling over fifteen loads brought $16.50. Yearlings shared in the decline, good 97 lb averages bringing $13.50. Aged stock held steady; freshly shorn ewes at $9.25. Feeding and shearing lambs slumped 15@25c, fair to good kinds selling at $16.75@17.25.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 4,000 cattle, 24,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep, against 3,941 cattle, 42,495 hogs, and 7,618 sheep the corresponding Friday a year ago.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1925: Fairchild News Service.]

BOSTON, Mass.—This was another listless day in the raw wool market, with dealers sitting around reading cables from London and wondering if the fact that prices did not go any lower there could be interpreted in a way that would strengthen the tone here. Buyers were extremely scarce, and those on hand were insisting that current quotations were entirely too high. They refused to be interested in fine staple at $1.55 a pound, regarding $1.50 as the top price. Some small sales were made at this latter figure, but dealers generally held for the higher quotation. However, the impression prevailed that they would offer concessions if they saw prospects of any real business.

CO-OPERATIVE ECONOMY
Is Common Sense

If you have a few dollars saved to invest in a home you should buy an apartment on the Co-operative Plan. Bankers, big business men, and students of finance economy are so investing. [Ex-Secretary Hughes, for example.]

We offer you a beautifully decorated mansion 6 room apartment, either 1st, 2d, or 3d floor, with 2 tile baths; separate shower and breakfast room; a sleeping porch, glassed or screened; rooms built to hold human beings, not dolls; with plenty of air and sunshine; at a cost of less than 50% normal rent.

$160 APTS. FOR $80.

In other words, after paying purchase price you can get one of these beautiful apartments, renting value $160 per month, for $80. This includes interest, upkeep, and all maintenance costs. Your purchase price will always be worth face value in cash, or would bring 20% on your investment if rented.

$90 PER MONTH AND UP FOR SPACE IN TRIBUNE TOWER

It makes no difference where you select space on any of the floors (from 13 to 23 are available) you will have the same benefits of light, beauty, and convenience on any side of this magnificent structure.

Remember, Tribune Tower was built up to an ideal and not down to a price, and the best achitectural and engineering brains available were brought to this work.
